Offer to Evacuate Asia Minor Sent to Angora Through Allied Commissioners.

Greek Cabinet Resigns As Result of Army's Defeat

ATHENS, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—The Greek Government resigned today. King Constantine has asked Nikolas Kalogeropoulos to form a new Ministry.

The resignation of the Cabinet as a result of the defeats suffered by the army in Asia Minor has been predicted for several days.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—A telegram received this evening from Constantinople announces that at 13 o'clock this morning the Greek Government made, through the Allied High Commissioners, a request to the Angora representative in that city for an armistice, the Greeks to evacuate all Asia Minor.

If the request is granted it is expected that representatives of the two Governments will meet in the neutral zone at Yarindaja to draw up the terms of the armistice.

Here it is not, however, considered likely that the Turks will grant an armistice, at least until the present offensive has either reached its complete goal or has been checked, as there is still a possibility it might be, on the outskirts of Smyrna.

Latest telegrams state that the Turks are now within forty kilometers (twenty-five miles) of Smyrna and that the whole Southern Greek army has been surrounded in the Salihli district and has surrendered.

Greek losses since the offensive began are estimated at 50,000, among whom 15,000 are prisoners.

PARIS, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—A column of 4,000 Kemalist cavalrymen occupied Baender (Baindyr?), thirty miles from Smyrna, and are advancing on Smyrna, says a Havas dispatch from Adana dated Thursday.

The dispatch adds that another 5,000 men, after taking Akhisaar, sixty miles northeast of Smyrna, are speeding toward Manissa.

Continuing, the dispatch says that Noury Bey, a captain of cavalry, has won a prize of 500 Turkish pounds and a flag offered by Mustapha Kemal Pasha to the commander of the first column to reach the Aegean Sea.

Another Havas dispatch from Adana says that Kemalist booty up to Sept. 2 included 700 guns, 950 auto trucks, 11 airplanes, 2,000 machine guns and an immense quantity of small arms, munitions and stores.

Mustapha Kemal personally decorated fifteen women soldiers who fought with distinction at the Battle of Afiun Karahissar.

France's reply to the British proposition regarding an armistice between the Greeks and the Turkish Nationalists expresses the concurrence of France with the British view in favor of ending the struggle, it was learned today.

The reply says France considers a direct approach to the Angora Government seems impossible, but that France is ready to bring in any means to bring about direct negotiations between the commanders and the belligerents as a preliminary move.

Turks Advancing With Caution.

SMYRNA, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—The towns of Odemish and Thyra, sixty and forty miles respectively, southeast of Smyrna, have been reported burned. The towns of Magnesia and Cassaba, twenty-five miles east of Smyrna, also are reported in flames.

The Turkish advance is slow and cautious. Mustapha Kemal issued an order today to his troops announcing any molestations to Christians will be punished by death.

The situation in Smyrna at this hour is growing more critical. The British are removing some of their nationals in merchantmen, posting destroyers to cover their embarkation.

The French and Italians have landed marines and have called on their male nationals to serve as a volunteer corps.

Greek troops from Thrace, with Venezelist officers, have arrived and are organizing resistance.

Admiral Sir Osmond Brock, the British commander of the Mediterranean Fleet, is taking all measures possible for the safeguarding of Smyrna. British marines have been landed and are guarding the gas works and the banks. The population itself is organizing the defense of the town. Greek warships have arrived in port.

This city will soon be the only remaining outlet for the stream of refugees fleeing before the approach of the enemy, as the Greeks are evacuating the districts of Balramich, Ez-ine, Aivadjik and Bighe, on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, and the transfer of civilians to the European side of the Strait is progressing.

ANGORA, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Turkish cavalry has entered Bergama, lying some fifty miles north of Smyrna.

Greek Commander Captured.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—A telegram from Angora reiterates the assertion that General Tricoupis, the new Commander-in-Chief of the Greek Army in Asia Minor, and several other Greek Generals were made

Government Will Sue To Recover German Patents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—A suit in equity against the Chemical Foundation to recover German patents sold by the Government during the war probably will be filed in Wilmington, Del., Saturday, Attorney General Daugherty said today.

If the patents are recovered, he added, their disposition will be left to Congress.

SEARCH FIVE CITIES FOR MISS SHUSTER

Police in Three States Asked to Find Daughter of W. Morgan Shuster.

Marriage License Clerks Warned of Couple Who Left Kentucky Town in Automobile.

Special to The New York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 7.—The police of Louisville, Nashville, Bowling Green, Ky.; Jeffersonville, Ind., and New Albany, Ind., have been asked by relatives to find Miss Carolyn Shuster, 17 years old, daughter of W. Morgan Shuster, President of the Century Company of New York, who left Glasgow, Ky., in an automobile on Wednesday night. Miss Shuster, with her mother, was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Trigg, in Glasgow. A telegram from that place said William Redding Morris, 18, son of a merchant there, left with Miss Shuster and several companions and had not returned.

A reward of $100 for the apprehension of the girl unmarried has been offered by her father and her uncle, R. C. Ballard Trigg, an insurance man here, who said the reward would be raised if necessary.

Marriage license clerks in the various cities have been notified to refuse a license to any couple of which Miss Shuster is one.

The last report received by the Louisville police is that the couple were seen last on the road to Nashville.

Miss Shuster was to have returned today with her mother to Orange, N. J., where she was to resume her studies at a school for girls. Miss Shuster's mother is a Glasgow woman. Mr. Shuster was for two years Treasurer General of Persia, where he straightened out the tangled financial affairs of that country. He was recommended by former President Taft for the post.

At the office of Century Company, 353 Fourth Avenue, of which W. Morgan Shuster is President, it was said that he had been out of New York for some time and that no communication had been received from him during the day.

Carolyn Shuster is Mr. Shuster's oldest daughter and has been with her father during many of his interesting experiences as Collector of the Customs at Manila and as Treasurer-General of Persia.

FIRE RAGES UNCHECKED IN THE ARGONAUT MINE

Poisonous Gas Pours From Shaft —Efforts to Rescue 47 Trapped Men Continue.

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 7.—Five thousand cubic feet of "intensely poisonous gas" is pouring out of the Muldoon shaft of the Argonaut mine every minute and the smoldering flames are burning unchecked, according to an official statement issued here today by Dr. L. H. Buschak, consulting chemical engineer of the State Industrial Accident Commission.

Dr. Buschak said any one exposed to these poison gases, consisting of carbon dioxide and carbon monoxide, could not live longer than a few minutes. The gas analysis, he stated, showed that the rate of burning of the fire has remained approximately constant since the bulkhead was closed in the Argonaut shaft after the explosion which entombed the forty-seven miners whose rescue is being attempted.

Better progress during the night by two rescue crews burrowing their way toward the lower depths of the Argonaut mine, where the forty-seven men have been entombed since Aug. 27, made the end of the long quest seem less distant today than it did yesterday.

Fully 25 feet of passage was cleared in the 3,600-foot level and over the muck which closed this abandoned drift the workers were able to see a distance of 25 feet more, indicating that the way is becoming more open, while the timbers were found to be in good condition and the ground less swollen with water.

There remain 277 feet of drift to be cleared before an upward cut of seventy-five feet through solid ground into the Argonaut mine itself can be attempted. It is this cut upon which hope of freeing the miners is based.

E. A. Stent, Vice President of the Argonaut Mining Company, believes that the forty-seven entombed miners have perished, he declared tonight in the first official statement he has issued since the men were trapped by fire a week ago Sunday night.

'FLYING PARSON' DIES, 3 OTHER AIR MEN KILLED DURING FAIR

CROWD OF 30,000 SEES FALL

Maynard Was Test Pilot in France and the Winner of Transcontinental Derby.

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 7.—For a crowd of 30,000 people assembled at the Rutland Fair Grounds this afternoon a "flying circus," staged with airplanes and balloons, was turned into a tragedy, four participants meeting death. An airplane crashed from a height of 2,000 feet, carrying to their death the pilot, mechanic and a passenger. A few hours later an aeronaut, leaping from a balloon 1,500 feet in the air, was killed when his parachute failed to open.

The dead are Lieutenant Belvin W. Maynard, known throughout the country as "the flying parson," pilot of the airplane; Lieutenant L. H. Wood of Ticonderoga, N. Y., passenger with Maynard; Charles Mionette of Plattsburg, N. Y., mechanic, and Henry A. (Daredevil) Smith of Boston, an aeronaut.

Lieutenant Maynard and his companions, who had been making daily flights at the Fair Grounds, fell to earth about 1 o'clock in a field near the grounds. Hardly had the crowd recovered from the shock of this when the second accident came.

Smith, a professional aeronaut, had already made two successful parachute leaps at various altitudes during the afternoon. At his third attempt the parachute was seen to open slightly, then close. Then the aeronaut dropped like a plummet, falling just outside the fence of the grounds.

Smith, who was 43 years of age, had been giving parachute exhibitions at fairs throughout the East for the last ten years. Two years ago, while attempting a parachute drop from an airplane at Lynn, Mass., he fell 800 feet and was severely injured. The pilot of the plane was killed. The aeronaut claimed that his average was thirty parachute drops a year.

Lieutenant Wood and Mionette, who, with Lieutenant Maynard, comprised the personnel of a "flying circus" that had entertained large crowds daily for a week with stunt flying, went up today as passengers with Maynard. Both were instantly killed, while Maynard was breathing when spectators rushed to the wreck. He died on the way to a hospital.

The three aviators, using Maynard's machine, took off the field about 1 o'clock for an exhibition flight. They had performed several of the stunts on their program when at an altitude of 2,000 feet Lieutenant Maynard tried a tail spin, apparently believing that he was at greater altitude. The plane refused to respond and fell into a nose dive, landing in a cornfield at the edge of the fair grounds, a mass of wreckage.

Governor Hartness and his staff were among the crowd, which was the largest in the history of the fair.

The body of Lieutenant Maynard was sent late tonight to his home at Maynard, N. C. The local post of the American Legion took charge of the arrangements and escorted the coffin to the train.

"The Flying Parson" was scheduled to speak this evening in the Rutland Baptist Church, and the church bell was tolled in honor of the man who was to have related some of his experiences above the battle lines in France.

According to another aviator, Mr. Parsons, who saw the accident, it was due to the engine of the plane "going dead" just after Lieutenant Maynard started to descend from an altitude of 10,000 feet, which he reached at the start of his flight when he circled the peak of Mount Killington.

The death of Belvin W. Maynard, popularly known as "The Flying Parson," removes from the aeronautical world an international figure. Winner of the New York to Toronto and return aerial Derby and the New York to San Francisco race, post-war competitions, he became known throughout the world as one of the leading aviators. During the war Lieutenant Maynard was one of the chief test pilots stationed in France, where he tried out hundreds of airplanes sent over for the American forces.

Maynard was a unique personality in aeronautics by reason of his pre-war

Mrs. Harding Ill, but Not Seriously; Not a Breakdown, and She Will Be Out Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Mrs. Harding, wife of the President, is ill and under the care of Dr. Sawyer, the family physician. She has been confined to the White House for several days. Her illness is described as an ailment neither alarming nor serious, and she is expected to be up and about soon.

Mrs. Harding's illness is said to be one to which she has been subject and is not regarded as giving any cause for alarm. No official statement has been issued, and until today the illness of the President's wife was known only to a very few close friends.

Ordinarily Mrs. Harding has been in good health ever since the President entered the White House, more than a year ago. She has been very active, accompanying her husband to practically all official functions and invariably when he has appeared before Congress.

She has been prominent in local social and philanthropic work and has been a frequent visitor to World War veterans in the various hospitals in this vicinity.

The illness is nothing in the nature of a break-down, but is rather due to a slight organic trouble.

It was said at the White House that it is due to the effects of a cold complicated with a recurrence of a hydronephrosis to which she has been at times subject since a surgical operation in 1913. Her illness, it was added, had been more distressing than usual during the past two days, but she was slightly improved tonight.

COAL CONTROL BILL PASSES IN SENATE

HOOVER GETS SURVEY BOARD

Philadelphia Conference Acts on Distribution—Prices Up to States.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Senate, with a bare majority in attendance, today by a vote of 40 to 7 passed the Coal Distribution and Price Control bill urged by the Administration to prevent profiteering in coal. It was slightly amended, so differences between the House and Senate bills must be harmonized in conference.

An amendment, offered by Senator Dial, was adopted, providing that the laws and regulations regarding the assignment of cars shall not be effective on coal contracts entered into prior to July 25, 1922, where the price is not more than $2 a ton f. o. b. at the mines.

Senator Borah offered several amendments to his bill on a fact-finding commission to bring it within the terms of the agreements reached between the anthracite operators and miners. These were adopted. One provided that the commission should make a separate report on the hard coal industry and conditions surrounding it. The other required that this report should be presented to Congress before July 1, 1923.

Senator Stanley of Kentucky occupied the floor for more than an hour. He denounced this section as flavoring of State socialism, and predicted dire results to the country if the commission should submit a recommendation dealing with a nationalization of the mines. He became so severe in his language that Senator Borah took exception, asserting that his utterances were irrelevant to the section. Then Mr. Stanley called Senator Borah a Socialist. The latter laughed and Mr. Stanley spoke some more.

"The only way to reach coal profiteering is through the Sherman Anti-Trust act," shouted Senator Stanley. "This bill will do nothing."

"That act is useless," replied Senator Borah. "It has exempted labor and the farmers. It has exempted from its provisions every class that had a vote. It is now effective only against monopolies and because it applies to only one class is of little merit. I do not believe that it has much moral force. Unless we repeal the exemptions it is a dead letter."

Names Hard Coal Survey Board.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—In the matter of anthracite coal distribution and prices for the same "the householder must and will be protected," declared Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, tonight at the conclusion of a hard coal conference of national significance.

The question of price is yet to be decided, but Samuel D. Warriner, President of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, and others who attended the meeting, said there was no disposition among the "big operators" to seek "unfair" profits.

The principal accomplishment of the meeting, according to W. D. B. Ainey, Chairman of the Pennsylvania Fuel Commission, who was called in at the request of Secretary Hoover, was the appointment of a committee that will take immediate steps to survey the anthracite situation from the standpoint of distribution. Mr. Warriner, who heads this committee, said that work on such a survey would begin immediately and that a report would be made at an early date.

Mr. Warriner emphasized that his committee would have nothing to do with the question of price fixing. That, he said, is the work of fuel administrators and fuel commissions.

The committee appointed today, known as the Anthracite Advisory Committee, is composed of the following: W. L. Connell, W. J. Richards, Alan C. Dodson, W. H. Williamson, E. W. Parker, John F. Berminghame and W. D. B. Ainey. Another member of this committee, to represent the Government, will be appointed by Mr. Hoover.

At the earliest possible date, said Mr. Hoover before departing for Washington, an invitation will be extended to all Pennsylvania operators to meet with the Advisory Committee for the purpose of perfecting distribution plans and deciding prices.

Aside from admitting that the question of prices came in for "considerable discussion," those who attended the conference refused consistently to give definite opinions or venture predictions on what the consumer would pay for the various grades of hard coal.

When Mr. Hoover was asked by newspaper men if he was aware that certain retailers now are getting a profit of more than a dollar above that which Mr. Garfield established as a fair profit during the war, he replied that there are some cases "worse than that." Whatever is done, the Secretary of Com-

BROADWAY CROWDS SEE THRILLING RAID IN LONGACRE HOTEL

Sixty Federal Agents and City Detectives Take Possession of Building.

ARREST 8, SEIZE DRUGS

Acting Manager of Hotel and Alleged Head of Narcotic Ring Prisoners.

ALL GUESTS HELD IN TRAP

Actress Among Those Compelled to Identify Themselves to Obtain Their Release.

Broadway crowds last night witnessed one of the most spectacular raids ever staged in New York, when sixty Federal agents under Ralph Oyler, chief of the Federal Narcotic Division, and detectives of Inspector Bolan's staff descended on the Hotel Longacre at 157 West Forty-seventh Street, at 6:30 o'clock, searched the building from cellar to roof, arrested eight persons and confiscated a large quantity of drugs and whisky.

For more than three hours the agents and detectives were in possession of the hotel. Persons were freely permitted to enter, but no one inside the building was allowed to leave until he had satisfied the authorities as to who he was and his business. Assistant United States District Attorneys Abraham Mennen and Moses Polokof accompanied the raiders, who were armed with a search warrant signed by United States Commissioner Hitchcock.

The commotion attendant upon the raid attracted thousands of men and women who were in the Broadway district for dinner and the theatre. The crowds were increased by those leaving the playhouses during intermission. Mounted men kept the throng moving, however, aiding the detectives, who had established a deadline about the raided premises just off Broadway.

Acting Manager Arrested.

Among those arrested were the acting manager and several employes of the hotel. Another of the prisoners, a guest at the hotel, who was taken after a hard battle with two of the agents, was Charles Rogers, accused by the police of being the leader of one of the largest drug rings that ever operated in this country.

The raid was the culmination of several months' work by the Federal agents. Time and again, it was said, efforts had been made to get evidence as to a traffic in drugs which Oyler and his men believed was going on at the Longacre. All of these failed, and finally an appeal was made to Washington. Agents Colman Manning and James W. Moog were sent here from cities in the Far West, while a woman agent came from Seattle, Wash. The three registered at the hotel about two months ago. A few days ago they reported to the Federal Building and the raid was set for last night.

The dinner hour was hardly under way when the agents and detectives entered the hotel. Acting under a prearranged plan, two men were stationed at every exit. Others, paying no heed to the frightened persons in the lobby, ran up the stairs. Several agents took charge of the elevators, forbidding the operators to move the cars. Two agents went at once to the desk, where they arrested Edwin C. Travis, the clerk. Another agent went to the telephone switchboard.

"Don't let me bother you," he said to the girl there, "but I'll need you and these telephones for a while. I'll answer all calls myself."

In the lobby, the wildest excitement prevailed. Men and women who were just preparing to go out for dinner found their way blocked by men with shields pinned to coat pocket or lapel.

"Just stay where you are," they were told gruffly. "We are going to have a talk with every one in this place."

Upstairs could be heard the shouts of the agents to guests behind locked doors.

Threatened to Break Doors.

"Open these rooms, in the name of the law, or we'll break our way in."

And where permission to enter was refused the raiders made good their threats.

Agents Moog and James Burke came to a door on an upper floor of the building which was not opened at once. A man's voice inside asked them what they wanted.

They repeated their demand and emphasized it by kicking on a panel. The door suddenly swung open, according to the agents, and they were faced by a

UNION STARTS COUNTER-INJUNCTION SUIT; DAUGHERTY WILL MODIFY HIS COMPLAINT; PROSPECT OF PARTIAL RAIL PEACE GROWS

Limit on Free Speech and Tying Up Union Funds To Be Dropped from Daugherty Injunction Plea

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Government will ask leave to modify its injunction petition against the striking railroad unions in the Federal Court at Chicago next Monday in order to bring the clauses within the clearly accepted constitutional limitations. This may cause the labor "injunction against the injunction" to fall of its own weight.

The Government's pleadings, it is said, will be modified in two important particulars to make them conform to Article 1. of the Constitution, guaranteeing free speech, and to Section 20 of the Clayton act. In all other respects the Government's position will remain the same. The pleadings which will be eliminated are those to prevent the unions and strikers from using the funds of the unions in furtherance of any act forbidden in the injunction and "in any manner by letters, circulars, telegrams, telephone messages, by word of mouth or interviews in newspapers encouraging any person to leave the employ of a railroad or to refrain from such employ."

Following a conference which Attorney General Daugherty sought with Senator Borah today it became known that the Government would ask leave to modify its pleadings.

"I told Attorney General Daugherty," said Senator Borah, "just what I thought of the injunction order. In my opinion several of its clauses and powers are against the provisions of the Constitution. I especially called attention to the clauses tying up the funds of unions and those abridging the rights of interviews and free speech."

Attorney General Daugherty today appeared to regard opposition to the injunction as justification for its existence.

"It is a pretty good indication that the Government is on the right track," he said, "when pronounced advocates of both sides are displeased."

RAIL STRIKE MOVING FOR PARTIAL PEACE

Jewell Expected in Chicago Today to Begin Conferences With Aids.

WILLARD NOW IN CHICAGO

U. S. O. Head to Sound Western Roads on Separate Settlements —Executives Here Dubious.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—New evidence that the strike of railway shopmen is moving toward separate settlements on individual roads was the outstanding development of the situation here today.

When B. M. Jewell, head of the striking shop crafts, goes before the organization's Policy Committee of Ninety, which he has called to meet in Chicago on Monday, he will seek authority to consummate separate agreements, it was confidently predicted in railway circles here tonight.

While certain railway executives today continued to repudiate all reports of new efforts to end the strike on some roads, and reiterated assertions that the strikers are licked, it became known that at least a few carriers have all but completed peace negotiations with President Jewell.

Since the policy adopted when the walkout started on July 1 was for settlement only through one national agreement, Mr. Jewell can depart from this only with consent of the Committee of Ninety.

Daniel Willard, President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway, arrived in Chicago today to sound Western rail executives on a proposal for partial settlement of the strike on a compromise basis said to have been outlined at secret conferences in Baltimore.

This proposal, it was reported from authoritative sources, already has been tentatively accepted by the New York Central and the Chicago & Northwestern Railways. There is reason to believe that at least a few other roads will enter a similar agreement.

Mr. Willard, who early in the strike advanced the individual agreement proposal and has fostered it since, called on five railroad Presidents during the afternoon. No statement as to the result of these conferences was forthcoming. He remained over night in Chicago, presumably to confer with Samuel M. Felton, President of the Chicago & Great Western Railway and Chairman of the Western Presidents' Committee on Public Relations. Mr. Felton, who has been in New York, is expected to return tomorrow.

Those before whom Mr. Willard is known to have laid the Baltimore plan were W. H. Finley, President of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway; Hale Holden, President of the Burlington; James E. Gorman, President of the

FEDERATION VETOES ANY GENERAL STRIKE

Even Cessation of Work for a Day to Aid Rail Men Meets No Favor.

TO PUSH 3 AMENDMENTS

Union Chiefs Would Bar Child Labor and Safeguard Strikes and Boycotts.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—The idea of recommending that the organized workers of the country go on a general strike, even for twenty-four hours, in protest against the rail strike injunction obtained by Attorney General Daugherty practically has been abandoned by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor. This became known here today following a meeting of labor leaders preliminary to the opening of the council's session here next Saturday morning in the Hotel Ambassador. The general strike plan, it was made clear, was not considered feasible at this time, but it was planned to carry the fight before Congress and bring the matter to the attention of the public by staging nation-wide demonstrations of protest throughout the country.

Matthew Woll, Vice President of the Federation, said today that the council undoubtedly would take the fight to Congress by seeking legislation prohibiting the issuance of such injunctions as the now famous Daugherty writ.

"I believe that the battle in Congress is not far off," said Mr. Woll. "We are not going to make it a fight in behalf of the shopmen alone, but in behalf of the entire American people. If it is defeated in Congress we will know just where the representatives of the people there stand."

Mr. Woll and other labor leaders declared that the Administration's attitude toward the shopmen's strike and in obtaining injunctions would lend force to the non-partisan labor campaign this Fall. Plans for active nation-wide campaigning to elect labor's friends will be considered by the council, it was stated.

Jewell May Attend.

B. M. Jewell, national head of the striking shopmen, or some of the other shop craft union heads, it was announced, are expected here next week to appear before the council to explain the strike situation. It is expected leaders said, that the council will make provision for raising a huge fund for the striking shopmen by issuing a new appeal to organized labor throughout the country.

Union leaders said it also was possible that several million dollars might be raised by levying an assessment of 1 per cent. per capita on the union membership of the Federation, as was done in 1919, when aid in this form was contributed to the striking steel workers.

Besides proposing legislation to prohibit the use in industrial disputes of injunctions, it was learned that the Executive Council would start a nation-wide campaign to enact three constitutional amendments designed to deprive the courts of their "despotic powers." The amendments desired by labor provide as follows:

An amendment prohibiting the labor of children under the age of 16 years in any mine, mill, factory, workshop or other industrial or mercantile establishment, and conferring upon Congress the power to raise the minimum age below which children shall not be permitted to work.

An amendment prohibiting the enactment of any law or the making of any judicial determination which would deny the right of the workers of the United States and its territories and dependencies to organize for the betterment of their conditions to deal collectively with employers and to withhold

Northcliffe Will Dispute Is Settled; Walter Family May Take Back London Times

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Spectator announces that it understands a settlement has been reached in regard to the Northcliffe estate which will afford general satisfaction.

"We believe," say The Spectator, "that Lord Northcliffe left directions that an option to purchase his holding should be offered to John Walter, head of the Walter family, original owners of The London Times. It seems a foregone conclusion that Mr. Walter will exercise his option, and will become again proprietor of The London Times. We are sure the public will be relieved to know this historic newspaper will return to its traditional owners rather than be thrown on the open market, as might have been necessary with the possibility of its being acquired by undesirable holders."

The Daily Telegraph says there seems to be no doubt about the validity of the latest will under which Lady Northcliffe was made sole executrix, but all annuities and legacies in the first will are to be paid free of death duties. Lady Northcliffe will cease to have any connection with the management or control of the newspaper properties included in the estate, and it may be assumed, says The Daily Telegraph, that Viscount Rothermere will acquire his late brother's interest in Associated Newspapers, Limited. The Paper adds that it is believed the Northcliffe estate will be sworn at about five millions sterling (about $27,500,000).

LABOR APPEALS TO COURT

ATTACK THE CHICAGO ORDER

STRIKE ORDERS ARE SHOWN

Offered as Evidence That the Union Had Counseled Against Illegal Acts.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Department of Justice's strike injunction policy was copied by organized labor today when representatives of the striking railway shopmen petitioned the District of Columbia Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the local authorities from carrying out the provisions of the Chicago temporary restraining order obtained by Attorney General Daugherty last Friday.

The plaintiff in the counter-injunction proceedings were James P. Noonan, President, and Charles E. Ford, Secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, one of the striking shopcraft organizations. They served notice that on Saturday they would ask Justice Bailey to issue a temporary injunction forbidding District Attorney Peyton Gordon and Edgar C. Snyder, United States Marshal for the District of Columbia, from interference with their lawful acts in the conduct of the railroad strike.

In their petition Noonan and Ford stated that, although they had not been served with copies of the Chicago injunction, they had reason to believe that the order abridged their legal rights. As evidence that their conduct of the strike had been kept within legal bounds, they submitted a copy of their strike instructions counseling against illegal acts.

May Now Deny Jurisdiction.

A legal tangle has thus arisen as a result of railroad labor's move for an "injunction against an injunction." Although Messrs. Noonan and Ford had not been reached by Federal process servers at the time they filed their petition, they were served later in the day, according to Marshal Snyder. It now appears probable that, having instituted legal proceedings of their own, those labor leaders who have been served outside the district of the Chicago Federal Court will deny its jurisdiction and fail to put in appearance next Monday when Judge Wilkerson will conduct a hearing upon the Government's motion for a permanent injunction.

Noonan and Ford specifically asked that District Attorney Gordon and Marshal Snyder be restrained from "doing or causing to be done any act or thing toward enforcing in the District of Columbia said purported injunction order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois." They stated in their petition that, while they had not been served with copies of the Chicago injunction, they based their knowledge of its provisions upon a summary in THE NEW YORK TIMES of Sept. 2, a copy of which was submitted as an exhibit. The labor leaders were represented in court by James S. Easby-Smith and David A. Pine, attorneys.

Strike Instructions Submitted.

Another exhibit attached to the complaint was a copy of strike instructions issued in the middle of July, submitted to support the contention that no illegal acts had been authorized. These instructions asserted that picketing could not be restrained and warned the strikers that "trickery" injunctions might be granted which on their face forbade peaceful picketing.

This document reads:

"Instructions issued on or about July 15, 1922, by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to all its members involved in the strike of railroad shopmen:

"1. Every effort should be made to prevent disorderly acts, which are used as the basis for obtaining injunctions.

"2. Neither the funds nor energies of the organizations should be spent in lawsuits.

"'Peaceful striking and peaceful picketing cannot be legally enjoined, neither in State courts nor in Federal courts.'

"The act of Congress known as the Clayton act expressly provides as follows:

"And no such restraining order or injunction shall prohibit any person or persons, whether singly or in concert, from terminating any relation of employment, or from ceasing to perform work or labor, or from recommending, advising or persuading others by peaceful means so to do; or from attending at any place where any such person or persons may lawfully be, for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, or from peacefully persuading any person to work or to abstain from working; or from ceasing to patronize or to employ any party to such dispute, or from recommending, advising or persuading others by peaceful and lawful means so to do, or from paying or giving to, or withholding from, any person engaged in such dispute, any strike benefits or other moneys of wages or value; or from peaceably assembling in a lawful manner, and for lawful purposes; or from doing any act or thing which might lawfully be done in the absence of such dispute by any party thereto; nor shall any of the acts specified in this paragraph be considered or held to be violations of any law of the United States.

"Tricky blanket injunctions are being obtained by the courts, using such language as the following:

It is ordered that you be restrained from engaging in the practice commonly known as picketing, that is to say, from assembling numbers of men in sympathy with the said strike and accosting employes, and by threats or personal injury or intimidation, or force, or violence, attempting to persuade said employes from entering upon or continuing work.

"You will note that, although such an injunction on first reading seems to prohibit picketing, in fact it only prohibits picketing which involves the use of violent, unlawful methods. The organized railway employes have the right everywhere to do those acts specified in the law passed by Congress heretofore quoted. They should avoid being drawn into court proceedings intended to waste the money and time of their representatives. They should preserve discipline and orderly conduct, and act vigorously to suppress disorder, either by their fellow-workers of or railroad agents seeking to create riotous conditions. They should insist firmly upon the rights of peaceful striking and peaceful picketing, established in the decisions of the courts and statutes of the States and of the United States."

Unlawful Aims Rejected.

The bill of complaint filed with the court gives an account of the history of the organization and its part in the railway strike and continues:

"8. Plaintiffs aver that neither before nor since the said 1st day of July, 1922, has the said association [Electrical Workers' Brotherhood] nor the plaintiffs, Noonan and Ford, individually or in their respective official capacities as aforesaid, nor, to the best of plaintiffs' knowledge and belief, have any other of the members of said association, including the members of said local unions in the District of Columbia, committed any unlawful acts incident to said strike or the prosecution thereof; but plaintiffs aver that on the contrary the plaintiff association and the plaintiffs, Noonan and Ford, and their associate members of said association have issued instructions and have taken every other means in their power to prevent the commission, by any member of the association, or by any other person, of any acts of violence to person or property and of any and all other unlawful acts, and have never countenanced or connived at the commission of any unlawful acts; and if any unlawful acts have been committed by any member or members of said association the plaintiffs aver that they have no knowledge of the commission of any such acts, and that if any unlawful acts have been committed by any members of the association, the same were committed contrary to the governing laws of said association and contrary to the instructions both oral and written issued by the association and by the plaintiffs, Noonan and Ford, and are and were contrary to the policy and without the authority, approval or ratification of any of the plaintiffs.

"Plaintiffs attach hereto marked Exhibit No. 1, and pray to be read as a part of this bill as if fully set out herein, a copy of instructions issued by the association and by the plaintiffs, Noonan and Ford, to all members of said association involved in said strike, on or about July 15, 1922, which instructions are and have been since July 15, 1922, in full force and effect; from which instructions it will be observed that the association and its officers have instructed and urged all the members of said association to prevent disorderly acts, to preserve discipline and orderly conduct and to act vigorously to suppress disorder either by their fellow-workers or by others.

Holds Court Exceeded Powers.

"9. Plaintiffs are credibly informed and believe and on such information and belief aver that on, to wit, the first day of September, 1922, the Attorney General of the United States began a suit in equity in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois by filing a bill of complaint in equity praying for an injunction against certain associations and individuals, including the plaintiff association and the plaintiff Noonan, and that upon the filing of said bill in equity the said United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois immediately, and without notice to any of the defendants, issued a certain order purporting to be an injunction in accordance with the prayers of said bill in equity.

"Plaintiffs further aver that if the said injunction order as aforesaid published in THE NEW YORK TIMES and attached hereto as Exhibit 2, was issued by the said United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois said injunction order was issued without warrant or authority of law or equity, and that it was not within the power of said United States District Court to issue said injunction order; and that said injunction order is without any force or effect within the District of Columbia and is not binding upon any of the plaintiffs herein.

"10. Plaintiffs are credibly informed and believe and upon such information and belief aver that subsequent to the issuing of said purported injunction as set out in the preceding paragraph numbered 9 of this bill, on, to wit, September 4, 1922, the said defendant Peyton Gordon as United States Attorney and the said defendant Edgar C. Snyder as United States Marshal threatened to enforce in the District of Columbia the said purported injunction so as aforesaid issued by the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and further threatened to enforce the same regardless of whether or not the same as a copy thereof should be served or attempted to be served upon the plaintiffs herein or upon any other persons in the District of Columbia, and the said defendant Snyder threatened to prevent the members of the said association in the District of Columbia and the members of the said association's local unions of Washington, D.C., from holding the peaceable and lawful meetings and assemblages which they have as aforesaid been holding, and the said defendant Snyder further threatened that he would prevent, so far as possible, meetings of members of the association who were on strike.

"Plaintiffs further aver on information and belief that the said defendants intended and attempted by means of said threats to intimidate the plaintiffs and other members of the said association in the District of Columbia and to deter and prevent them from lawfully and peacefully holding their meetings and from doing other acts lawfully to be done by said association and its members and its officers; and that it is the intention of the said defendants to carry into effect their said threats and to attempt to prevent the holding of lawful meetings and assemblages of members of said association and the performing of other lawful acts by said association and by said officers and members. * * *

"11. Plaintiffs further aver that if the said defendants should be permitted to continue publicly to make the threats aforesaid, or if the said defendants should be permitted to carry into effect or to attempt to carry into effect their said threats or to prevent or hinder plaintiffs or the said members of said association from doing said lawful acts and things which the plaintiffs and the members of said association have a lawful right to do under the Constitution and laws of the United States * * * or to enforce or to attempt to enforce said purported injunction irreparable injury would be done to the plaintiffs and to the members of the said association by preventing the said association and the plaintiffs, Noonan and Ford, and the other members of said association from effectually pursuing and carrying on the lawful functions, duties and business of said association, which in order to be effectually performed must be performed daily and without interruption.

"12. Plaintiffs further aver that they have no plain, adequate and complete remedy at law.

"Wherefore, the premises considered, plaintiffs pray:

"1. That process may issue against the defendants named herein commanding them and each of them to appear herein on a certain day to answer the exigencies of this bill and that said process issued against the defendant Snyder be served and returned by the coroner of the District of Columbia.

"2. That the defendants herein and each of them as individuals and in their respective official capacities as set forth herein may be enjoined, temporarily during the pendency of this suit and perpetually at the final hearing, from doing or causing to be done any of the acts or things threatened by them to be done as set forth in paragraph numbered 10 of this bill, and from doing or causing to be done any act or thing towards enforcing in the District of Columbia said purported injunction order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois."

WOULD PUNISH POLICEMEN.

Union Demands Their Dismissal, Saying They Beat Prisoners.

GARY, Ind., Sept. 7.—Demands for the dismissal and punishment of policemen alleged to have beaten prisoners held in connection with the wreck of the Michigan Central Railroad's "Million-Dollar Express" near here, Aug. 20, have been made to city officials by labor union leaders here.

Mayor R. O. Johnson was hissed and jeered by a heckling crowd last night when he appeared at a meeting to explain the situation. Women joined in the demonstration. The prisoners, it was charged, were beaten to make them confess.

merce insisted that the Government's primary concern in the anthracite situation was to see that the householder is protected from profiteering.

"The Government," said Mr. Hoover, previous to the conference, "through President Harding's message to Congress and the Winslow-Cummins bill, now being debated in Congress, shows that it intends to curb profiteering on anthracite. Mr. Hoover indicated that it will be largely the work of Mr. Kiney and his colleagues on the Pennsylvania Fuel Commission to make a report suggesting fair prices at the next anthracite conference.

"I do not believe there is any effort on the part of the big operators to get more than a fair price for hard coal," said Mr. Warriner. Upon the expected ratification of the anthracite agreement at Wilkes-Barre, Mr. Warriner expressed the opinion that it probably would be a month afterward before all the miners would be back at work and before production would again become normal. He was not prepared to say to what extent operators could speed up production beyond normal in an effort to relieve the anthracite shortage, but he spoke optimistically on that subject.

The conference today lasted three and one-half hours and was held behind closed doors in a leading hotel. Official representatives of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Massachusetts and other New England States were present. No formal statement was issued at the close of the meeting.

MINERS BLOCK REDS, DELAY CONVENTION

Rallying to Prevent Insurgents, Disturbing Peace Ratification, They Fill Delegates' Seats.

VOTING MAY BE DELAYED

Whether It Comes Saturday or Monday Hard Coal Strike Is Ended, Lewis Asserts.

Special to The New York Times.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 7.—Hundreds of idle miners, fearing that insurgents would "start something," occupied all available seating and standing room to the exclusion of 690 accredited delegates when the Tri-State Anthracite Convention was to resume here this afternoon, so the meeting had to be called off until tomorrow.

Hundreds of other miners were outside, crowding and trying to force their way into the hall. John L. Lewis and Phil Murray, international Vice President, were unable to enter the building.

Delegates were bitter in their protests. Several threatened to pack up their belongings and go home. District President Thomas Kennedy of No. 7, who was on the platform, suddenly announced that an afternoon session would not be held and that the convention would reconvene tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. To prevent a repetition of today's delay all delegates will be admitted by cards, and no one else will be allowed admittance until the delegates are in their places.

The morning session was taken up with a chronological report of the negotiations between operators and miners from the time of the first meeting in March to the last one on Saturday last in Philadelphia. Kennedy had not completed his survey at the noon adjournment and he was to finish in the afternoon. Phil Murray was ready to deliver the keynote speech for ratification and acceptance of the anthracite proposal when they had gathered in the peace offer their leaders asked them to accept. That program will be followed tomorrow morning. The tentative agreement will be submitted in the form that miners will be asked to sign it, but details will not open until after Murray has spoken.

Seven policemen were sent to the convention hall by Mayor Daniel L. Hart today. He refused to say on whose request he sent them there. It is known that reports reached the Lewis camp that the insurgents were prepared to stage a noisy demonstration and that disorder might occur. The policemen were armed with riot clubs and remained in the corridor ready for any call. They will be on duty until the convention ends.

Insurgents have not given up their fight, but they are steadily losing ground. Many delegates who are here instructed to vote against ratification declare that they would willingly vote to accept the peace offer if they were free to do so. An effort was made today to get all instructed delegates together in one body and have them vote as a unit for ratification. A few "die-hards" in the ranks prevented this plan being carried out.

Rinaldo Cappellini, George Issac, Enoch Williams and Alex Campbell, leaders of the insurgents, are very busy, but Isaac admitted today that they are not getting anywhere with their plan to have the agreement rejected. "We will go down fighting, even though we are licked," he said.

The voting strength of the 690 delegates present will be 1,732 votes, according to official reports. Lewis forces claim they will get 1,300 of this number, but the insurgents say that the Lewis claims are far too high.

Lewis declared tonight that there would not be any attempt to check debate. The plan of the International chief is to give every delegate present a chance to talk himself out before Lewis, in the closing speech, will make a heart-to-heart appeal to the rank and file of the organization.

Lewis is confident of victory. "The passing hours bring us more convincing proof of the inevitable end of this convention—ratification of the peace proposal by an overwhelming majority, he said today. He predicted that a vote for ratification or rejection would come Saturday afternoon, although he said it was possible the convention would swing over until next week. "Whether it is Saturday, or Monday, or some other day," he said, "there can only be one result, the anthracite miners will accept this peace proposal as one of the great victories of their history."

collectively their labor and patronage and induce others to do so.

An amendment providing that if the Supreme Court of the United States decides that an act of Congress is unconstitutional by interpretation asserts a public policy at variance with the statutory declaration of Congress, then if Congress by a two-thirds majority repasses the law it shall become the law of the land.

The council will also consider legislation, it was stated, to make amendment of the Constitution of the United States easier and make the Constitution itself "more flexible to meet the needs of the people."

Repeal of the Sherman Anti-Trust law will also be advocated and probably some program drafted to meet the situation, labor leaders said. They contend that "through judicial misinterpretation and perversion" this law has been "mainly invoked to deprive the toiling masses of their natural and normal rights," instead of being used to prevent illegal combinations in restraint of trade.

Samuel Gompers, President of the Federation, declined to make any statement today as to the probable plans of the council, except to state that the general strike was still a matter for consideration.

"The Executive Council will probably have considerable to say and do at its forthcoming meeting and until then I will withhold further comment," he added.

Discussing the statement of Mr. Daugherty that American labor leaders will have a chance to "exercise free speech in court," Mr. Woll said:

"Fortunately the American people possess a keen sense of humor. Therefore, Mr. Daugherty's statement that American labor leaders will be given a chance to exercise free speech in court—Mr. Daugherty's court, by the way, with all certainty—is hostile to the interests of the working people of the country—will not be taken seriously by the public.

"His statement generally reflects the tragic extent to which selfish reaction in America has obtained control over the affairs and destinies of the people. Mr. Daugherty's characterization of a number of the railroad shopmen's leaders as Bolsheviki is quite in line with the rest of what he had to say, so far as veracity is concerned.

"What he has not sufficient perception to understand is that this is old stuff, long ago discarded by the more intelligent among the professional labor baiters. With the war hysteria over, the American public is hard to intelligent to be satisfied, because some one in high authority calls names—'red, radical' and 'Bolshevik' long were the favorites—that it necessarily follows he is telling the truth. The public demands proofs and any one at all familiar with the American labor movement, and particularly the shopmen's union, know Mr. Daugherty cannot produce these.

"With the public roused as it now is over the Daugherty injunction, and that document's damnable attempt to abridge the constitutional rights of the workers, the inalienable rights of all the people, aye, and even of the free press, it is small wonder that its creator is now trying to crawl into a hole and pull it in after him."

This is one fight that organized labor cannot shirk, said George W. Perkins, International President of the Cigar Makers' Union, referring to the injunction. "My organization is going to aid in every way possible the shopmen and fight injunctions in general that violate the constitutional rights of the people and the country as a whole."

This was in effect the sentiment of every member of the Executive Council and the heads of the other international unions gathered here. Mr. Gompers continued to be deluged today, it was stated, with telegrams and letters criticising the Daugherty injunction, and he was highly pleased at the sentiment against the use of writs of injunction in strikes.

While labor throughout the country is aroused over the injunction, it was admitted at the council's headquarters that the general strike proposed has not been pressed by a majority of union organizations. The majority of such proposals, it was learned were sent in by labor bodies that have for the last few months been developing a radical sentiment. Among the central labor bodies demanding a general strike were listed those of Chicago, Knoxville, Tenn., Omaha, Neb., Spokane, Wash., and other cities in the northwest were radical labor dominates.

Some labor bodies have urged that a twenty-four hour stoppage be called throughout the country in order to bring labor's protest to the attention of the general public. Labor leaders, however, do not even consider this scheme advisable.

One thing that stands in the way of making a general strike effective, it is pointed out, is that the railroads brotherhoods are not affiliated with the federation and cannot be relied upon to participate in such a movement. Chiefs of the train service brotherhoods have reiterated several times since the shopmen went on strike that they would not violate their present contracts with the railroads and strike in sympathy with the shop crafts unions.

"Anyway the general strike is a European institution not to be followed by American workers," explained one prominent labor chief, "we have no desire to introduce it in this country. We have other means at our command that will work out just as effectively."

The proposal to impeach the Attorney General for obtaining an injunction violating the constitutional rights of the people, advanced by the central strike committee of New York, did not meet with the enthusiastic approval of labor leaders here. They said that it would be hopeless to resort to this procedure or appeal to the courts for relief.

"Impeachment for malfeasance in office might be possible," said Mr. Woll, "but we probably would have to prove corruption also. I believe Congressional action is the solution."

Besides considering injunctions and the courts, the council will also make plans for pressing its campaign to wipe out the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations and the Colorado industrial system. Steps also will be taken to oppose enactment of similar legislation in other States, particular attention being given to New York State.

The first meeting of the Executive Council will take place Saturday morning and it was expected today that the council would remain in session all next week. Many important matters which developed at the last national convention at Cincinnati, as well as the present strike situation, will occupy the time of the council.

INJUNCTION JEERED BY LABOR COUNCIL

Speakers Ridicule "Golf Ball in White House," Call Daugherty "Monumental Ass."

VOTE STRIKERS A DAY'S PAY

Demand the Impeachment of the Attorney General and Federal Judge Wilkerson.

The delegates to the Central Trades and Labor Council at a meeting in Beethoven Hall last night, called to enlist financial support for the striking shopmen in this district, displayed little resentment toward the injunction against the strikers and dealt with it almost entirely by ridicule and gibes. They did, however, pass a resolution calling upon the Senate to take steps toward the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty and Judge Wilkerson, who granted the injunction.

Timothy Healy, President of the Stationary Engineers' Union, said that neither he nor the other leaders who had been conferring preliminary to calling a meeting of the Policy Committee of the strikers at Chicago next Monday had been served with the injunction.

"They said we were in hiding," said Mr. Healy. "We weren't. We have been in conference two days, but they didn't find us although they ought to have known where we were. The meeting will be held in Chicago, injunction or no injunction. If they want to get me I am leaving Saturday night at 5:30 o'clock."

The meeting was first asked to consider a resolution passed by the Executive Committee of the council, demanding that the Government take over the railroads, and that every trade unionist give one day's pay toward helping the families of the strikers. This resolution was passed with two dissenting votes, both of them from men who wanted to help the shopmen but disagreed with the wording of the resolution. Before the resolution was put to a vote, however, there were some spirited comments from the floor and platform on the National Administration.

Ridicules the Administration.

The first blast of ridicule came from David Williams, secretary of the local strike committee, who spoke from the platform.

"There isn't anybody going to scare us with the kind of injunction Daugherty has got up," he said. "I don't know whether to blame Daugherty or to thank him. You can't put a golf ball in the White House and get justice for the workingman. A lot of people voted for a change, and we have been getting it. This strike is a result of our getting some of that normalcy."

That started things, and after Abraham Lefkowitz had taken exception to both political parties John P. Coughlin of the machinists' union got up.

"I haven't read Daugherty's injunction," he said. "I'm not going to read it. I might violate it. It is better to violate it in ignorance and go to jail with the rest of the intelligent criminals. We'll show that Daugherty has been written down in history as the most monumental ass who ever lived. If Harding had studied Einstein's theory of relativity he couldn't have picked out a better Attorney General for the shopmen."

The only thing in the whole meeting which might be construed as a reference to a general strike was when John J. Dowd, Chairman of the local Strike Committee, said:

"When we can't go on any longer, you will put your leaders into our places and they will go on with us."

Charges "Delusion of Grandeur."

The main attack on the injunction was made by William F. Kehoe, Secretary of the council, who said:

"Mr. Daugherty's action is undoubtedly the delusion of grandeur and an attempt to play to the galleries. He suddenly comes to the conclusion that he should regard himself as the heroic champion of the open shop, and he has done more to injure and muddle the entire railroad situation than any other agency.

"If it were necessary for the Government to step in and through its Attorney General to obtain such a sweeping injunction as was issued a few days ago in Chicago, then the condition would warrant the Government's stepping in and taking control of the railroads. It would then be in a position to give the people of the country the railway service that they require, at the same time protecting the rights of labor and adjusting demands according to the merits of the case.

"The history of men and nations proves that usurpation leads to usurpation until it gives birth to tyranny. If we permit our present Government officials to wilfully, flagrantly and with impunity, set aside the law of the land, the retribution will be swift and far-reaching.

Says Roads Save Counsel Fees.

"In this case, also, we are confronted with the anomaly of having the Attorney General of the United States acting as private attorney to the railroad companies. On previous occasions the corporations were at least compelled to pay their counsel fees. Moreover, in his desire to serve the railroad interests the Attorney General has misrepresented the strike situation to the people. His explanation to the public for issuing this extraordinary inhibition is that the railroad shopmen are on strike against the Government. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The railroad workers are on strike against conditions existing on privately owned railroads.

"Eighty-two per cent. of 211,280 miles of the railroads in this country are controlled by twenty-five men. They are operated by those men for the purpose of making money, and not for the purpose of giving service to the people, as the Attorney General would lead us to believe. The railroads in this country are no more national than is the National Biscuit Company. The twenty-five men who control these roads want to pay a wage rate as low as $12 per week. The men working for the roads reasoned that they might just as well be idle and starve as work and starve.

"The Attorney General is making one last desperate effort to settle the strike in the interest of the railroad owners by substituting force for justice. He realizes that an honest and open discussion of the question would result disastrously for the railroad owners. This cannot be done in the face of nothing against the Government without admitting that many of us have long suspected that the Government is in Wall street, not Washington. They cannot discuss the question from any basis advantageous to themselves, so they do that which all politicians have done who were possessed of an overabundance of power and a scarcity of justice they prohibit the people from talking.

"If the twenty-five railroad owners would give more time to running the railroads and less time to stock manipulation the roads could well afford to lower the rates and increase instead of reduce wages. Calling upon the courts to substitute force for justice will prove a permanent substitute for mismanagement."

After calling upon the people to bury the Administration in the next election, Mr. Kehoe said:

"Prevent us from using their own funds to support the principles for which they stand in this present strike, and preventing all trade unionists from assisting them financially, can lead to but one thing—involuntary servitude. We should lend every effort to the end that the impeachment of Attorney General Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkerson be prosecuted."

The resolution asking for the impeaching of Judge Wilkerson and the Attorney General said:

"Whereas the Constitution of the United States guarantees to every citizen the right of freedom of speech, the right of free press and the right of peaceable and free assemblage, all of which rights have been abridged by the injunction obtained against the railroad shopmen, and

"Whereas this injunction is not only a clear violation of the provisions of the Clayton act, as applying to the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes, but is also a plain denial of the constitutional rights of our American citizens and without precedent in law and equity, and

"Whereas Attorney General Daugherty in applying for the injunction against the strikers on the railroad, and Federal Judge Wilkerson in granting said injunction, both have shown a disregard for the fundamental and constitutional law of our land; therefore be it,

Resolved, that we call upon the Senate of the United States, through Senator Borah, to immediately institute impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty and Federal Judge Wilkerson for malfeasance of office by their act in disregarding Article 1 of the Constitution and Section 20 of the Clayton act of Congress; and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to Senator Borah, all Senators and Congressmen from New York, the President of the United States and to the Press."

Hugh Frayne, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, represented Samuel Gompers, who was unable to be present because of the Atlantic City meeting. He asked every unionist to help the strikers financially by giving a day's pay, which it has been estimated would raise $2,500,000. Several unions announced that they had already pledged money, and a few delegates made offers of money directly, one contributing $50.

GOMPERS ASSAILS HARDING'S STAND

Declares President Has Swung Big Stick on Strikers Instead of Executives.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—President Harding "instead of using the big stick upon the railroad executives"—through his Attorney General has "swung the big stick in the form of the injunction against the shopmen," Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation, declared in a statement here tonight. He said that he was confident that the railway shopmen's strike could be adjusted by a "fair and tolerant spirit," and that Attorney General Daugherty's effort to "hog-tie labor and prevent them from exercising their normal legal and constitutional rights" was unnecessary.

"So Attorney General Daugherty," said Mr. Gompers, "has promised to put the soft pedal on his performance; that is, that he will not press for the enforcement of that provision of his injunction to invalidate the constitutional guarantee for the freedom of speech. He has not said whether he will insist in flouting the constitutional guarantee for the freedom of the press and assemblage, nor has he expressed himself as to whether he intends to still insist on the violation of the plain provisions of Section 20 of the Clayton Anti-Trust law, which forbids the issuance of just such an injunction as he has secured from Judge Wilkerson. Mr. Borah is a great expounder and advocate of the principles of the Constitution, and his conference with Mr. Daugherty has at least done a little good.

"The arraignment of Mr. Daugherty by Senator Robinson and the protests of the press and the people clearly demonstrate the deep resentment felt against the unwarranted misuse of the writ of injunction.

"President Harding promised the railway shopmen that if they accepted his first plan for the adjustment of the strike he would use the big stick on the railroad executives to compel them to accept it. The shopmen accepted the President's plan, but the carriers rejected it, and instead of using the big stick upon the railroad executives, he, through his Attorney General, has swung the big stick in the form of the injunction against the shopmen, who accepted his plan.

"I am confident that with a fair, tolerant spirit the strike can be adjusted, and all this effort to hog-tie labor and prevent them from exercising their normal legal and constitutional rights can be speedily effected.

"Oh, for one hour of normal thinking by our Government officials."

SOLDIER-STRIKERS APPEAL.

Wire Harding for Daugherty's Resignation.

Ex-service men among the strikers on all railroads in the metropolitan district organized a special strike committee yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in Broni's Hall, 568 Ninth Avenue. They telegraphed a petition to President Harding demanding the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty and a dismissal of the "infamous injunction" by Judge Wilkerson.

"Those ex-service men are fighting mad," said Mr. Williams. "Nothing in the whole strike has aroused them so much as this injunction. Those fellows take democracy seriously. They risked their lives for it and they have a right to demand it in America."

Rock Island Lines; Harry E. Byram, President of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and Charles Donnelly, President of the Northern Pacific Railway.

While the position of the Rock Island and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul is not established, it is not likely that the Burlington and the Northern Pacific will entertain peace proposals, judging from statements issued by the heads of the roads today.

A statement declaring the strike "irrevocably lost," but holding out one concession—restoration of pension rights—to men who return to work before Sept. 15, was issued at Omaha, Neb., by Carl Gray, President of the Union Pacific Railway, who made a point of contending that the action was taken "under no pressure of necessity."

"We have carefully refrained from this action until we knew positively that we had a sufficient force properly to handle all locomotives, freight and passenger car repairs, so as to divest the action of any selfish consideration," the statement says, adding that seniority rights cannot be restored "because this would mean a betrayal of faith and a manifest injustice to men who cast their lot with us."

"But," it adds, "there are conditions which we can restore which don't injure existing employes or take away their seniority rights. Principal among these are the benefits of the pension system."

President Gray said the Union Pacific's shop force is now within 18 per cent. of normal, but admitted that these are working long hours, longer than employees and longer than they would care to work under ordinary circumstances.

While the terms of the proposed settlement have not been announced from either side, reliable reports indicate that they provide for a slight increase in wages. The returning strikers, it is said, will not be restored to full seniority, but some concession on this score will be made.

In a formal statement at Topeka, Kan., W. B. Wells, Vice President of the Santa Fe Railway, said willingness of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor to make separate settlement "as stated in press reports, indicates there is a realization among their leaders that the strike of the shopmen is lost.

"Strike settlement with the American Federation of Labor is now an impossibility," said Mr. Wells.

President Jewell, who slipped out of Chicago a week ago, when the temporary injunction was granted, is expected to return to his headquarters tomorrow. It is expected he will go into session at once with heads of the seven organizations associated in the strike.

Peace Rumors Here.

Despite various dehials it was persistently reported last night that the call for the meeting of the shop-crafts Policies Committee in Chicago on Monday next was the result of a talk between B. M. Jewell, President of the shop crafts, and men representing at least a minority group of the railroad executives. The secrecy regarding the reasons for calling the meeting at this time gave support to the belief that there was a possibility of the committee reversing its position and agreeing to separate settlements in the hope of bringing an end to the strike.

Three days ago Mr. Jewell, whose movements have been shrouded with mystery lately, was reported to have been in Baltimore, where he had a long talk with S. Davies Warfield, President of the Seaboard Air Line. It was said Mr. Warfield told Mr. Jewell that if the Policies Committee of the shopmen would permit separate agreements with the roads there was a good chance of getting many of the roads to agree to the terms laid down at the Yale Club meeting last month. The proposal put forward at the Yale Club provided for restoration of pension rights, submission to the Railroad Labor Board of the wage question and determination of seniority by the individual roads.

Mr. Warfield, in talking with Mr. Jewell, various rumors declared, was working with Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, who had tried to bring about a settlement on those lines. Mr. Willard has denied that he has talked with Mr. Jewell, but it was said that Mr. Warfield acted as his spokesman and as spokesman for a minority group of executives. This version of the causes behind the calling of the Chicago meeting was amplified by a report that Mr. Willard was in Chicago trying to get some of the Western roads to back him in his stand.

Timothy Healy, President of the Stationary Firemen's Union, said last night at the meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Council in Beethoven Hall that he had been present at the meetings of the last two days which led up to the calling together of the shop crafts' Policies Committee and that he "hoped something would come" of that gathering of the strike leaders.

It was recalled yesterday that Mr. Jewell was reported to have said, when a small group of executives discussed separate agreements tentatively, that he would not accept the executives' terms unless thirty-three and one-third per cent. of the rail mileage of the country was represented. At that meeting fifty-two railroads were represented, embracing 64,000 miles of track, which was short of one-third of the total mileage of 245,000. Those hardly believe that Mr. Willard would be able at this time to get the backing of all the roads which were represented at that meeting, if indeed he were trying to do so.

"If the report is true that a meeting of the Policies Committee of the striking shop-craft unions has been called to meet in Chicago by Monday," said one of the executives, "that is quite another matter, and means that the leaders of the strike have at last decided to save something out of the wreck by securing authorization from the committee to allow individual agreements to be negotiated on the best terms obtainable. If this meeting has been called it marks the complete collapse of the strike."

Knowledge of any secret move to bring about an end of the strike was denied at the strike headquarters in the Hotel Continental yesterday by David Williams, Secretary of the local strike committee.

"We have no knowledge of the various peace moves or Baltimore meetings, and up to this morning had no knowledge of the calling of the meeting of the Policies Committee," he said. "We are going ahead in the New York district without paying any attention to various conflicting reports and pushing all our efforts to win the strike to the limit now. The injunction has helped us."

Washington Observers Hopeful.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—There are no conferences now in progress between leaders of the railroad strike and railroad Presidents, and none have been held since the formal gatherings in New York last month, it was asserted today by J. F. Noonan, chief of the Brotherhood of Electric Workers, which is one of the seven rail unions on national strike.

The meeting of the strikers' Policy Committee called for next week at Chicago is to consider the general strike policy, and also to consider what shall be done in view of the injunction application of the Attorney General, Mr. Noonan said.

B. M. Jewell, Chairman of the Executive Council of the striking organizations, is now en route to Chicago, Mr. Noonan added, after visiting several of the Eastern railroad centres, but during his trip this section called no meeting of the union executives. Mr. Noonan said he was not informed as to whether the Chairman had taken occasion to meet any rail Presidents.

"At this stage, there are no settlement discussions proceeding with any of the railroads, Mr. Noonan said, "though, of course, there might be some in the future. The injunction proceedings come to a hearing at Chicago on Monday, and I expect to be there, although I have not yet been served with the temporary restraining order which the Court has issued."

W. H. Johnston, President of the Association of Machinists, another of the striking unions, also returned to Washington yesterday after an unexplained absence, and communicated with his associates at the union headquarters. He continued to hold himself aloof from interviewers, however. Officials there said after discussion with him that the strike was to go forward without any alteration in its previous status, at least until the meetings of the leaders in Chicago had taken place. There are two bodies having general direction of the strike, it was explained, the Executive Council, consisting of the seven Presidents of the striking unions and Chairman Jewell, and the General Policy Committee, composed of the ninety or more General Chairmen of striking organizations on each of the major railroad systems and related lines.

Some Administration officials who kept in personal touch with one or both sides of the transportation controversy throughout its progress, reiterated today they had reason to believe that the prospect for settlement of the strike on several individual roads appeared to be improving. It was said that B. M. Jewell, leader of the striking shopmen, had been in touch with several of these recently and, while officially the Department of Justice was not advised of Mr. Jewell's movements, it was indicated that Administration officials had "a well defined idea" of his activities.

It was intimated by some in the confidence of President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty that any persistent attempt to obtain service upon Mr. Jewell of the Federal Court injunction at Chicago had been deferred because of the belief that he was engaged in negotiations which might bring a settlement of the strike within the realm of justifiable hope.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 7.—M. J. McMahon, member of the International Executive Board of Machinists, was quoted here today as saying that a majority of the railroads had submitted a peace proposition to the shopmen which will be voted on at Chicago next Monday. The call for the shopmen's meeting at Chicago was reported here today.

WOODIN AND HYLAN AGREE ON COAL PLAN

Fuel Administrator Gets Mayor's Support to Meet Shortage and Curb Profiteers.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SHORT

L. R. T. Resumes Full Rush-Hour Service—Cars for 10,500,000 Weekly, Roads Say.

William H. Woodin, the new State Fuel Administrator, announced yesterday that he had called on Mayor Hylan and had obtained from the Mayor the promise of co-operation from the city administration in his efforts to relieve the threatened coal shortage and prevent profiteering in fuel. Mr. Woodin, who was accompanied on his visit to City Hall by Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright, an old friend, said:

"I found Mayor Hylan exceedingly cordial and most responsive in regard to supporting my administration. As is well known, Mayor Hylan's mind is in accord with my plan in the endeavor to relieve any suffering of poor people and to see that profiteering is not only stopped but that profiteers are punished. There is no doubt in my mind that there is complete co-operation between us."

Before leaving during the day for Philadelphia to attend a conference of Eastern fuel administrators to discuss distribution methods and prices called by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, Mr. Woodin made public a plan to divide the State into nine districts, following the lines of the judicial districts, and to appoint a district Fuel Administrator in each. Mr. Woodin said the plan contemplated a decentralized system of distribution with deputy district administrators in charge in particular counties and sections where needed.

Mr. Woodin said he was particularly concerned over the supply of coal for tenement house dwellers who are accustomed to buy coal by the bucketful. It has been intimated that there is considerable profiteering going on at the expense of this class of customers, the few cents added to the cost of each bucketful having so far passed almost unnoticed. Mr. Woodin said he believed most coal dealers would be "fair" in their prices, whether selling in large or small amounts. He added that he believed those otherwise inclined "would fear public opinion and the power vested in the Fuel Administrator."

Use of other fuel to conserve coal will be encouraged by the Fuel Administrator, it was learned. It was said at his office that he intended to act under the section of the law empowering him to prevent the waste of fuel. It was intimated that he might even seize stocks of hoarded coal, paying a fair price for it, if the emergency should become sufficiently serious. A section of the act passed at the special session of the Legislature authorizes the Fuel Administrator to spend $10,000,000 or as much of it as might be necessary to enforce the provisions of the act.

One effect of the coal situation, noticed by officials, has been an increased demand for oil stoves. Manufacturers were reported to have increased their output. Many stoves have been shipped to jobbers and dealers here.

Because of the difficulty in getting sufficient coal for the Fire Department, Fire Commissioner Thomas J. Drennan issued orders yesterday to use no anthracite coal for any purpose whatever except to keep steam in the fire engines. An official of the department said the department needed coal now, present demands being met by shifting small quantities from firehouses which had a surplus. The Fire Department ordinarily uses about 13,000 tons of anthracite a year.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Company restored full rush-hour service on its subway and elevated lines yesterday in compliance with the order of the Transit Commission. At the Interborough offices it was said that the difficulty in using English coal had been met largely by increasing the grate space by adding to the number of boilers. The Interborough has enough English coal, here and contracted for, to last two months. It was said that American Pocahontas coal, the kind usually used, was now being received in comparatively small quantities. About 2,000 tons, about one day's supply, were received last week.

Robert C. Binkerd, assistant to Charles De Witt Cuyler, Chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, said the railroads of the country had sufficient cars to carry 10,500,000 tons of coal a week. Mr. Binkerd said there probably would be some congestion of traffic. He added that many coal dealers, hearing that their orders might be cut or not delivered, had duplicated their orders to different mines.

To aid the movement of coal, the Pennsylvania Railroad sent letters yesterday to operators, dealers and other interested parties containing a copy of a recent order of the Interstate Commerce Commission directing the railroads to place an embargo against the use of open-top cars, suitable for loading coal, for the shipment of any freight, coal or otherwise, to any consignee who should fail or refuse to unload such cars within twenty-four hours.

"Conditions today are acute," the letter read, "and co-operation is necessary to make possible the satisfactory transportation of coal for domestic, industrial and public utility uses. To this end, an earnest appeal is made for renewed co-operation on the part of all receivers of freight along the following lines:

"1. That all open-top cars loaded with coal, coke or any other commodity, be unloaded immediately upon being placed for delivery.

"2. That, where not now in existence, trestles or mechanical devices for the expeditious unloading or other loading be installed.

"Your co-operation in the direction indicated above will to a large extent contribute to a maximum production of coal. May we not again count upon you for this most important assistance?"

'FLYING PARSON' DIES 3 OTHERS ARE KILLED

activities. At the outbreak of the war he was studying for the ministry in the Baptist Seminary at Kerr, N. C. He filled small charges in the country district. When he decided to enter the Air Service, according to his admission, his flock vigorously objected and criticised his decision.

Displaying a remarkable aptitude for air service, Maynard quickly won his wings and was designated a reserve military aviator, with the rank of First Lieutenant. He was soon appointed chief test pilot at the A. E. F. air base at Romorantin, France. While there he attracted attention by establishing a record-for-loops record, turning over 318 times without losing altitude.

Returning home after seventeen months' service abroad, Maynard was stationed at Hazelhurst Field, near Mineola, as chief test pilot. In the transcontinental race, in which he demonstrated his skill as a flyer, Maynard averaged 128 miles an hour for the trip, although at times during the 6,400-mile hop he maintained a speed of 200 miles an hour.

Maynard left the army in May, 1920, but he never gave up his interest in aeronautics. He planned to return to the ministry, but found the call of the air too strong. For a time he was identified with the Central Y. M. C. A. in Brooklyn. Later he made a 2,000-mile flight in the interest of the recruiting service.

Maynard was a frequent speaker in churches and gained fame as a marrying sky pilot. Two weeks ago, over Times Square, he united Miss Helen Virginia Lent and Lloyd Wilson Bertaud, the latter a flyer of note. Maynard started an aerial photography business, which was said to be successful. He was born in Morwen, N. C., on Sept. 28, 1892, and was the son of a physician. At the age of fifteen he became interested in religion and announced his decision to be a clergyman.

AIR MAIL PILOT NEAR DEATH.

His Plane Takes Nose Dive at Indianapolis Fair.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Walter G. Smith of Oak Park, Ill., air mail pilot, was probably fatally injured at the Indiana State fair grounds this afternoon when his plane fell into a nose dive soon after he had taken off with mail for Cleveland.

Smith was rushed to the Methodist Hospital, where it was said his chance to live was slender. Thousands of fair visitors saw the accident.

IRISH POSTAL CLERKS THREATEN TO STRIKE

Wage Cut Becomes Effective Today—Capture of de Valera Is Officially Denied.

DUBLIN, Sept. 7.—The curious rumor that Arthur Griffith died from the effects of poisoning and that his body was to be exhumed has been persistent in the city for some days past. On inquiry today at Government headquarters, it was definitely assured that the statements are without foundation, nor does there appear to be any foundation for the report that Eamon de Valera and his henchman, Erskine Childers, have been captured and wounded.

The ex-President is the source of constant speculation and is variously stated to be in the country with irregulars and in Dublin. Indeed one report places him seriously ill in a hospital, but the only certain thing about his whereabouts is the uncertainty. It would not cause surprise if he made a spectacular effort to be present at the session of the Dail Eireann Saturday. The possibility is regarded as remote, however.

Meanwhile, the bill which Southern Ireland is called upon to meet as a result of the irregular policy of destruction is assuming imposing proportions. The claims for compensation received to the present total $45,000,000, and are still far short of complete, since every day brings its tally, and now, to depress the outlook further, a postal strike is threatened for the week-end over a dispute concerning a reduction in wages.

DUBLIN, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—A strike of postal workers throughout the twenty-six counties which will affect the mail, telegraph and telephone services is believed to be inevitable in consequence of a reduction in the wages of the workers, which becomes effective tomorrow.

The Dail Eireann Cabinet last night discussed the filling of the offices made vacant by the deaths of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins and the resignation of George Gavan Duffy. It is understood decisions were reached which will be made public at Saturday's meeting of the Dail.

The political correspondent of the Freeman's Journal says the meeting on Saturday will constitute "an important step toward consolidating the freedom won under the Anglo-Irish treaty."

It is expected that a vote will be taken which will, in effect, be a vote of confidence in the Government and a further ratification of the treaty.

LONDON, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Interruption of telegraphic communication between London and Cork and reported interruption between Dublin and Cork have led to the belief by some of the London newspapers today that events of great moment are happening in the Cork region, especially since fighting was reported there during the night.

CUMMINS WIRES STRIKERS.

Senator Asks Aid to Restore Rail Equipment.

John J. Dowd, Chairman of the rail strike committee, gave out yesterday a telegram he had received from United States Senator Cummins, which read:

"I have your telegram of the 30th ultimo in which you urge an immediate investigation of the present state of car equipment. I realize as fully as you possibly can the effect of the shopmen's strike and know that, taking the country over, the percentage of bad order cars has greatly increased. It does not need an investigation to establish this fact, for while the degree of disability is in dispute, the fact that the roads have not been able since July 1 to keep their engines and cars in proper condition is admitted by all candid persons.

"It seems to me, and I submit this to your judgment, that the immediate problem is the repair of these bad order engines and cars so their service to the public may be resumed. It is to that end I am bending all the energy I have, and that is true, I think, of both the legislative and executive branches of the Government. Every shipper and every consumer is deeply concerned about the situation. All they want is that the disabled engines and cars shall be put in order so that they can be used. If you can help in that direction you will be rendering a tremendous service to your country."

RESERVOIR DYNAMITED ON LEHIGH VALLEY ROAD

Feed Pipe Is Blown Up, Cutting Off Shops' Supply—Watchmen Saw Nothing Suspicious.

Special to The New York Times.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 7.—The feed pipe entering the Beaver Run dam of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near Packerton, the chief source of water supply on its lines, was dynamited and blown up last night, according to an official announcement by the division manager, Dan Mulligan of Easton.

The reservoir covered ten acres and the average depth was twenty-two feet. There were five million gallons of water behind the embankment, but now not a drop of water remains behind the walls.

The break occurred at the round house valve. Watchmen had been on guard day and night. They reported seeing no suspicious characters and nothing of an alarming nature.

Railway police are searching for men alleged to have stored large quantities of dynamite on company property. The break in the dam is not a costly proposition to the company, the cost of repairs being set at $1,800.

DEMAND LEAGUE WIELD MORE POWER

Opinion Growing in Assembly That It Should Supplant Conference of Premiers.

GERMANY WANTED IN IT

Swiss Delegate Says Austria Can and Will Live—Nansen Takes Fling at America.

By EDWIN L. JAMES.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—This year's Assembly is seeing the growth of a strong demand for an end of the prevailing system of international conferences and the assumption of their work by the League of Nations. Leaders of liberal thought in many countries, including France, believe the time has come to cease running the world on the basis of liquidation of the war, in other words by the victors, and for the establishment of general international action on a peace basis. This, of course, calls for the admission of Germany to the League.

Right there is illustrated one of the difficulties in the way of carrying out the plan. France has no serious objection to the admission of Germany to the League as an ordinary member, but Germany demands membership immediately on the Council and to this France objects on the ground that the Council being charged with carrying out parts of the treaty of Versailles, for instance securing the disarmament of Germany, and its decisions being taken by unanimity, Germany would be able to interfere with the proper execution of the treaty clauses entrusted to the League. To the French this is a very real objection.

However, Lord Robert Cecil, who started the movement officially in his speech yesterday, and his lieutenants believe the obstacles can be got around.

Swiss Delegate Also Urges Action.

Dr. Giuseppe Motta, head of the Swiss delegation, who is generally considered pro-German, echoed Lord Cecil's words today.

"The world is not yet at peace," he said. "Four years have passed since the great war ended and the world is still suffering from many difficulties and wounds. All unrest, all must admit that the position today of international affairs is worse than at the time of last year's assembly.

"The question we are all asking is can the League solve these problems. There is one view that if the League tackles important problems it risks disaster. I hold other views. The League must be a League of all nations and cannot ignore great problems."

Dr. Motta said the League, representing many nations, had a right to concern itself with such problems as reparations, pointing to the fall of the mark as seriously affecting Switzerland, who, however, as affairs now run, could not say a word about curing the evil. Austria, being a neighbor, naturally, Dr. Motta gave that poor country much encouragement.

"When I heard the matter laid before the League Council yesterday," he said, "I thanked God there was a League of Nations, and that Switzerland was part of it. For some time the people of Austria have been told that it was impossible for Austria to live, but Austria can live and will live."

Baron Hyashi, head of the Japanese delegation, recalling that the third annual meeting of the League, said:

"This simple fact by itself is sufficient to prove that in spite of the criticism and pleasantries to which it has been subjected by skeptical or malicious persons the League of Nations is gradually and healthily developing."

He referred to the settlement of the Upper Silesian dispute as an example of what the League could do if confidence were placed in it.

Speaking of disarmament, he said:

"The Washington conference achieved decided progress toward the goal to which the League of Nations is marching. Japan rejoices that she was able to collaborate with the powers at Washington in the most friendly spirit and sign with them the agreement restricting naval armaments to such an extent. I am happy to assure you that the Japanese Government will never hesitate to give sincere and active support to the League of Nations' labors, and in all its efforts will be devoted at Geneva, as at Washington, toward the development of international relations in a spirit of confidence and peace."

Nansen Criticises Premiers.

Dr. Nansen, chief of the Norwegian delegation, thought the League had done good work in the past year and praised the report of the Council. He continued:

"It seems that in certain quarters it has become a habit to sneer at the League, although I must say that the sneer has been less visible lately. Let me tell those people who so readily speak of a league of nations as desirable but speak of the League of Nations as no good, that the choice lies between this league or no league, and let every one across the sea realize that once and for all."

He, too, made a plea for greater and more important action by the League, urging the big nations to use its machinery. He said the conferences of the Premiers had only led Europe from bad to worse and since a few nations had not made a good job it was best to let many nations try. He made the point that not the Allies alone were concerned in the present economic situation, which was largely due to the bad political situation.

"We in Norway," he said "are suffering quite as much from the economic crisis as any other country. Our shipping is decreasing, our fisheries have no market, our timber trade is ruined, our industries are in a most miserable state and the question of the unemployed is very serious. We are looking to the League to obtain solutions."

Dr. Nansen criticised the members of the League for not contributing more to Russia relief and said this failure to do so had cost many lives. "Millions of people have died," he said, "we don't know how many millions have died. To a great extent these could have been saved if the right action had been taken by all the nations last Fall."

Drawing a picture of suffering Russia Dr. Nansen said:

"Mothers kill their children and eat them and have their bodies hanging in their larders like any other meat. When human flesh is sold in the market place it shows an extreme of poverty and starvation which none of us wants to come back."

He said the harvest was better this year but still insufficient for the needs of the population. He urged the Council to send a commission of inquiry to Russia at once.

Urges Definite Disarmament Plan.

Speaking of disarmament Dr. Nansen thought the Governments were standing too much on their dignity and technicalities. He called on the League to formulate a definite plan, at least as a basis of definite discussion. He thought the real test of the League before world public opinion lay in whether it could do anything towards disarmament. "The time for trying to avoid all problems by talk has gone, and the time for action has come," he said.

Count Mensdorf, of Austria, thanked the League for taking up the Austrian situation and reminded the Assembly that it would have been much easier to solve the problem a year ago.

IRELAND WOULD JOIN LEAGUE.

Angora Government Applies for Admission of Turkey.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—Representatives here of the Irish Government are preparing to place before the Assembly an application for the admission of Ireland to the League of Nations. The step would have been taken before this except that the League leaders advised the Irishmen to wait until their Parliament, which meets Saturday, has adopted a constitution.

It is expected that England will offer no opposition, and if she does not there will probably be no vote against Ireland. Indeed, many Englishmen think it would be a good thing for London to admit Ireland to the League because thereby there would be general recognition of Ireland's status as a member of the British Empire with the same status as Canada, Australia and New Zealand, which would automatically render more difficult the endeavors of the independent faction in Erin.

The Angora Government has applied for the admission of Turkey to the League. There is little likelihood of favorable action, although it is possible that in view of the circumstances the request may give rise to a heated debate. M. Streit of the Greek delegation says he will speak at tomorrow's assembly, and it is probable that he will oppose the Turkish demand openly. If the British, who favored the Greeks in the Anatolian War, and the French, who favored Kemal, get into the debate it may become lively.

An animated discussion developed late this afternoon in Committee 2 over Hungary's request for admission. The British and Italians charged Hungary with not carrying out the disarmament clause of the Peace Treaty and the Czechoslovakis also opposed Hungary. A special courier was sent to Paris tonight to bring documents of the Council of Ambassadors relative to Hungarian disarmament.

TO APPEAL TO WORLD COURT.

Nobles Retain Samuel Untermyer to Fight Czech Land Laws.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Advices from Prague state that some hundred noblemen of the former Empires of Austria-Hungary and Germany have formed themselves into an organization for the protection of their property which has been included in the boundaries of Czechoslovakia. It is the contention of these noblemen that the Czechoslovakian land laws are in violation of the rights secured to nationals of other countries under the Peace Treaty.

In 1919 Czechoslovakia passed a so-called land reform act, which was amended in 1922, with the ostensible purpose of breaking up great landed estates and providing land for colonization. It purports to give compensation, but it is claimed by the noblemen that this is a mere sham, that the laws are in effect confiscatory and that the proposed purchase price would give the owners less than one-tenth of the value of the lands.

The noblemen declare the protection guaranteed by treaties is destroyed and their purpose is to test in the International court established by the League of Nations the right of Czechoslovakia to confiscate their properties under cover of this land law.

For this purpose the organization has elected an Executive Committee, which includes the hereditary Duke of Schwalzenberg, Count Clary and Count Sternberg. Legal advisers have been chosen for Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, and Samuel Untermyer of New York has been chosen Chairman of the committee and chief legal adviser.

With the consent of the committee Mr. Untermyer will choose a general manager for the whole enterprise. He is to prepare and argue the case before the International Court with the aid of lawyers representing the various countries concerned.

The organization, which it is expected will eventually embrace more than three hundred noblemen, whose estates are affected by the action of the Czechoslovakian land law, has Count Waldstein for its President and Count Otto Czernin, brother of the late Secretary of State, for Vice President.

Lloyd George Gets Request From Balfour to Go to Geneva.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Contrary to general expectation, the Cabinet did not discuss today the European economic situation, and M. Poincaré's note therefore did not come before the Ministers in a formal way.

Mr. George Lloyd has received a communication from the Earl of Balfour, it is stated, and although it still is uncertain whether the Prime Minister can journey to Geneva just at present, he is anxious to respond to the evident wish of those now in session that he should visit the conference, and it is quite likely he may go next week if other matters do not prevent him from leaving England.

ARMISTICE SOUGHT AS TURKS PRESS ON

prisoner by the Turks on the evening of Sept. 2. The dispatch adds: "They were taken to the headquarters of the Kemalist forces, where they were treated as guests of Mustapha Kemal Pasha."

Latest advices received here from Angora confirm previous reports that the Turkish nationalist army numbers 350,000. Of this number 200,000 men are engaged in the offensive operations against the Greeks. The remaining 150,000 are being held in reserve.

The 200,000 Greek and Armenian refugees from the interior of Asia Minor who are pouring into Smyrna present a tremendous relief problem, and the first steps for preventing threatened epidemics and wholesale starvation were taken today at a conference here of American relief agencies, presided over by Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, U. S. N., at which the Smyrna Emergency Relief was organized.

The committee is composed of representatives of the Near East Relief, the American Red Cross, the American Mission Board, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association. These organizations are besieged with appeals to help immediately all available supplies of medicines and foodstuffs and experienced relief workers to Smyrna. The messages picture the deplorable plight of the refugees, who are forced to abandon everything for a trek of several days under a broiling sun.

British Cabinet Considers Appeal.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—It is understood that the Cabinet meeting over which Lloyd George presided at Downing Street today was principally concerned with the position in Anatolia and the predicament in which the Greek Army has been placed by the rapid development of the Turkish offensive. No official statement was forthcoming at the close of the Cabinet council as to the attitude of the Ministers to the Greek appeal to the Allies for intervention, but it was believed in unofficial quarters that no decision had been come to tending toward intervention. There would be the less reason for coming to any such decision if, as is probable, the Ministers were aware of the conditional offer of the Greeks to evacuate Asia Minor, which was announced from Constantinople later in the day.

There are decided indications in latest telegrams that the Greeks are preparing to make a stand outside Smyrna. At the same time there is no definite news of the condition of Greek morale or the number of guns, &c., at the disposal of the Greek Commander-in-Chief.

From the political point of view, the only new development is a note from Italy agreeing to the proposed conference at Venice, and suggesting it shall be held as soon as possible after Sept. 15. The position, however, as regards this conference seems as uncertain as the military situation with which it is intimately connected.

New Greek Commander Arrives.

LONDON, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—A Greek division, transported from Thrace, numbering 12,000 has just been landed at Smyrna, according to a telegram received by the London Times from their correspondent there. The despatch stated that General Polymenakos is to assume supreme command of the Greeks.

Unending throngs of distracted and destitute Greek and Armenian refugees, fleeing from the war area in Anatolia, are besieging the gates of Smyrna clamoring for Allied assistance, according to the latest reports reaching London. The four railroad lines terminating in Smyrna are choked with Greek troops and the remnant of the Greek war supplies. All the highways are black with evicted families who are struggling to carry enough covering and food to last until they reach the Mediterranean.

The local authorities are poorly equipped to deal with the situation, being forced to give virtually all their time to the reorganization of the dismembered Greek Army. Smyrna already is dangerously overcrowded. It was so even before the Turkish drive, and the sheltering, feeding and the transportation abroad of the great legions of fugitives is a problem of such magnitude and difficulty that only the combined effort of the Allied nations, it is conceded, can cope with it. The city's military system is primitive and the danger of pestilence is admittedly very great.

Thousands of Greeks who have relatives in the United States are seeking the protection of the American flag.

With the arrival in Asia Minor of General Doussmanis, whom King Constantine pushed from Athens in an effort to save the situation, Major Gen. Polymenakos, the hero of Eski-Shehr, Colonel Sarylanis, the brilliant Venezelist officer, and General Pallis, who is the Foch of the Greek Army, the Greeks say they intend to make a desperate stand at Alashehr, the ancient Philadelphia, east of Smyrna, and keep back the Nationalists until Smyrna is evacuated and the bulk of the army escapes.

The arrival of Major Gen. Joannou, the famous Venezelist leader, and a group of Venezelist officers from Constantinople, as well as the presence in Smyrna of British, Italian and American naval officers, has greatly heartened the population.

Rear Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt with the cruisers Concord and Cardiff, is expected to arrive soon at Smyrna from Malta.

The outer harbor of Smyrna is fortified against naval invasion but the city's defenses against land attack are obsolete, consisting of medieval blockhouses and ramparts and out-of-date cannon of no value. The Turkish advance has been so swift that the Greeks have not had time to arrange emplacements for modern guns, build barbed wire entanglements or construct trenches or other barriers.

ITALY SENDS A BATTLESHIP.

Government Fears for Safety of 20,000 Italians in Smyrna.

TARANTO, Italy, Sept. 7.—The Italian battleship Vittorio Emanuele sailed today for Smyrna.

ROME, Sept. 7.—The 20,000 Italians living in Smyrna, where they have their own Italian schools, banks and other institutions, are causing the Government great anxiety due to the present situation in those regions.

Foreign Minister Carlo Schanzer has discussed the situation with the representatives of the Angora Government, the Greek Chargé d'Affaires, and the French and English Chargé d'Affaires. It is feared here that if the war in Asia Minor ends, it may be transferred to Thrace in order to drive out the Greeks and relieve Constantinople.

GERMANS EVASIVE BELGIANS COMPLAIN

Have Not Come Forward With Specific Proposals for Treasury Note Guarantees.

CABINET SEEKING HELP

Wants Imperial League of Industrialists to Go Surety for Part of Proposed Issue.

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—No decisive progress was made today in the negotiations between the Belgian financial delegates, M. Delacroix and M. Bemelmans, and Dr. Hermes, German Minister of Finance, and the formal discussions were only of short duration.

Soon after they adjourned, Dr. Hermes summoned departmental heads and a staff of experts for a confidential conference, which continued throughout the afternoon and gave rise to reports that M. Bemelmans had requested Dr. Hermes to present concrete proposals Friday, as the preliminary discussions thus far had failed to yield a tangible starting point for conclusive deliberations.

While German official quarters were uncommunicative beyond laying stress on the complicated nature of the problem, M. Bemelmans was not quite so secretive, as evidenced by a statement to the foreign correspondents, in which he indicated that the negotiations were not proceeding as fluently as he had hoped, incidentally voicing his impatience over the Germans' failure to come forward with a specific proposal for guarantees.

The only proposal made this morning, according to Belgium's chief envoy, was "too vague and without the necessary basic significance" to serve the purposes of a practical discussion.

Talk of English Syndicate.

The Belgians also asserted that they first learned through the local newspapers that an alleged English syndicate contemplated underwriting a block of the Treasury bills.

Meanwhile the German Government reported that it was making strong efforts to mobilize the Imperial League of Industrialists for the purpose of inducing it to go surety for a liberal portion of the 270,000,000 issue. The leading "industrialists" have hitherto manifested aloofness in this connection, and for the present content themselves with pointing out that the League is not a close corporation and is therefore unable to assume such a sweeping general endorsement.

The Government's effort to interest big business in this connection also projects the internal political issue into the situation, inasmuch as Stinnes's German People's Party is not actively identified with the present coalition Government and is therefore in a position to suggest reciprocal accommodations from the Wirth Cabinet in return for any service extended in connection with the Government's quest for guarantees. Herr Stinnes, who returned to Berlin today, expects to take a hand in the negotiations, which might indirectly affect his recently concluded agreement with Senator Lubersac.

Aside from the obvious determination to see Belgium protected by ample guarantees for the German Treasury bills, M. Bemelmans is also keenly desirous of accomplishing a smooth and early adjustment of the negotiations because he believes them to be an important forerunner of the forthcoming conference at Brussels, at which the reparations question is likely to receive a thorough overhauling.

The Belgian negotiator expressed the conviction that if the bulk of what he termed "the partisan animosities," which interfered with previous conferences and negotiations, were definitely removed in time for the Brussels meeting it would in all probability offer the United States an incentive for active participation.

To this extent he believed it was to Germany's advantage to accelerate the present negotiations for a limited issue of Treasury bills, especially as there are fair prospects at hand that her reparations burden will be revised before the prospective issue of 270,000,000 matures.

Stinnes Agreement Explained.

PARIS, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Senator de Lubersac, explaining in Le Journal his arrangement with Hugo Stinnes, German financier, for reconstruction work in the former battle zone, said it was thought best to make as much use as possible of German labor. The effect of having too many German workers in the devastated regions, however, was feared and by the arrangement adopted the greater part of that labor would be utilized in Germany.

As regards the commission of six per cent to be paid the German manufacturers, he considered it better to publish the amount of the commission lest it be said these were concealed profits of twenty or thirty per cent, in which respect he was in agreement with the French contractors, builders and architects federations. Marquis de Lubersac added that he believed Herr Stinnes firmly intended to observe all the clauses of the contract scrupulously.

M. Reibel, Minister of Liberated Regions, asked by the Echo de Paris for his opinion of the agreement, said:

"I am waiting to see Germany at work. It is quite certain that if Herr Stinnes and the great German manufacturers begin to understand that it is to their interest as well that their country is finally to emerge from the situation created by the non-payment of reparations, the cessation between the two countries is bound to relax to the profit of France and Germany alike.

"For what do we ask? The restoration of our ruins and the payment of what is owing us. Without which France and the French people cannot recover. What more can I say? No one can reproach France with not having offered Germany all the methods of payment her economic resources permit. It is for Germany to prove her willingness."

GERMANY PREPARES FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Sudden Change in Industry Is Indicated—Mark Famine Continues.

By CYRIL BROWN.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—The first ominous signs of onrushing unemployment are appearing in the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region. The hitherto almost negligible local unemployment figures have taken a sudden spurt. Still more ominous are measures being earnestly discussed and concerted in offices of big and little concerns reminiscent of the prudent mariner taking in sail and leashing everything movable down on deck preparatory to weathering a storm. A significant migration of labor, too, is reported.

For many months past there has been a building boom throughout Germany, so that many thousands of miners sought pleasanter and more lucrative work in building trades, causing a mine labor shortage. These miners are now eagerly returning to the mines. New building has come to a sudden standstill in the industrial regions. New building plans are being shelved and in many cases new buildings already under construction are being left unfinished.

In Berlin and throughout Germany the grotesque money shortage continues. The Reichsbank says it is not its fault, because people could foresee that the demand for paper marks would leap from 500,000,000 to 4,000,000,000 daily. The Reichsbank promises a daily output of 4,000,000,000 new paper marks from Oct. 1. Likewise it announces it is working on plans for a new 100,000 mark note, to be issued in December to relieve "the end of the year" financial pressure.

As the principal cause of the money shortage the Reichsbank mentions the fact that for the past three weeks the circulation of money has been at a practical standstill. Paper money has not poured or even filtered back into the Reichsbank during the three weeks past. The reason for the failure for money to flow back to the Reichsbank and German banks in general is seen in the hoarding of paper money and in excessive purchases by the public inspired by the fear that the mark would continue rapidly to depreciate and therefore eager to exchange its paper marks for concrete goods values. Both hoarding and fear purchases were started and aggravated by the last tremendous fall of the mark.

The mark enjoyed a remarkably erratic day on the Bourse today, indicating a change from the past days' optimism. Opening around 1,300 to the dollar, the mark quickly rose to 1,225, then slid back as quickly to 1,300, thence further to 1,350 late in the evening.

Customers' Sentiments

The customer's viewpoint is always interesting so we'll let one of our old friends write this advertisement.

"Do you know," he said, the other day when he came in for his annual Oxfords, "before I started wearing Dr. Reed Cushion Shoes I had some sort of confounded idea that they were expensive. It was only when I reached the point that I wanted comfort at any price that I first came here. Then I found that they didn't cost as much as I had expected to pay. And after I'd worn them a while I learned they were mighty inexpensive. They wore extremely well, they held their shape, always looked good and comfortable—you can't beat 'em."

Those are our sentiments too.

COMES TO AID GIRL WHO TRIED SUICIDE

Mother of Irene Harrison of Chorus Here to Take Daughter Back to Detroit.

CHUM'S MOTHER HERE, TOO

Patient Who Took Poison Now Denies That She Confessed Being a Drug Addict.

Mrs. Marie Harrison arrived from Detroit yesterday to take back home her daughter, Irene—stage name Donnie—who attempted suicide on last Tuesday after leaving a note confessing that she was a drug addict and that she was too weak to make good at anything. The girl, who is recovering rapidly in Bellevue Hospital, soon will be able to travel, but the mother admitted that her daughter was "willful" and might refuse to leave the city which the mother blames for the girl's troubles. The mother of "Bunny" Dorel, Miss Harrison's chum, also has come here to take her daughter home. She, too, dilated yesterday on the pitfalls which beset chorus girls in the metropolis. Mrs. Dorel said that if her daughter would not stay at home she would move to New York to chaperone her.

As she grew stronger yesterday, Miss Harrison recanted on her confession of being a drug addict. She said there had been nothing of that sort in her "last" letter to her mother, but that she was a magazine writer in a small way under noms de plume and had left many fragments of impressionistic sketches lying on her desk. She believed that one of these might in some fashion have become incorporated in the letter to her mother before it was published. Dr. Carleton Simon, in charge of narcotic work for the Police Department corroborated the girl to the extent of saying that in his examination of her he had found no symptoms of drug addiction.

The mother and the girl did not agree on the motive for her attempt to kill herself. Mrs. Harrison said that Donnie had received jewels worth $4,000 from Arthur Rosenbaum of 42 West Forty-sixth Street, with whom she several times had broken an engagement to marry. While visiting in Detroit last month, said Mrs. Harrison, Donnie lost the jewels. Possibly it was in a state of depression due to that loss that the girl had tried to take her own life.

Donnie scoffed at that. Said she:

"There was no motive. Can't you conceive of a person being just tired? Truth is stranger than fiction, I guess, for I was simply deadly weary. But I'm beginning to believe there is some sort of God, for I took twice what physicians say is a death dose, and I lived. Perhaps, for better or worse, I'm destined to live."

A man and woman who visited Donnie yesterday were described as well-to-do persons whose protégée she had been. It was said in her behalf that she was variously talented and had taken drawing lessons from Harrison Fisher. Her benefactors, it was explained, wanted to remain incognito.

The convalescent girl displayed anxiety as to the welfare of her pet Pekingese, Oscar. The dog is being cared for pending her discharge from the hospital.

TWO DIE IN AUTO STRUCK BY TRAIN

Another Is Injured in Accident at a Private Crossing in Rockaway, N. J.

Three persons were killed and three injured in automobile accidents in New York City and vicinity yesterday.

Four employes of the International High Speed Steel Company of Rockaway, N. J., were in an automobile which was struck by a Lackawanna train at a private crossing of the company. Lawrence Donahue of Rockaway, N. J., and William Ryan of Middletown, N. J., were killed. Theodore Longcore of Mount Tabor, owner and driver of the car, was badly cut and bruised. Michael Ryan, brother of one of the dead men, jumped to safety.

The train which struck the automobile was ten minutes late and it is believed that those in the automobile thought they were safe in negotiating the crossing. The car was tossed fifty feet. Donahue leaves a wife and three children and Ryan a wife and one child.

Mrs. Julia Tolak, 42 years old, of 449 East Sixty-fourth Street, was struck by an automobile at First Avenue and Fifty-first Street last night and was dead when she reached Flower Hospital. She was hit by a car driven by Harry Reiner of 166 East 102d Street, who took her to the hospital. Reiner was locked up on a technical charge of homicide.

Edna May Sperl, who said she was a motion picture actress of Hollywood, Cal., while driving an automobile on Jefferson Avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday knocked down and injured Harold Teitelbaum, 5 years old, of 338 Sumner Avenue, and Samuel Greenspan, 5 years old, of 472 Jefferson Avenue. The latter was taken to St. John's Hospital with possible internal injuries. The other boy was slightly bruised and went home. Miss Sperl was not arrested.

CRITICISES REFEREES.

Cropsey Says Legislature Should Bar Officials in Private Practice.

Justice James C. Cropsey of the Brooklyn Supreme Court yesterday ordered a $5,000 fee for Hugo Hirsh, counsel for the Knickerbocker Ice Company in condemnation proceedings brought by the city to acquire property at Gravesend Bay for a canal, and criticised official referees who he said engaged in private law practice.

Mr. Hirsh asked $10,000 for services covering a period of three months. This amount was approved by Herbert T. Ketcham, the referee who heard the testimony. The City, which has to pay the bill, said the fee should be only $2,500.

The Corporation Counsel charged that Mr. Ketcham approved the $10,000 fee because he had sought to obtain a large fee in litigation in which he had engaged as attorney.

Justice Cropsey added: "It is unfortunate that any referee should fail to appreciate the impropriety of acting as attorney in any other matter while receiving pay from the taxpayers as referee. No man is compelled to become a referee.

"If the practice is not discontinued, the Legislature should restrict those who would become or remain official referees from practicing as attorneys."

Organizes Race for Small Planes.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The newspaper Petit Parisien announces that it is organizing a race for small airplanes, the weight of which must not exceed 200 kilograms (440 pounds) with ten-horsepower motors, to be flown over a course of 300 miles next May. The paper offers three prizes, of one hundred thousand, twenty thousand and five thousand francs respectively.

Kipling Blasts America As Soulless After War

"America has got the gold of the world, but WE have saved our souls! Do you think that any one of us who have fought the war—who have lost children in the war—would change with one of them, for all their happiness and prosperity?"

So said Rudyard Kipling in a talk with Clare Sheridan, special European staff correspondent of THE WORLD, who is doing a brilliant series on the humanities of Europe in war's aftermath. The Kipling interview will appear on Sunday, Sept. 10, in the first article of Mrs. Sheridan's forthcoming series. The other striking articles will be printed daily thereafter.

WOUND SHOUTING GROCER

Send Three Bullets at Him, Two of Which Take Effect—Flee in Taxi.

Into the little shop that Morris Binder keeps at 551 West Fifty-seventh Street to supply sailors with such necessities and comforts as shoe laces, tobacco and candy, stepped two young men at 7:30 last night.

Both were poorly dressed and Binder became somewhat uneasy at their manner of approach, but took heart when he noticed that while one wore the "cap pulled low over his eyes," which marks the raiding crook, the other was crowned with a soft felt hat, which did not conceal his features.

Unhappily for the shopkeeper, he relied too much on the popular conception of criminal attire, for when he took a second glance at him of the felt hat he noticed that the visitor was pointing at him a very real looking automatic pistol. Binder's faint suspicion of the young fellow in the cap was fully justified, for he, too, leveled an automatic.

Thereafter it took Binder but a moment to stand and deliver according to orders. While one youth held him up, the second took from the cash register $30 in American money and a collection of French, Spanish, Italian and other foreign coins and paper worth, at current exchange, about $10.

With the cash register emptied, the intruders walked leisurely to the street, entered a taxicab without license plates and disappeared.

Detectives of the West Forty-seventh Street station began a hunt for them. Had they chanced to lie in wait two blocks south of the scene of the robbery they would have been rewarded, for within a half hour the same pair, alighting from their taxi, entered Andrew Karscher's grocery at 644 West Forty-fifth Street.

Their command to Karsher to put up his hands so excited the Austrian grocer that he began to shout. Karcher's shouts made the raiders so nervous that both fired, one bullet piercing both of Karcher's legs, a second going wild and a third wounding the grocer in the abdomen.

An automobile took Karcher to Roosevelt Hospital, painfully but not dangerously hurt. His goods were untouched. The detectives took up the new scent of the thugs.

Dier Trial Set for Sept. 18.

Elmore D. Dier, head of E. D. Dier & Co. of 42 New Street, the brokerage firm which failed last February with liabilities of approximately $5,000,000 will be called for trial before Judge Johnston in General Sessions on Sept. 18 next on 16 indictments charging him with grand larceny and bucketing. The trials of Harry J. Lawrence and Harry Recklein, associated with Dier were set for the same date.

BROADWAY CROWDS SEE THRILLING RAID

man in shirt sleeves who menaced them with a knife. The two agents flung themselves at once upon the man. He cut back with his weapon and used fist and foot. For a moment the battle raged around the door, sometimes into the room and sometimes receding back into the hall.

Scared faces appeared at doors near by as other guests startled by the racket peered out. Then the agents brought their blackjacks into play, and the fight ended. Moog and Burke took their prisoner downstairs, and he proved to be Rogers, one of the men they were most anxious to get.

In the meantime, downstairs the trapped guests begged and argued with the raiders to allow them to leave. They were all referred to the two assistant attorneys, who compelled them to identify themselves and submit proofs of their occupations.

Actresses in the Trap.

Some of those thus trapped were actresses, who pleaded evening engagements at theatres. Other means of identification failing them for the moment, they were compelled to call the playhouses at which they had to appear.

Outside the crowd that had gathered became hard to handle. The yells and cries within the building caused the wildest rumors, and the grim-faced men who guarded the outside of the premises had all they could do to keep the thousands from breaking through the dead-line. Mounted police were called to handle the throng and after a time succeeded in reducing the crowd to a semblance of order.

The Longacre Hotel is a ten-story building with 200 rooms and it was some time before the agents had completed their search of the entire building. Those who were arrested were taken downstairs and given in charge of a special squad of men stationed in a parlor off the lobby. Here also the drugs and liquor which the agents said that they found were taken. It was 9:45 before the raiders were ready to leave the premises. Then they withdrew the cordon as suddenly as it had been established and rushed prisoners and drugs to Police Headquarters by automobile.

While the excitement was at its height, two agents darted from the hotel through the crowds on the street to a soda water store directly opposite the hotel. They had learned that two of the men they sought were in this place. In a minute or two they re-entered the Longacre, taking with them Thomas Anderson, hotel valet, and Charles Burns, a guest of the hotel, who said he was a vaudeville actor.

Other men arrested were Irving Landauer, acting manager of the Longacre; Abraham Rosen, one of the clerks, living at 252 Riverside Drive; Rogers Travis, Ivan Liang and Frank Cooper, negro bell boys at the Longacre.

Drugs Found in Rooms.

According to the agents, the amount of drugs seized, while large, was not remarkable, considering the importance of the raid. However, heroin, opium and cocaine were found hidden in a number of the rooms, it was alleged. Several cases of whisky were also discovered. The agents say that the Longacre was the headquarters for a ring that operated not only in New York but throughout the country.

Rogers, according to the agents, was the leader, and during last Winter directed operations which took in all the big Winter Resorts in the South. So far as this city was concerned, it was said that the Longacre was the central distributing point for the White Light district. Guests at the hotel were given an address at which they could get drugs by Landauer or some of the employes of the place. The price charged, it was said, was about $20 a half ounce. In addition to the drugs, it was said that the raid yielded a quantity of hypodermic needles, "cooking stoves" and other paraphernalia of the drug addict. The agents said that they found $5,000 worth of drugs behind the clerk's desk.

CHARGES TERRORISM TO RUSSIAN PRELATE

Church Member Names Ex-Archbishop Here in Claim for Balance on Alleged Loan.

FORMER DEAN IS INVOLVED

Accusations to Be Heard by Referee —Denials Made by the Defendants.

Charges that former high officials of the Russian Greek Catholic Church here got money from a member of the church by representing that the church was conducting a bank, and then instigated a display of terrorism in Russia during the late war to enforce the signing of a release of all claims against the church, in the course of which two children of the church member were killed, were submitted yesterday to Supreme Court Justice O'Malley.

The court heard an application by Platon Rodjesvensky, former Archbishop of the North American Diocese of the Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church, with headquarters at the cathedral in East Ninety-seventh Street, to dismiss a suit by John Dudikoff, member of the church, to recover a balance of $7,480 alleged to be due for moneys obtained from him by Archbishop Rodjesvensky and other church officials here in 1914. Dudikoff filed suit recently, alleging that he has just learned that the church dignitaries got his money by false pretenses, and named Alexander Nemelovsky, one-time dean of the Cathedral of St. Nicholas in East Ninety-seventh Street, as one of the defendants.

The former Archbishop contends that Dudikoff signed releases of all claims against him and the Church in Russia several years ago, and for that reason he demanded that the court dismiss the suit on the evidence presented, including alleged copies of the releases. The story told by Dudikoff as to the manner in which the releases were obtained caused Justice O'Malley to appoint a referee to hear the case and report to the court as to the evidence submitted to him.

Former Archbishop Rodjesvensky, who is now in this country, but whose official title is Metropolitan of Kherson, denies that he got the money from Dudikoff, and says that the Church records do not show the transaction. He says he never saw Dudikoff until he met him in Russia in 1917, when Dudikoff demanded the payment of $2,800 Dudikoff said he advanced to the Church as a loan.

NUTS POISON 9 BOYS; FIVE IN A HOSPITAL

Find Them on 'Jinson' Tree in Franz Sigel Park—All Expected to Recover.

Five of nine children poisoned by eating nuts they had gathered from a tree in the Franz Sigel Park, Mott Avenue and 156th Street, were in the Lincoln Hospital last night, and the others, who are not so seriously affected, were under the care of physicians at their homes. The hospital patients are John Nittora, 6, and his brother, Armando, 8; Pasquale Russo, 5; Vincenzo Caruso, 2, and Louis Ferrato, all of 235 East 150th Street, the Bronx. Although the two brothers are more affected by the poison than their companions, the house physician said last night that all of the patients probably would recover.

Investigation by the hospital physicians showed that the nuts contained atrophine poison. The nuts are about the size of a horse-chestnut, with a shell about one-quarter of an inch thick. The children in the hospital, with one exception, are those who swallowed the largest quantity of the nuts. George Giardiello of 232 East 150th Street, father of another victim, saved his son's life by administering an emetic. Giardiello was familiar with the same kind of tree in Italy, and recognizing its nature from a nut carried by his son when he collapsed, he acted promptly.

According to the physicians, this poison comes from a tree known as a thorn apple, or jinson tree, which has been common in many sections of the Bronx for years. Medical remedies are made from the nuts, and the drug is used in the treatment of violent alcoholic cases—to "quiet drunks," as a physician expressed it.

Park Commissioner Hennessy of the Bronx will have warning signs put up in the parks where these trees are to be found, and, in the event this fails to protect visitors, the trees will either be enclosed with protective fences or destroyed. Several years ago similar poisoning cases of children were called to the attention of the Fordham Hospital authorities. In those cases the nuts were eaten from trees on the streets, which were afterward cut down.

SWINDLE ATTEMPT FOILED.

"Messenger" Tries to Collect $15 Pledged for Political Outing.

The alertness of John A. Kenny, head of the Kenny Agency, Inc., 80 Maiden Lane, yesterday foiled the attempt of a swindler to obtain $15 from the firm on false pretenses. Speedy action by the swindler foiled an attempt to capture either him or any possible confederate.

Yesterday morning Mr. Kenny received a telephone call from a man who said he was Daniel F. O'Connor, a Democratic political leader. "O'Connor" said that the first ward Democratic Club was having an outing and would appreciate a donation of $15.

"Al Smith, Foley and myself as well as others are all contributing," said "O'Connor," "and we are trying to raise a bit more through the insurance and other business people."

Mr. Kenny said he would donate $15.

During the afternoon a somewhat frayed individual presented a note to Mr. Kenny at his office containing a stamped receipt for $15 and the card of "Daniel F. O'Connor." Suspicious, Mr. Kenny questioned the messenger, who said he was acting for a man he had met at the Battery who had hired the messenger for $2.

Mr. Kenny gave the messenger an envelope stuffed with blank paper and addressed to "Mr. O'Connor." When the messenger left, one of Mr. Kenny's friends trailed along behind. The swindler sauntered until he was out in the street. Then, before his pursuer could even look around, the swindler had darted into the crowd, up the street and around the corner and vanished.

Some staggering constipation facts; Know how Kellogg's Bran can help you!

A very large percentage of people suffer with constipation! Constipation is the direct cause of breakdowns in old age, lowered vitality and a large percentage of illness!

Do you realize that nearly every case of constipation is traceable to neglect in answering nature's call? In a few years the sufferer has "latent constipation"—the most dangerous form of all! Toxic poisons penetrate the intestine walls, polluting the blood, which in turn poisons and affects every organ in the body. Many cases of diabetes and Bright's disease can be traced to constipation or intestinal poisoning, as can most rheumatism, headache, brain fag, hardening of arteries and other organic diseases.

Pills and cathartics can never afford you permanent relief. What you need is nature's most wonderful roughage—BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—and delicious in flavor and edibility! Bran will permanently relieve constipation when taken regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in severe cases, with every meal! Your doctor will indorse Kellogg's Bran for constipation!

Kellogg's Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies the eliminative tract as nothing else can—and, being a nature food, it creates no habit. Bran's work is a revelation!

Serve Kellogg's Bran to the entire family as a cereal, with other cereals or in countless appetizing ways such as in muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, etc. Recipes on every package.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

P. S.—Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, will clear up a pimply complexion.

FEDERAL INQUIRY INTO WAR HOSPITAL

Col. Forbes Accedes to Demand for Investigation of Alleged Abuse of Veterans.

TRY ACCUSED IN U. S. COURT

Government Attorney Finds He Has Jurisdiction Over Two Attendants.

A promise from Washington of an official investigation of United States Veterans' Hospital 81 for Insane Cases, the Bronx, and the decision of the local United States District Attorney to prosecute the two attendants accused of assaulting a patient here, were yesterday's developments in the New York State American Legion's fight to have conditions in the hospital examined and remedied.

"Have arranged for investigation of Veterans' Hospital," was the telegram received by State Legion Commander William F. Deegan from Director Charles R. Forbes of the United States Veterans' Bureau in Washington. Mr. Deegan then told reporters that he would insist that the hearings to be held be open to the press, since "to conduct the investigation behind closed doors would be catastrophical."

Congressman Albert E. Rosedale, in whose district Hospital 81 is, and who has also been looking into conditions there, said that he had already written to Director Forbes suggesting that a representative of the New York State American Legion, preferably Commander Deegan, be on the examining committee.

Dr. A. P. Chronquest, head of Hospital 81, was exonerated from all blame for conditions at the hospital in a letter sent by Mr. Deegan last evening to the Veterans' Bureau in Washington.

Timothy J. Lucci and Harry J. Morgan, the ward attendants charged with assaulting Nicholas B. Samson, a patient, will be arrested by a United States Marshal following their arraignment in the West Farms Court this morning, it was announced by Assistant District Attorney John K. Joyce. Having determined that the Federal Government has jurisdiction in crimes committed at hospitals on property ceded to it, Mr. Joyce said that he would lodge a complaint for assault against Lucci and Morgan. They will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Samuel M. Hitchcock in the Federal Building today.

Congressman Rosedale charged Dr. G. F. Brewster, executive officer of Hospital 81, yesterday with having instructed ward attendants "to use violence with patients giving any trouble, and to call all the help needed if one attendant is not enough." The accusation, said Mr. Rosedale, was based on affidavits from Samuel Ury, 323 Beekman Avenue, Brooklyn, a former patient at the institution, and James A. Dunn, 87 South Tenth Street, Brooklyn, a former attendant, stating that they had overheard Dr. Brewster giving these instructions to attendants. Both men are being treated for stomach trouble at the Brooklyn Naval Hospital.

"Utterly ridiculous—a malicious falsehood," said Dr. Brewster when told of these statements.

SAYS GANNA WALSKA USED RIVAL'S FAME

Luella Melius, Coloratura, Seeks Injunction to Retain Services of Manager.

An injunction to restrain Ganna Walska McCormick, wife of Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, from appearing on the concert stage under the direction of George Jules Dalber, was applied for in the Federal Court yesterday by Luella Melius, coloratura soprano, shortly after she stepped off the steamship Homeric.

In her application, filed through George Wolf and Abner Sherat of 217 Broadway, Mrs. Melius, wife of W. F. Melhuish, a broker, alleges that Dalber has violated his agreement with her and has arranged to guide the concert stage destiny of Mrs. McCormick. Her agreement with Dalber, whose address is the Metropolitan Opera House Building, according to Mrs. Melius, binds Dalber not to manage "any other female vocal artist" during a period of three years beginning May 19, 1921.

Despite the agreement Dalber, since last May, has failed to provide her with engagements, the plaintiff asserts, and since last May has entered into an arrangement with Harold F. McCormick and his wife, both joined as defendants with Dalber, whereby the manager agreed to act as manager for Mrs. McCormick and to secure for her engagements on the concert stage. The agreement between Dalber and the McCormicks, says Mrs. Melius, was made by all parties with a full knowledge of the agreement between the plaintiff and the defendant Dalber.

The agreement, Mrs. Melius charges, "was made for the purpose of enabling the defendant, Ganna Walska McCormick, to utilize and trade upon the fame and reputation earned by the complainant." Because of the action of the defendants, it is alleged, Mrs. Melius will be unable to secure the services of Dalber as manager "and has been and will be greatly damaged and injured."

In the papers Mrs. Melius is described as "a leading coloratura soprano of world-wide fame, engaged in her profession throughout the world."

Besides seeking to restrain Mrs. McCormick from appearing in professional engagements in the United States Mrs. Melius asks that the court grant her commensurate damages.

"I cannot say just now what sum the damages asked for will amount to," she said last night at the Hotel Marie Antoinette, "but it will be a large sum."

When you are looking for an apartment and find, after inspection, that the rent is more than you want to pay, your time and energy have been wasted.

And wasted unnecessarily! For you can know the rental in advance—

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE'S

gives the rental of every apartment listed

This guide, which is included with the Sunday Tribune every week during the renting season, is a comprehensive list of apartments for rent in all the boroughs of the city.

It is indexed for quick reference, according to number of rooms and location. Let it save your time—and your energy.

Send in your list of vacant apartments for publication in The Tribune's Apartment House Guide. Give in each case number of rooms, yearly rental, street number and renting agent. Corrections will be made weekly. Forms close Wednesday. Blanks for listing will be furnished on application.

New York Statistics show that whereas in 1917 there were 108,036 horses in the Metropolitan District, by 1921 there were only 65,126. "Dobbin" is passing for the simple reason that there is a better, quicker and cheaper way to deliver.

"Good-bye Dobbin!"

ANYBODY who thinks it is cheaper to make deliveries with horses and wagons can save a lot of money by reading about Corby, Shults, Ward, and Campbell bakeries; Pilgrim, Chalmette, Blakely, and Imperial laundries; the Budd Dairy Company; Hydrox Ice Cream Company, etc., and then doing as they have done.

The Corby Baking Company ought to know something about horse-and-wagon delivery. They were operating nearly 100 horse routes. Then they put on 15 Ward Electrics in one plant and got a comparison between the two methods. They got right down to the bottom of their delivery costs and analyzed their routes—we worked with them on it—and today they know that Ward Electric delivery is cheaper, quicker and better. That's why they have just ordered 90 more Ward Electric Trucks—and that lets "Dobbin" out entirely.

Then there's the Shults Baking Co. of Brooklyn. They had hundreds of horse routes. They, too, put on a few Ward Electrics and then a few more. The more they bought the better they liked them. Soon they had 84. Now they have placed orders bringing the total up to 134 Ward Electrics. "Dobbin" is losing ground rapidly!

Consumers of Kansas City said "Good-bye, Dobbin" long ago and today they operate 83 Ward Electrics.

Mills of Detroit has 84 Ward Electrics. The Campbell Bakeries have over 100. The combined Ward Bakeries have bought nearly a thousand.

Then there is the Pilgrim Laundry of Brooklyn. They have 38 Ward Electrics and not a single horse. Their delivery costs are low enough to make any laundry owner sit up and take notice.

The Chalmette Laundry Co., of New Orleans, also were friends of "Dobbin" for years, but today they say their 47 Ward Electrics have saved them probably $50,000. Good Night, "Dobbin"!

The Imperial Laundry of Newark operates 29 Ward Electrics. The Blakely Laundry of Trenton has 11. The Louttit Laundry of Providence has 25. The Royal Hand Laundry of Pittsburgh 27 (Pittsburgh is supposed to be hilly).

Then there is the Budd Dairy Company, Columbus, O., using electrics in house-to-house milk delivery. Horse advocates have claimed for years that trucks could never replace the horse on house-to-house delivery because "horses know the routes." Mr. Budd made a stop watch test—Ward Electrics against horses "that knew the routes." Ward Electrics saved 1¾ hours over horses on long routes and 15 minutes on short trips, and then on top of that saved money.

Today the Budd Dairy Company has 17 Ward Electrics and are saying "Good-bye, Dobbin!"

The Hydrox Ice Cream Co., having said "Good-bye, Dobbin!" has bought 19 Ward Electrics in the last 18 months.

You know the small profit on such things as a loaf of bread, a package of laundry, a quart of milk or ice cream, and you know that the entire output of a bakery, for instance, has to be moved every 24 hours, no matter what the weather.

Isn't it reasonable to suppose that the vehicle that has made good in these difficult fields can make good for you?

Out of every dollar taken in by the average user of horses and wagons in the bakery, laundry, dairy, ice cream and trucking fields, from 18% to 25% and in many cases 20% to 30% goes back into the 40 separate items you have to figure if you want to find out the total cost of horse-and-wagon delivery.

You can save 20% to 35% of your vehicle costs by using Ward Electrics in place of "Dobbin".

Your Ward Electric drivers can do more work—make more money for you—because Ward Electrics cover the routes faster.

You can store and charge Ward Electrics right at your loading platform—there is no odor, no dirt, no fire risk—greatly decreasing stable expense or doing away with it.

"Dobbin's" average life in frequent-stop city service is 5 to 6 years. Ward Electrics are built to last more than 10 years and to run almost as economically in the 12th or 15th year as in the first and second.

Blame "Dobbin" for his share of your high overhead and look into Ward Electrics. The saving may be equivalent to 1%, 2% or 3% of your gross business per year.

Ward Electric Trucks are made right here in New York, saving you freight, and insuring you factory service by telephone. Six chassis sizes from 750 lbs. to 5 tons.

Our book "Facing the Facts in Delivery," our reduced prices, our 21 months' payment plan and our Money-Back Offer will be sent on request.

Siwanoy Golfer Puts Out Title Holder in Amateur Championship at Brookline.

Rudy Knepper Plays Another Great Match to Win From Last of British Invaders.

Special to The New York Times.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 7.—"The King is dead; long live the King!" Jesse P. Guilford, member of the Woodland Club, the "siege gun" of American golf and the national amateur champion, was shorn of his laurels today in the third round of the championship tourney at the Country Club.

Passing out of the 1922 event in his company went the last of the Britons, Cyril J. H. Tolley, winner of the British amateur title at Muirfield two years ago, when he defeated Bob Gardner of America on the thirty-seventh green. The conquerors of both Guilford and Tolley were two members of the younger school of the royal and ancient game on this side of the water, a school whose graduates have made their presence felt in a greater degree this year than ever before in the history of the game.

All honors to Jess Sweetser of Siwanoy, the metropolitan district champion, and to Rudy Knepper of Sioux City, Iowa, the Iowa State titleholder and the Trans-Mississippi ruler as well. It was Sweetser who downed Guilford, the stoical national champion, and it was Knepper who removed the stolid Tolley, sole survivor of the representatives of the British lion.

With Guilford and Tolley gone there remains only a single member of golf's championship class, Chick Evans of Chicago, national champion in 1916 and again in 1920, and open champion in 1916, the only time on record that a golfer held both titles in the same year. Evans defeated Frank Godchaux of New Orleans, runner-up to Jones in the Southern amateur, and thus becomes a semi-finalist for his ninth time.

Two Great Semi-Finals.

The other semi-finalist is Robert Jones Jr. of Atlanta, who, while long battering away at the ramparts of golf fame, has yet to capture his first championship of note. Jones's victory was gained at the expense of William F. McPhail, a local player. As a result of the way things went today two semi-final battles of equal rank with those of last year at St. Louis are promised for tomorrow, when Sweetzer tackles Jones in an East versus South match and when those two old-standing Western rivals, Evans and Knepper, renew links acquaintance.

Sweetser, who would have received his degree at Yale last Spring had he not withdrawn in midyear, fairly toyed with the champion, winning almost as he pleased, although the engagement went to the thirty-third hole of the match and the fifteenth hole of the afternoon for a decision, the hitting place of two others, the Jones-McPhail encounter and the Evans-Godchaux battle, making the three margins, 4 and 3.

The Knepper-Tolley engagement carried on to the home green for settlement and gave the gallery, which had been quartered in interest, an opportunity to roll in one solid, seething mass which engulfed the green and sent up a paean of joy as they never say die. The Princeton senior clinched matters through a fine iron second and a perfectly hit approach putt that nearly dropped. Tolley, one down and just off the left-hand side of the green, made a typical British fight for his life, but his chip shot took a look at the cup and passed on its way, carrying his hopes with it.

The defeat of Guilford by Sweetser was a bitter blow for the Bostonians, who were complacently confident that their fellow townsman was destined to join the ranks of those few who have been successful in defending their honors. But, after the first few holes in the morning, the final result was inevitable.

Going to the eleventh hole the match was all square, neither player ever being more than a single hole away from his opponent. The golf, up to this point, was far below the standard of either player. Then the pendulum swung Guilford's way for two holes, the eleventh and twelfth, and he was 2 up on the Metropolitan star, who at that point gave every outward indication of being on the verge of a collapse. With a win in sight at the thirteenth Guilford missed a 2-foot putt, one of his many putting errors up to this point and beyond, giving Sweetzer an undeserved half.

A poor second and a poorer approach enabled Sweetzer to get another half at the fourteenth. That was the last opportunity that Sweetzer asked for. From then on he was a changed golfer, an unbeatable golfer. For the next three holes he was 3, 2, 4, 3, three birdies and one par and from being 2 down at the fourteenth he was one up when the morning round was finished.

Guilford had a chance to square the match at the first hole in the afternoon round, but again he missed a short putt. At the next, after Sweetzer's approach overran the green, Guilford, having hit a tremendous tee shot, lost his advantage through a miserable approach.

Guilford's Chances Lost.

From that point on Guilford's chances went glimmering. Sweetzer became 2 up by winning the third through a great second. He became 3 up by sinking a six-foot putt for a birdie 3 at the fourth and he was four up after the fifth was played, holing out a chip shot from the top of a trap several yards away from the cup.

This was the last straw for Guilford. Generally deadly with his putter, the champion missed an 18-inch putt for a win at the sixth, and he followed that by missing another at the seventh and two holes later he presented Sweetzer with a hole by knocking the metropolitan champion's ball into the cup in trying to slip past a stymie.

Guilford 5 down going to the eleventh, missed another short putt, and, although he managed to win the thirteenth and fourteenth, gave up the fight at the fifteenth, where Sweetzer laid him a dead stymie, which he tried to negotiate with a mashie, but failed.

It was a crushing defeat for a player of Guilford's calibre. But it was a defeat at the hands of a youngster who possesses not only the shots necessary to win championships, but an iron will to win. Sweetzer traded wood for wood with one of the mightiest hitters that the game has ever known, and, after a poor start in the morning, he completely outplayed the Boston star in every department of the game.

Guilford no doubt contributed to his downfall through his erratic driving and his mediocre work on the greens and from just off the edge, his forte, but whether he would have defeated the metropolitan star even had he been at his best is a question, for Sweetzer's morning round, even despite his shaky and uncertain start, was 78, while he clashed the first nine holes in the afternoon in one under par figures.

The match that held the most thrills was that between Tolley and Knepper, and its finish was dramatic. The former British champion really lost the match on the first nine holes in the morning round, when he required 44 to the turn and was 3 down. After winning the tenth with a par 4, he had two bad holes, the eleventh and twelfth, where he took a 6 and a 5 on holes whose pars are 5 and 3. Then there came a break which, for a time at least, threatened to bring about the downfall of the young Kewan, when for it was to crush two of the British invaders.

After the second shots had been played there was every indication that Tolley was doomed to lose the hole, which would have put him 2 down. Knepper was on the green, some thirty-five feet from the pin, while Tolley was in the rough to the left, faced with an almost impossible approach shot. But after Knepper just failed to get down his putt for a 3 Tolley pitched his ball up, and it landed on the downward slope of the green and trickled into the cup.

Having thus tricked fate, Tolley proceeded to win the next two holes, squaring the match. At the fourteenth he made a fine recovery from the rough to within eight feet of the cup and holed and at the next he had two fine shots that reached the green, while Knepper, lugging the woods on his drive, hit a tree on his second, deflecting the ball out into the fairway from which he had to take another shot to get home. The next two holes were halved, Knepper just escaping stymieing himself by a poor approach putt at the seventeenth, but getting his 4. Knepper played the home hole perfectly, his second landing just short of the pin, from where he holed out the putt for a birdie 3.

As in the morning, Tolley began poorly in the afternoon, losing the first two holes and giving Knepper a five-hole lead by taking a 5 at the 265-yard sixth. Once more the British star rallied. After Knepper had hit a beautiful iron that stopped dead four feet away from the pin at the seventh green, Tolley outdid it with a superb shot that almost hit the cup, leaving him less than four inches away for an easy 2 and a win when Knepper missed.

Tolley also won the tenth, becoming only 2 down, and so matters stood as they started for the thirteenth hole, which had been the turning point in the morning. The British star sliced badly and his ball was caught in a trap at the right of the fairway, from where he did well to get it out. His third, however, from 150 yards away, landed within six feet of the pin, and he holed it for what proved to be a win when Knepper missed a four-footer.

This left him only 2 down with five holes to play. Knepper lost the fourteenth when his ball, badly hooked, ended up in an unplayable lie against a stone fence. The Iowan made one attempt to get it out but failed and conceded the hole.

Another bad break came for Tolley at the fifteenth, when Knepper's sliced tee shot, headed for trouble, hit a spectator and dropped back onto the fairway. Had it not been for this rather fortunate (for him, not the spectator) occurrence, Knepper probably would have been far in the rough and cut off from any possible hope of reaching the green on his second. As it was, he was almost as well off as was Tolley, who had hit a tremendous drive that carried across the road, which is the extreme boundary for the majority of players. Knepper, inside Tolley on the green, then proceeded to get down a 30-footer for a winning 3, putting him 2 up.

They halved the sixteenth in 3s and then Knepper lost the seventeenth when his approach faded off and dorpped into a trap. He tried to scoop it out but failed. He failed on his next attempt and picked up. Faced with the grim spectre of possible failure if he faltered, the Princetonian then showed his mettle by sending his second straight for the home green.

Tolley followed with a shot that was sliced a trifle to the left of the green and then made his last bid. His chip shot started for the hole, ran squarely over and stopped four feet past. After Knepper had putted up close for a four, Tolley tried to hole but missed, picked up both balls, and congratulated his opponent.

The ovation given Tolley was almost as great as that accorded Knepper, for the Englishman has installed himself as a great favorite by his thoroughbred sportsmanship during the tournament.

For the second time since the match play program started Bobby Jones found himself opposed by a comparative unknown in the realm of titular golf and forced to go the limit to win. On the opening day it was J. J. Beadle, a public links golfer from Philadelphia. Today it was William F. McPhail, a local player who, while a far better than average golfer, is not rated in the same class with Jones, Guilford, Evans, Oulmet and others.

Ordinarily an 80 player, McPhail this morning slipped around the course in 76, a stroke less than Jones, and had the young Atlantan all even for the first eighteen holes. Eighty the match stood until the seventh hole in the afternoon round, when Jones, with a par 5 at the seventh and a birdie 3 at the eighth, drew two holes ahead of the Bostonian. Not to be shaken off, however, McPhail won the ninth, and at the turn Jones was only 1 up and still struggling.

Bobby Gets An Opening.

They halved the tenth in fours. Then McPhail gave Bobby an opening by mincing up the eleventh. Bobby had sliced his second into the bank of the twelfth tee and after playing his third far over to the opposite side and still in the rough while McPhail was nicely on with his third, the Boston player presented Jones with a half by taking three putts from less than twenty feet.

Evans, who has had easy sailing on his way to the semi-finals, had little difficulty in stowing away Godchaux today. The former champion was four up at the end of the morning round with a par of 38s for each nine. After losing the second hole in the afternoon, Evans played the next seven in two under fours, getting a two at the seventh and was six up at the turn.

Godchaux made matters more interesting by staging a comeback beginning at the twelfth hole, which he won with a two. Chick lost the next and he also took the fourteenth, four to five. He clinched the match, however, at the next hole.

Roush, Reds' Star Outfielder, Draws Indefinite Suspension

CINCINNATI, Sept. 7.—Ed Roush, star outfielder of the Reds, has been indefinitely suspended for bad language to Umpire Moran in yesterday's game between the Cincinnati and St. Louis teams, a message from President John Heydler to the Cincinnati club management stated today. Roush and Moran had an argument following a decision at third base when Roush was called out as he slid into the bag on a hit into the outfield.

MEADOW BROOK IS WINNER BY 7 TO 4

Long Island Team Defeats Orange County in Semi-Final Polo Match at Rumson.

VICTORS MEET ARGENTINES

Open Polo Championship of United States to Be Contested Tomorrow Afternoon.

LINE-UP FOR TODAY'S EXHIBITION POLO MATCH.

An exhibition match will be played on the No. 2 field at the Rumson Country Club this afternoon at 4 o'clock between the Eastcott and All-Ireland fours, in which the teams will line up as follows:

EASTCOTT.
No. 1—Stephen Sanford.
No. 2—Major F. B. Hurndall.
No. 3—Earl W. Hopping.
Back, Major V. N. Lockett.

ALL-IRELAND.
No. 1—Captain W. L. A. Goulding.
No. 2—J. A. B. Trench.
No. 3—G. V. S Douglas.
Back, Captain F. A Gill.
Time of game—Eight periods of 7½ minutes each.

Special to The New York Times.

RUMSON, N. J., Sept. 7.—In a burning fast game the Meadow Brook team defeated the Orange County four, 7 to 4, today in the second semi-final match for the national open polo championship, and earned the right to cross mallets with the Argentine four in titular contest on Saturday. The contest was played on a soft field, swept by a heavy wind that made hard riding difficult and accurate passing impossible. Weather conditions and the torn turf kept the score low.

The Meadow Brook players lacked cohesion, but the spectacular driving of Devereaux Milburn, back, and Tommy Hitchcock at No. 2 made up for this. For the losers, Stevenson's defensive work was amazing at times, particularly when he broke into the Meadow Brook formation, charging at full gallop in an open field. The game was very hard ridden. The ponies were all in first-class condition, contributing to the fast pace, and making the match one of the open, free galloping kind.

Orange County jumped into the lead, but, unlike the Argentine four against Shelburne yesterday, was unable to retain it, though it made desperate attempts in the last periods, which were particularly hard ridden, the ball being fought all over the field.

Meadow Brook Reaches Form.

After the second period Meadow Brook reached form, Hitchcock and Milburn lengthening their drives, and would have scored oftener had they been able to make the ball keep its course. Von Stade usually was able to convert their passes to him in the later periods, but in the first half he missed several openings that Milburn and Hitchcock had made for him while Bacon was riding off one of the Orange horsemen.

The high type of the contest is indicated by the fact that in three of the periods neither side tallied, Meadow Brook making three of its seven goals in the last three periods. The game was fastest in the third and fourth periods, when both sides went scoreless, despite the vigor of their attacks.

Herbert Field, which had not been played on this week, being put and kept in good condition for the last semi-final and final matches, was selected for today's clash. The chilly, threatening weather continued and kept hundreds of people away, but the enthusiasts who did turn out were treated to some real polo. There was a marked contrast between the attire worn by those in the boxes and stand today and that of yesterday, furs and overcoats replacing Summer finery.

Captain Gill of the All-Ireland team tossed the ball in at 2:10 and Stevenson drove it down to Harriman, who shot the first goal of the match in two minutes of play. A half minute later Milburn backed a shot to Von Stade, who made it 1-1. After Milburn missed, Harriman got on the ball and took it down three-quarters of the field for a pretty goal, the first period ending with Orange in the lead at 2-1.

Rumsey Breaks Up Attack.

In the second period attacks by Meadow Brook were broken up by C. C. Rumsey, who stopped hard drives by Milburn and two by Von Stade for goals, which went wide. Play for most of the period was in Orange territory, but with no scoring by either team. The field, which appeared at first to be in perfect condition, became sadly cut up.

The third period opened with another attack on the Orange goal. Hitchcock got the willow from the toss-in and drove it to Von Stade, who missed, and Bacon's try went outside the posts. Orange brought the ball back from their own goal only to lose it in a scrimmage. Meadow Brook took it down again and a goal from a difficult angle by Hitchcock tied up the score. Meadow Brook took the lead twenty-four seconds later with a goal by Von Stade, and just before the end of the period Hitchcock made the score 4-2.

Like the second period, it was a hard battle up and down the field, with brilliant mallet work and hard riding off during the entire fourth period, neither team scoring. The first half of the game ended with the Long Islanders in the lead by 4-2. The Meadow Brook players were warming up, but were being given a stiff fight by the crack Orange combination, with Stevenson and Rumsey figuring prominently in defensive as well as offensive play.

Meadow Brook took it up from the toss-in at the start of the second half, but a drive by Von Stade went a foot outside. Another shot by Von Stade was wild. Rumsey carried it down, but Belmont missed a goal. Two other shots by Stevenson and Rumsey were outside, and it was the third division in which there was no scoring.

Von Stade Scores Alone.

Milburn, on the knockout in the sixth, drove to Hitchcock, who passed to Von Stade, the latter missing. The ball went back to midfield, where Von Stade recovered it and in two strokes put it through unassisted. Both Milburn and Hitchcock drove outside in shots at goal. Von Stade fouled, but Belmont missed a free drive for goal. A half-minute later Stevenson put it through, the sixth period ending with the score at 5-3.

Stevenson's free shot at goal on a called foul was stopped by Hitchcock. Stevenson recovered the ball and carried it down from midfield but missed. Hitchcock drove it up the side board, but lost it before he had a try for goal. Stevenson carried the ball down, and, after a block, recovered it and poked it through. After the Long Islanders carried it down Hitchcock missed, but Von Stade recovered it and shot a goal as the bell rang.

With the score 6 to 4 at the beginning of the eighth, both teams were fighting hard in Orange territory for three minutes, after which play shifted up to the other end. Then Hitchcock got away and with a long, straight drive scored the last goal of the match, which ended 7-4.

BURNETTS TIE WITH GOODLOVES ON LINKS

Each Pair Has Low Net Score of 72 in Father and Son Tourney at Hackensack.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Sept. 7.—Fifty pairs participated in the third annual father and son golf championship tournament of the State of New Jersey over the course of the Hackensack Golf Club today, and after the last card had been turned in it was found that there had been a tie for the chief prizes—the low net score. In order to obviate the necessity of a play-off, it was decided to split up the medals, the gold ones going to the sons, while the fathers were quite content to carry off the silver awards.

H. E. Burnett and his son, David Burnett, of the North Jersey Golf Club of Paterson, turned in a gross of 89, which, with their handicap of 17, gave them a net of 72. C. L. Goodlove and W. S. Goodlove from the Ridgewood Country Club of Ridgewood were around in 94. Their handicap of 22 also gave them a net of 72.

It was the third year in succession that the Hackensack club had entertained the golfing fathers and sons of New Jersey, and each year's tournament has proved more successful than the previous competition.

The low gross honors for the day were captured by L. W. and W. C. Domeres of the home club, who carried off the gold medals with a score of 80.

The cards of the pairs tying for first honors were as follows:

H. E. and David Burnett—

Out	6	5	4	6	4	3	5	—42
In	6	6	6	5	5	6	7	4	3	—47	—89	17	72

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 7.—The team which will represent the United States Senior Golf Association in the international match with the Canadian seniors tomorrow arrived here at noon today and after lunch went out for a practice round on the Scarboro links.

The team is composed of Andrew J. Carty, Philadelphia; Martin J. Condon, Memphis, Tenn.; Charles D. Cooke, Arcola, N. J.; Fred Hecker, New York; Hugh Heiland, Dallas, Texas; Edward J. Haas, Philadelphia; Wilson S. Kinnear, New York; Arthur V. Lee, Detroit, Mich.; Frank Presbry, New York; J. B. Prentiss, Schenectady, N. Y.; Henry S. Redfield, Hartford, Conn.; Alex R. Revell, Chicago; W. E. Truesdale, N. Y.; Otis L. Williams, New York; Frederick Smare (Captain), New York.

George S. Lyon of the Lambton Golf Club, Toronto, today won for the fifth consecutive year the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association championship.

TO DINE GOLF OFFICIALS.

British Walker Cup Players Will Be Hosts on Monday.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 7.—The members of the British Walker Cup team will give a dinner to the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association at the Hotel Biltmore, New York, on Monday night, as a token of their appreciation of the entertainment provided for them and the courtesies shown them since their arrival in America.

The British players will sail on the Aquitania on Tuesday. The U. S. G. A. officials who will attend are President J. Frederick Byers of Pittsburgh, Secretary Cornelius S. Lee of Tuxedo, Treasurer Edward S. Moore of New York, Vice President Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, Committeemen Thomas B. Payne of Atlanta, Allan D. Wilson of Philadelphia and A. D. Locke of Boston.

Rockminister Arrives Here; Will Run in Realization

Montfort Jones's fine three-year-old, Rockminister, winner of the Huron Handicap at Saratoga, in which he defeated, among others, the noted Whiskaway, arrived at John E. Madden's stable yesterday from Kentucky ready to do battle tomorrow with Bunting and Kai-Sang over the mile and five furlongs of the Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park. These three appear likely to constitute the field for the distance classic for three-year-olds. Johnson will ride Rockminister, while McAtee will have the leg up on H. P. Whitney's colt and Sande on Kai-Sang. A report that the Rancocas star had gone lame and would not be a contestant tomorrow was denied yesterday by Kai-Sang's trainer, S. C. Hildreth.

SILK TASSEL BEATS EDICT IN HANDICAP

Wins the Tomboy for Fillies at Belmont Park — Rancocas Entry Off to Poor Start.

Silk Tassel, James B. Smith's chestnut daughter of Superman, put an added seal to her stamp of high rating among the season's two-year-old fillies when she led a field of nine fast youngsters of that age and sex home in the fifth running of the Tomboy Handicap, the featured race at Belmont Park yesterday afternoon. The Rancocas Stable's Edict, packing the top weight of 126 pounds, finished second, three-parts of a length behind the winner, and the Greentree Stable's Untidy, an added starter, gave a nice performance to finish third.

The honor gained by Silk Tassel in beating Edict, which, on her Saratoga form, had been rated as the best two-year-old filly of the season, was clouded somewhat by the fact that the imps of racing misfortune dogged the footsteps of the miss from the Rancocas barn. She was away in a tangle, one of several victims of a poor start, and, later, was forced wide. When clear going loomed ahead the fleet daughter of Jim Gaffney went forward with such a dash under her burdensome imposition of 126 pounds as to make it appear probable that she would have been the winner with an even break.

Silk Tassel Off in Front.

Silk Tassel was off in front and never relinquished the lead. Displaying a nice turn of speed in the slow going, she stole a long lead in the first four furlongs of the five and a half furlong trip and, clear of interference all the way, just lasted to win from the fast-closing Edict. Untidy finished with courage and foot and was much the best of the others.

The Rancocas pair, Edict and Suweep, were coupled favorites at 7 to 5. H. P. Whitney's Woodland was added to the overnight list and was grouped with the Greentree youngsters, Untidy and Soliss, as second choices at 2 to 1. Silk Tassel was backed down from a high of 8 to 1 in the verbal layers' quotations and closed at 6 to 1. Silk Tassel's time, 1:06 3-5, was creditable considering the track conditions. Her victory was worth $3,550 to her owner.

Form took a tumble in the opening number on the card, a one-mile gallop for platers, with apprentice riders. Both the torrid favorite, J. A. Coburn's Herewater, and the second choice, C. A. Applegate's Orcus, finished outside the money in a five-horse field. Hereafter being a disgraced last after winning in much the same going on Monday at a somewhat shorter distance. The winner was Vendor, which carried the old gold and green of R. T. Wilson Jr. to victory over the Allies Stable's Canyon in a close and hard fought battle down the stretch. W. V. Casey's Bravo took the short end of the purse.

Last Straw Has Easy Victory.

Five mares and fillies, three or more years of age, went to the post for the Kew Gardens Purse, a sprint of six furlongs, and G. D. Widener's Last Straw made every post a winning one. The daughter of Ultimus was never fully let down by McAtee, who had the mount, and had a winning margin at the close of a length and a half over John J. Tighe's filly, Mary Patricia. The latter was a couple of lengths ahead of E. G. Soule's Polythia.

The talent was almost unanimous in conceding the victory to Last Straw before the Carden went up, and the best price offered by the layers, 2 to 5, was quickly hammered down to 1 to 3. The quotation against Polythia, which was next in favor, receded from 5 to 2 to close at 4 to 1.

After the Kalapa Farm's brown colt, Southern Cross, the odds-on favorite, had cantered home an easy winner in the one-mile contest of the Valley Stream Purse, Thomas, who rode the Greentree Stable's Pirate Gold, the placed horse, registered a complaint of foul against Schuttinger, who had the mount on the winner. Thomas said that in the stretch run Schuttinger, who was merely hand-riding Southern Cross, had struck the plaintiff with his whip. After mature consideration the presiding stewards dismissed the indictment and placed the horses as they finished.

R. T. Wilson Jr. scored a double on the day's racing, as his Olambala colt, Sedgefield, overtook the pacemaker, H. M. Howard's St. Allan, in the last rods of the Seaside Selling Handicap trip of a mile and a sixteenth, and went on to win by half a length.

GIANTS BAT HARD AND DEFEAT PHILS

Champions Score Six Runs in First Inning and Triumph by 13 to 6.

MEUSEL MAKES HOME RUN

Also Slams Out a Three-Bagger—Young Hits Four Singles—Scott in Good Form.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—After losing two games to the Braves, the Giants opened their series here today by defeating the Phillies, 13 to 6. The home team used four pitchers in a vain effort to halt the champions' attack. Weinert was put out of the game, George Smith was knocked out, Winters gave way to a pinch hitter and Lerton Pinto finished the game.

In the first inning Weinert passed Bancroft the first man to face him. With Heinie Groh at bat Lefty thought he was pitching strikes while Umpire Klem held that they were balls. Weinert lost the debate and watched the rest of the game from the bench.

George Smith hurried in from the bull pen in time to let Heinie smite a double to the right field fence. He held Frisch to a single. Irish Meusel avenged this slighting of his playmate by poling a home run into the bleachers, but Smith was not yet through. He let Young single and then hit Kelly. Winters was summoned. Cunningham sacrificed and Snyder singled, counting two more runs, a total of six.

Only twice were the Phillies able to do anything with Jack Scott's shoots. A run was made in the first on Rapp's single and Walker's double. In the fourth Henline pushed a double to the scoreboard and counted on Cliff Lee's home run into the bleachers.

In the seventh they bunched Wrightstone's single, Williams's walk, Walker's second double and Peter's single for three runs.

Rapp Makes Fine Play.

The Phillies blanked McGraw's men in five innings, four of which were pitched by Pinto. From a local viewpoint, the pinch hurling of this youth was one of the two bright spots of a listless game. The other was a double play started by Goldie Rapp in the second. With Groh camping on first, after Frisch had fouled to Henline, Meusel drove a scorching liner in the general direction of third. The sphere was grabbed by Goldie as he started a somersault. Coming up with the ball he threw it to first, doubling Groh.

The Giants collected three runs in the third. Young and Kelly connected for singles, Cunningham forced Kelly, but Snyder smashed a two-bagger to the fence, scoring Young and Cunningham. Snyder sprinted across on Scott's smash to centre. Bancroft lifted to Lee, and Scott, taking a big lead, was doubled at first.

Groh started the fourth by taking one of Winters's slants on the arm. Frisch strolled and Meusel advanced both a notch with a sacrifice. Young's torrid, single bounced off Winters's shins, Groh and Frisch romping home. Kelly slashed a single to left and Cunningham walked. Young was thrown out trying for third. Snyder filed to Lee.

The final New York runs came in the eighth. Bancroft was thrown out by Rapp, and Groh lifted a high one to Walker. Frankie Frisch had better luck. He tapped one to Pinto, who first fumbled it and then made a wild toss to first, the Fordham Flash streaking for second.

Meusel Connects for Triple.

Meusel then contributed his second extra-base clout of the afternoon, a triple that struck the scoreboard and rolled far back into the field. The last of Young's four singles was the next wallop. Meusel scoring. Cunningham opened the ninth with a single past Parkinson. Snyder fouled to Leslie, and Scott forced Cunningham at second. Bancroft fouled to Walker.

The Phillies made a final bid in their portion of the ninth. Williams rolled to Frisch and Walker raised to Young. Peters was hit. Lee uncorked a single that shook up Groh. Leslie forced Lee at second, Frisch to Bancroft.

REDS IN THIRD PLACE.

Advance in Pennant Chase by Trimming Cardinals, 10 to 6.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 7.—The Reds advanced to third place in the National League race today by winning from the Cardinals, 10 to 6. North was pounded hard in the first and fourth innings, ten men going to bat in the latter round and seven of them scoring. Rixey was effective until his team had secured a big lead when he let down in his work.

BALTIMORE SWEEPS OVER JERSEY CITY

Lefty Grover Fans Thirteen Batters and Skeeters Lose by Score of 6 to 1.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7.—Lefty Groves hurled effective ball against Jersey City, holding the visitors to seven well-scattered hits, and Baltimore won the opening game of the series here today, 6 to 1. Groves fanned thirteen of the skeeters and came within two strike-outs of equaling his own International League record. Carruthers, on the other hand, was weak in the pinches.

The Orioles hammered Carruthers in the early innings for a comfortable lead, which the visitors could never approach. Jersey City scored its lone tally in the eighth inning. Donelson started the rally by singling, while Ziman drew a base on balls. After Holt popped to Boley, McCarron came through in the pinch and singled to right, scoring Donelson with the lone marker.

YARYAN'S HOMER WINS.

Gives White Sox a 9 to 8 Victory Over Indians in Tenth.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Yaryan, forced into the game in the tenth inning after Schalk's finger was split by a foul tip off Stephenson's bat, cracked out a home run which gave the White Sox a 9 to 8 victory over Cleveland here today. Yaryan was the first man up in the tenth inning and he smashed the ball into the left field bleachers.

The Indians finally got three men on in the ninth and forced Faber to retire. McInnis's long fly followed and the tying run came home. Schalk will be out of the game for several days.

PITTSBURGH SHUTS OUT CUBS, 6 TO 0

Cooper Allows Chicago Only Six Hits and Wins Twentieth Victory of Season.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—Cooper held the Cubs to six hits here today and chalked up his twentieth victory of the season, the Pirates winning, 6 to 0. Only one Chicago player reached third base.

Before the game Manager McKechnie was presented with a silver bat and ball, the gift of the Kiwanis Club of Toronto, Ohio, where he was manager of a team in 1917 and 1918.

ATHLETICS TAKE TWO.

Walker Hits 34th Homer as Red Sox Lose by 7-4 and 3-2.

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Philadelphia took both games from the Red Sox here today, 7 to 4 and 3 to 0. The Athletics bombarded Ferguson and Karr in the first inning of the first game and made four runs. Walker's thirty-fourth homer of the season was made over the left field fence in the fifth inning of the second game, with Galloway on base. Rommel was hit safely but four times in this game. Galloway's fielding was brilliant.

LANGE RECOMMENDS SCOTT.

McGraw's Scout Says Coast Pitcher Would Strengthen Giants.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—"Death Valley" Jim Scott, who was released from the Chicago White Sox several years ago, because it was thought he was through as a hurler, has staged such a successful comeback that he has been recommended to the New York Giants by Bill Lange, John McGraw's Western scout, who once was a major league star himself.

Pitching for the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League, Scott this year has had one of the most successful seasons, having won twenty-one and lost six games to date. Lange feels that with a strong club like the Giants behind him, Scott would do as well in the majors as he is doing in the minors.

WHITE SOX RELEASE TWO.

Courtney and Hodge Go to 'Frisco in Part Payment for Kamm.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Pitchers Harry Courtney and "Shovel" Hodge of the Chicago American League club have been released to the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League in part payment for Willie Kamm, phenomenal third baseman, it was announced today.

MISS BECKER ENTERED.

Indoor Fancy Diving Champion to Compete at Brighton.

The acceptance by Miss Elisabeth Becker of Philadelphia, national indoor fancy diving champion, of an invitation from the Women's Swimming Association of New York to compete in the water pentathlon for women, which will be held tomorrow afternoon in the open-air pool at Brighton Beach, was received yesterday. Miss Becker, who is the premier all-round aquatic performer of the Middle Atlantic Association, last year finished third in the all-around championship competition at Brighton Beach.

Other star diving performers who will compete against Miss Becker are Miss Aileen Riggin, the Olympic fancy diving champion; Miss Helen Meany, national outdoor champion, and Miss Helen Wainwright, who finished second to Miss Riggin in the Olympic competition and who has held national titles in diving.

Lightweights Are Suspended By New Jersey Commission

Suspension for three months from boxing in New Jersey was the sentence imposed yesterday by the New Jersey State Boxing Commission on two lightweight boxers, "Jack" Hausner of New York City, and "Babe" Herman of California. The boxers were principals in a bout at the Oakland Avenue A. C., Jersey City, last Tuesday, which was stopped by referee Henry Lewis in the tenth round, on the ground that the boxers were "stalling" and giving a poor exhibition. The commission also decreed that the two boxers should lose their share of the gate receipts. Previous good records were responsible for the light sentence, it was explained.

LEONARD AND WHITE TO MEET ON OCT. 6

Lightweight Champion and Chicagoan Are Matched for 12-Round Bout in Jersey City.

Benny Leonard, world's lightweight boxing champion, will defend his crown against the assaults of Charlie White of Chicago in a twelve-round bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, on the night of Friday, Oct. 6, according to an announcement by Promoter Tex Rickard, who matched the men yesterday. In accordance with the condition of the championship battle the two boxers will weigh in at 135 pounds on the afternoon of the day set for the bout.

The coming bout will be the second meeting between the lightweight champion and one of the foremost contenders for his title. In their first engagement held at Benton Harbor, Mich., two years ago last July, the champion scored a knockout over his Chicago rival in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-round battle. Up to that time White had given Leonard quite a battle and in the fifth round knocked the champion through the ropes. Leonard then staged a strong rally and finally stopped his opponent in the ninth round.

The bout with White on Oct. 6 will mark the first appearance in competition of Leonard since he easily outpointed Ever Hammer of Chicago in a ten-round battle at Michigan City on Aug. 5, and it will also mark his first important engagement since he successfully defended his title against Lew Tendler of Philadelphia at Boyle's Thirty Acres several months ago.

Leonard's mouth is still in bad shape as the result of injuries received in his bouts with Tendler and Hammer, but the champion expects to be in good condition for his battle with White. Leonard at present is resting at Long Beach, where his brother Joe has been training for his bout with Eddie Borden at the Surf A. A., Coney Island, tonight. Benny is expected to act as a second to his brother in tonight's bout.

TO PLAY FOR CLUB TITLE.

Whits Beeches G. and C. C. Will Open Golf Tourney Tomorrow.

The qualifying rounds for the club championship of the White Beeches Golf and Country Club of Haworth, N. J., and for the Vice President's trophy, will be played tomorrow and Sunday, the first round of the day selected to count. The first sixteen low scores will qualify for the club championship and will play at match play without handicap on the four following week ends, the finals to be at thirty-six holes.

The second sixteen low scores will qualify for the Vice President's cup and will play at match play, as above. There will be third and fourth divisions and as many more as there are sufficient entries for.

Postponed semi-final and final matches of the Fall tournament will be played either today or tomorrow. The finals of the first division will be played tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

BIG ENTRY IN TEAM RACE.

Twenty-Two Pairs Will Contest Tonight at New York Velodrome.

The two-hour team bicycle race in which twenty-two teams are entered will feature the card at the New York Velodrome, 225th Street and Broadway, tonight. The teams entered are: Piani and Eaton, W. Spencer and Madden, McNamara and C. Walker, Kaiser and Hanley, Jaeger and Fitzsimmons, Lang and Gaffney, Piercey and Smith, Verras and Derolerek, Coburn and Drobach, Horan and Weber, Krebs and Dotterweick, Walthour and Goullet, Grenda and Hill, McBeath and Papworth, Ohrt and Sergeant, Young and Landa, Bello and Kopsky, G. Walker and Bertell, Thomas and Lawrence, Taylor and Osterreiter, Grimm and Mobeck, Nunziatta and Kali.

Following this event there will be a motor-paced race with five starters. They will be Worth Mitten of Davenport, Iowa, who will make his first appearance at the Velodrome; Vincent Markey of Passaic, N. J.; Willy Appelhans of Germany, George Columbatto, who finished second to George Chapman in the twenty-five-mile motor-paced race Tuesday, and Brask Anderson of Denmark.

There will be the usual sprint every two miles in the two-hour race, and points will be scored as follows: Seven for first place, three for second, two for third and one for fourth. In the final sprint twenty-five points will be scored by the winner, fifteen for second, ten for third and five for fourth.

THIRTY CYCLISTS ENTERED.

State Champions to Compete for National Titles at Atlantic City.

About thirty amateur bike riders, champions of their respective States, will compete at Atlantic City on Sept. 15 in the national bicycle championships held under the auspices of the Amateur Bicycle League of America. The competitors had to qualify for this event by winning in the elimination tests open in their districts to every amateur rider and then had to triumph over the best of every district in their respective States.

George Hess of the Empire City Wheelmen, a Brooklyn boy, won first honors in the State finals held recently on Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, and will represent the Empire State on the specially constructed track now being completed at Atlantic City. The dirt track will be a quarter of a mile in circumference, with a long straightaway, and it is expected that several new records will be established there, smashing the mile record in his heat of the New York State finals.

OTHER BOUTS TONIGHT.

Surf Avenue A. A., Coney Island—Pepper Martin vs. Bobby Josephs, twelve rounds; Joey Leonard vs. Eddie Borden, ten rounds.

Ninth Regiment Armory—Buddy Saunders vs. Jimmy Carlson, twelve rounds; Tommy Ray vs. Young Marino, eight rounds.

EBBETS FIELD RING SUSPENSION LIFTED

Ban Removed by Athletic Commission—Jackson-Marks Bout to Be Held Tonight.

The suspension of the club license of the Ebbets-McKeever Company, operating as a boxing organization at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, was lifted by the New York State Athletic Commission after an informal hearing held yesterday at the offices of the commission. Following the action of the commission, the officials of the Ebbets-McKeever Company announced that the bout between Willie Jackson and Sid Marks, scheduled for last Wednesday night and which had to be postponed because of rain, will be held tonight at the Brooklyn ball park. The entire card as previously announced will be conducted tonight.

The commission took action against the Ebbets Field organization last Tuesday, announcing that the suspension would take effect immediately after the completion of Wednesday night's program. According to Chairman Muldoon the club license was suspended because of numerous complaints received by the commission from patrons of the Brooklyn organization on the methods followed in disposing of the tickets for the cheaper seats.

REG IS WINNER OF VANDERBILT TROPHY

Captures Commodore's Prize for British Six-Meter Yachts in N. Y. Y. C. Regatta.

MISTRAL LEADS FORTIES

But Bowes Sloop Loses on Corrected Time to 39-Footer Georgia—Club's Racing Year Ends.

Special to The New York Times.

GLEN COVE, L. I., Sept. 7.—The New York Yacht Club today wound up its 1922 racing season with the annual sailing for the club's Autumn Cups over Long Island Sound courses off Glen Cove.

Twenty-one vessels owned or chartered by New York Yacht Club members raced in six classes.

In addition to the home fleet, the four British defenders of the British-American Cup, the races for which begin Saturday, off Oyster Bay, sailed an invitation race against one another. The prize in this race, a cup offered by Commodore H. S. Vanderbilt, was won by Norman Clark Neill's Reg. This is the second trophy won by Reg in American waters since the arrival of the quartet two weeks ago, the Neill yacht having lifted the plate offered for the foreigners at the Larchmont Yacht Club's Fall regatta on Labor Day. Colia III., owned by G. J. Stephen, was second, with Sir John Ward's Jean third. Caryl, owned by W. F. Robertson, fouled Colia III. on rounding the second mark, and withdrew.

Good Breeze Awaits Yachtsmen.

The amateur mariners who assembled off the yacht club's Glen Cove station at noon today found a good sailing breeze awaiting them, a wind from the north of east blowing eleven knots. This wind held practically true all the afternoon, although it lost a little of its velocity. Just before 1 o'clock course signals were ordered hoisted aboard the committee boat, Henry D. Whiton's power yacht Paquin, by H. de B. Parsons, Chairman of the Regatta Committee.

The course set was triangular, from a starting line off Weeks Point to Execution Rock buoy, bearing northwest; thence to Passonage Point, bearing northeast; thence to the starting line, bearing south-southwest. The distance around the triangle was 10¼ miles, but the New York Yacht Club forty-footers and thirty-footers and the single Larchmont thirty-nine footers, which came to the line, were sent twice around for a total of 20¼ miles.

No schooners and none of the fifty-foot class sailed for the Autumn cups, Commodore Vanderbilt, in Vagrant, is still cruising to the eastward, as are also the other schooner owners who are still in commission. Of the fifty-footers F. D. M. Strachan's Harpoon is the only one not hauled out. As Harpoon did not sail today this left the forty-footers as the longest waterline class.

Mistral Loses on Corrected Time.

The winner among the "Roaring Forties" was Mistral, owned and sailed by Walter S. Bowes with C. Sherman Hoyt, Captain of the American six-meter team, one of the members of the afterguard. With the course as set by the Regatta Committee all classes had a broad reach on the first leg, a windward beat on the second and a reach home. Mistral, which got away well up to windward, was the first to break out her balloon jib. She seemed to walk away from her sister yachts, and rounded the first mark with a substantial lead, which she increased on the subsequent legs. H. S. Duell's Rowdy, which finished second, was nearly four minutes in the wake of Mistral.

The Bowes sloop, however, was forced to submit to a humiliating experience. As but one of the Larchmont O class of 30-foot sloops came to the line, the Georgia, owned by H. M. Cowperthwait, she was pitted against the best time of the Forties. In this special race, which was against Mistral, the Cowperthwait craft was the winner on corrected times by better than five minutes.

Five of the second string American six-meter sloops raced for a cup offered by Johnston de Forest, which was won by Rear Commodore Paul Hammond's Cygnet. Viva, owned by the Larchmont Yacht Club and sailed by Connie Bhields, under the flag of Commodore James B. Ford, took next honors from Alexander W. Stuart's Montauk, by the margin of a second. Since the British and the American six-meter yachts sailed the same distance—ten and one-eighth miles—and the same course, under conditions almost identical, a comparison of the elapsed time of the leading boats is admissible, although not too much stress should be laid on it. The elapsed time of Reg was 1:58:20, that of Cygnet 1:57:50.

Minx Wins Among Thirties.

Three of the New York 30-foot sloops sailed the twenty and one-fourth mile course. W. H. Hoffman's Minx took premier honors, with S. C. Pirie's Oriole wresting second place from J. B. Dunbaugh's Countess on the second round of the journey. The standing of the various thirties in the Summer series for the Gherardi Davis Cup, for which this was the concluding race, could not be determined today by the Regatta Committee.

A quartet of the S class of sloops sailed the shorter course, as did also a trio of Victory sloops. Harry M. Curtis won in the S class with his new yacht Pandora, Curtis had better than a four-minute lead over Commodore Ralph Ellis's Ellen. Blue Jacket, owned by Commodore James B. Ford, piloted the Victory craft across the finish line.

NIMBUS IS WINNER IN 39-FOOT CLASS

Leroy Sargent's Yacht Proves Victor in Interclub Regatta—Banzai Leads Thirties.

STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. 7.—Yachtsmen who are taking part in the interclub cruise had their first bit of bad weather today. The run was from the Larchmont Yacht Club to the Stamford Yacht Club. The wind was northeast by east and had enough strength to kick up white caps all over the Sound. As it came it was a beat from Larchmont Breakwater to this port. It was the first bit of real windward work that the yachtsmen have experienced during this week. As the New York Yacht Club also was holding a regatta today, the fleet was somewhat smaller than it has been all week.

The 39-footers of the Larchmont Yacht Club had a great race, the winner was Leroy Sargent's Nimbus. The thirty-foot class of the New York Yacht Club was taken by Commodore E. Lang's Banzai, sailed by Tod Currier.

C. A. Marsland's Asor was the winner in the first division of the handicap class. The Victory division was taken by H. W. Buck's Madelon. F. Fawley's Aquila won in a mixed class. A. C. Pomeroy's Calixa was the first of the Stamford one-designed yachts to finish. The Star Class had a close race, the winner being Canis Minor, the property of Adlee O'Brien, Pleasantdale, which belongs to Ritchey & Nelldow, was the winner of another mixed class.

The final race of the cruise will be held tomorrow. It will be from here to the Huntington Bay Club. On Saturday the fleet will proceed at will to the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club at Oyster Bay, arriving just before the start of the international six meter races.

WOMEN IN FIELD MEET.

Events for Them Have Been Arranged by Park Inn Baths A. A.

The Park Inn Baths Athletic Association will conduct an athletic meet consisting of three major sports at Rockaway Park, L. I., tomorrow afternoon. The events will be an eight-mile swim, a field meet for women and a horse shoe pitching contest.

The competitors in the swim, which will start at Rockaway Point and finish at the Park Inn Baths, will be Edward Keating, Harold Florence, Nathan Berger, Scrotes Zesgoes, Joseph Herschel, Will Sadlo, Mardo Davagarian, Charlie Stolberg, Charles Kerr, William Gesher, Henry Hemlchler, Herman Asness, Mieson Rindler, William Martin, Tommy Cummings, Jimmie Henrette and a number of others.

The events in the women's field meet will consist of fifty and seventy-five yard dashes, throwing the eight-pound hammer, throwing the baseball and basketball, and running and standing broad jump. Many of the leading women athletes of the metropolitan district will compete.

More than fifty entries have been received for the horseshoe pitching contest.

GOBLIN WINS FIRST HEAT.

Defeats Toronto Yacht in Richardson Cup Race at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—The Goblin of the Cleveland Yacht Club won the first heat of the International Class R yacht races for the Richardson Cup off Rocky River, Lake Erie, here today, defeating the Scrapper II. of Toronto by one minute. The winner's time for the fifteen-mile triangular course was 2:54:54.

Only these two yachts started, those entered from Detroit, Chicago and New York being unable to get here. The second heat will be raced tomorrow and the third Saturday.

LEHIGH GETS NEW COACH.

Larkin, Last Year's Football Captain, to Take Fazzetti's Place.

Special to The New York Times.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 7.—It was announced at Lehigh today that Pat Fazzetti, the star quarterback who has been assistant football coach for the last seven years, will not assist in coaching this year. Paul Larkin, last year's captain, will take his place. Only light work was done today by the squad of thirty-six men.

Stiehm to Undergo Operation.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 7.—E. O. Stiehm, Athletic Director at Indiana University, has been directed by his physician to go to a Rochester, Minn., sanitarium for an abdominal operation, according to word received at the university. University officials said it is expected he would return this week to begin work with the football squad.

Purdue Gets Gift of Land.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., has obtained a site for a new stadium and athletic field by a gift of sixty acres of land made by George Ade, author, and David E. Ross of Lafayette. The land is valued at $40,000 and adjoins the campus.

ATHLETES WORK OUT FOR TITLE EVENTS

More Than 200 Juniors Are Ready for National Championships at Newark Today.

The national junior track and field championships will be held this afternoon at Weequahic Park, Newark, with more than two hundred athletes competing, among whom will be many holders of district A. A. U. or sectional intercollegiate titles. The fields in the various events are unusually strong this year and in many instances winners in today's events will be among the foremost contenders for the honors in the senior championships which will be held at the same field tomorrow.

Most of the athletes from other sections of the country who will compete in today's meet arrived in Newark yesterday and many of them donned their track suits and had workouts on the Weequahic Park track. Many of the seniors also were out on the track and a number of them indulged in their final practice for tomorrow's events.

Nineteen events will be contested this afternoon, and that means that nineteen new junior champions will be crowned as previous winners of junior titles are eligible to compete only in the events for seniors. Because of the large list of entries, heats will be conducted in the short races, and the Championship Committee has decided to start the first race promptly at 2 o'clock, and the remaining events will follow a time schedule that already has been announced. According to the schedule the half-mile race, the final event on the program, will be held at 6 o'clock.

Plenty of Action for Spectators.

The nine field events on the list will be conducted on the infield, while the running races will be held on the track. This means that the spectators will see plenty of action from the time that the first heat of the 100-yard dash starts at 2 o'clock until the javelin throw is completed shortly after 6.

Today's program will consist of ten track events and nine field events. The track events will be the 100-yard dash, 220-yard run, 440-yard run, 880-yard run, one-mile run, five-mile run, 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles and the three-mile walk. The field events will be the pole vault for height, 16-pound shot put, running high jump, 16-pound hammer throw, running broad jump, discus throw, running hop, step and jump, 56-pound weight throw and javelin throw.

The newly formed Newark A. C. will conduct the three-day carnival and no effort has been spared to make the games successful. No detail has been omitted in providing for the comfort and entertainment of the army of athletes and officials who will be assembled from practically every section of the country. It will be the first time since 1916 that the national championship meets have been within the metropolitan district.

The large athletic squad of the New York Athletic Club is favored to win the junior team title as well as the senior team championship. Although the Mercury Foot representatives hardly expect to carry off most of the individual championships in the two meets, it is figured that the numerical strength of the N. Y. A. C. squad will enable it to gain enough points to capture the team championships. The Mercury Foot emblem will be worn by one of the most formidable teams the New York A. C. has ever sent into competition.

Strong Teams Entered.

Although its numerical strength is greater than that of any other club, rival organizations have entered their strongest array of athletes and are expected to give the local team a strong battle, particularly in the senior meet. Among the clubs that have sent a strong team are the Los Angeles A. C., last year's champion; the Illinois A. C. of Chicago, the Chicago A. A., Boston A. A., and the Meadowbrook Club of Philadelphia.

If the athletes are favored by good weather today, tomorrow and Monday (relay day), it is almost certain that a number of records will fall. The events on the junior program, in which new marks are looked for, are the 220-yard dash, 880-yard run, 220-yard low hurdle race, running high jump, running broad jump and javelin throw.

The firm of L. Bamberger & Co. of Newark has offered a silver trophy to any individual athlete or any team that creates a new American record. The same company will also broadcast the results of the various events from its radio station, W O R, at Newark.

The opportunity of seeing the leading track and field athletes of the country in action is expected to attract a record attendance. When the championships were last held in the metropolitan district, six years ago, it was estimated that 75,000 persons witnessed the three-day meet.

Weequahic Park is readily accessible from New York City. It can be reached by taking the Hudson Tubes to Park Place, Newark, walking one block south to the Public Service Terminal and then taking a trolley car marked Weequahic Park.

COAST NET STAR COMING.

Miss Browne to Make Trip to Meet Mrs. Mallory Here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Another California tennis star, Miss Mary K. Browne, Los Angeles, this month will attempt to defeat Mrs. Molla Mallory, national champion, who already this year has turned back four assaults from one invader from the Far West, Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley.

Miss Browne, who is the second ranking woman player in the United States, leaves Monday to meet the champion in a special match at Forest Hills, N. Y., during the East vs. West series, according to an announcement by Dr. Sumner Hardy, San Francisco, President of the California Lawn Tennis Association. Dr. Hardy says Miss Browne is at the top of her form.

ORDERS SQUAD TO REPORT.

Coach Reynolds Wants Bucknell Men on Hand Sept. 11.

LEWISBURG, Pa., Sept. 7.—Instructions have been mailed to the Bucknell football candidates to report at Lewisburg on Sept. 11. That will mark the start of one of the most strenuous football campaigns ever attempted by the Baptist institution. After three comparatively easy early season games the going will be hard for seven straight weeks. Navy, Lafayette, Pitt, Muhlenburg, Lehigh, Georgetown and Rutgers will be met on successive Saturdays in the order given.

Coach C. W. F. Reynolds will have as a nucleus fourteen letter men, some of them veterans of three seasons. To spur them to their best efforts, he will have about twenty substitutes of considerable ability. All of these men are thoroughly familiar with "Pete's" system of play, and should be in good trim as soon as they get the Summer's kinks out of their muscles. Several new men have also entered their names, and, judging their ability by their high school records, they will make some of the veterans hustle.

Mayo Club to Hold Games.

The first annual field day and games of the Mayo Football Club, will be held at Celtic Park, Long Island City, next Sunday. Three league games are scheduled—junior football between Mayo and Kilkenny, hurling between Offaly and Limerick, senior football between Mayo and Louth.

TAD JONES FORMS NEW YALE ELEVEN

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 7.—Another Yale football eleven was formed today by Head Coach Tad Jones. Of the team used yesterday none appeared as a regular this afternoon. Today's team included most of the regulars from last year who have reported.

The make-up follows:

Ends, Cutler and Dever; tackles, Storrs and Quale; guards, Mackay and Crom; centre, Norris; quarterback, Beckett; halfbacks, Knapp and Jordan; fullback, Mallory.

Before the rehearsal closed Landis was placed at centre, Eckhart at guard, Hilden and Lufkin at the tackle positions, Bench and Scott at halfback and Lincoln at end.

Captain Jordan was pressed into service as a punter because of the shortage. Ex-Captain Aldrich, who coached the kickers, succeeded O'Hearn, Mallory and Neale in distance punting. Harley Comerford drilled the ends. Tide Kempton, quarterback for two years, assisted in handling the quarterbacks. He will remain several days. Phil Cruikshank, guard for two seasons, was the principal arrival today. The squad now numbers more than seventy.

Although the Yale 1922 eleven won its games from its Harvard and Princeton class rivals, reports received at the Yale football headquarters show that the team will present only slender material for the varsity this Fall. Thirteen of the team who won numerals have been declared ineligible.

WHITBECK AND GAYNES REACH SEMI-FINALS

Millen and Smith Also Advance in Boys' State Title Tennis Tourney.

With a total of forty-four entries drawn, the first annual New York State championship tennis tournament for juniors and boys was started yesterday on the clay courts of the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills. Despite the fact that there were a number of defaults because of the failure of many of the boys to appear in the belief that play would not be held on account of the weather, some splendid matches resulted and the opening day proved quite successful.

The stars in the boys' division were Brainard Whitbeck of Loomis Institute, Stuart Gaynes of the West Side Club, John Millen and Edward Smith. These four advanced into the semi-final round and will compete in that round this morning. The winners in the two semi-final matches will clash for the title this afternoon.

J. S. Cuddy, Ernest Kuhn and Charles Schuster gained their semi-final brackets in the junior play.

CORNELL PROVIDING FOR WATER SPORTS

Is Building Swimming Pool for Students—Also Preparing for Winter Activities.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Development of aquatic sports among the students of Cornell University on a scale hitherto impossible for lack of facilities, will follow the proposed improvements to be made in Fall Creek gorge by the University, in co-operation with the Cornell Athletic Association, which will administer the big Summer and Winter playground for students projected by the university. Varsity hockey and swimming teams also will benefit by this new venture, but in the main it will be operated for non-competitive sports for all the students.

Part of the plan is nearing completion, the erection of a Winter sports house on the extreme west end of Beebe Lake, directly north of the dam at Triphammer Falls. This new building, which will be ready by late Fall, will be headquarters for varsity, class and fraternity hockey teams, for skiiers and tobogan parties and for the mass of students who skate. One can walk from a flight at 10 to Beebe Lake, a sizable body of water on the northeast boundary of the campus. Locker rooms for men and women and a restaurant are to be provided.

The outdoor swimming pool which is to be developed in the Fall Creek gorge will be located not far from the scene of the Winter sports headquarters. From the foot of Triphammer Falls, Fall Creek runs through a gorge 200 or more feet deep, forming one of the most picturesque of the Cornell campus's natural beauty spots.

About a quarter of a mile west of the Winter clubhouse, down deep in the gorge, a dam is to be constructed between walls of natural rock and here a large swimming pool will be made with accommodations for varsity teams, students and the public. Bath houses, slides and other accommodations will be provided.

NET TITLE SINGLES DRAW 123 ENTRIES

Play for National Men's Tennis Championship Begins at Germantown C. C. Today.

Play will start at 10 o'clock this morning at the Germantown Cricket Club at Manheim, near Philadelphia, in the national tennis tournament for the men's singles championship of the United States. Titles will also be decided next week in tournaments running concurrently for the veterans' national singles championship and the girls' national singles, while the Middle States title for women will be competed for at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

Principal interest will naturally centre in the competition for the men's singles title, which is now held by William T. Tilden 2d. Tilden must defend his title against the strongest international field of any tournament held anywhere in the world during the season of 1922. It includes Gerald L. Patterson of Australia, who won the so-called world's championship at Wimbledon, England, and his teammate in Davis Cup competition, James O. Anderson, as well as Manuel Alonso, foremost player of Spain, and Zenzo Shimizu, the Japanese ace.

There are 123 players on the entry list. William M. Johnston of San Francisco is the favorite in the top half. His probable opponent in the semi-finals is either Vincent Richards of Yonkers, the No. 2 player in the present national standing, or Anderson of Australia. Manuel Alonso is in the same quarter with Johnston, and so, too, are Howard Kinsey of San Francisco, Watson Washburn and Leonard Beekman of the West Side Tennis Club, José Alonso of Spain, Fred C. Anderson of Brooklyn and R. Howard Voshell of the Crescent Athletic Club. In the quarter with Anderson and Richards are Frank T. Anderson of Columbia, the former national indoor champion; Robert Kinsey of San Francisco, Lucien R. Williams of Yale, the intercollegiate champion; Charles S. Garland of Pittsburgh and Carl Fischer of Cynwyd, Pa.

Tilden is at the top of the second half and is quartered with Norris Williams 2d of the Longwood Cricket Club, Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia, Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, Zenzo Shimizu, Dean Mathey of the West Side Tennis Club, Dr. George King of the New York A. C. and Willis E. Davis of San Francisco. Richard N. Williams 2d of Longwood heads the list in the fourth quarter and has an excellent chance of becoming Tilden's opponent in the semi-finals. Other competitors holding positions closely adjacent to Williams are Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, the national indoor champion; Arnold W. Jones of Yale and Gerald Patterson.

It is reported from Philadelphia that all arrangements have been completed for the conduct of the competition in which the men's title is held. The experience in running last season's championship, which was one of the most smoothly conducted and largely attended tournaments in the history of the sport. The stands surrounding the centre courts will accommodate some 15,000 persons and last year they were well filled even on the early days of the tournament. The club possesses some of the best courts in the country and its appointments are in all other ways well suited to the conducting of so important a competition. The headquarters of all visiting players during the tournament will be at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Unless rain intervenes seriously it is expected that the final round of the championship can be reached a week from tomorrow.

This is the second year in which the national singles event has been held at Philadelphia. Before that the West Side Club at Forest Hills had it as successor to Newport.

WIN MIXED DOUBLES MATCH.

Mrs. Schley and Bernon Prentice Victors at Seabright.

Special to The New York Times.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Sept. 7.—The semi-final round of mixed doubles at the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club were completed this afternoon. Mrs. Reeves Schley and Bernon Prentice, playing in the lower half, engaged Miss Dorothy Acheils and William F. Compton, the former winning their way to the final round in three sets, 6—2, 6—8, 8—2.

The victors probably will engage Miss Mary Hurd and Charles Hurd in the finals of the mixed doubles as they are slated to win their match in the upper half tomorrow.

THE WAY TO LASTING SETTLEMENT.

Both sides in the railway strike are doing a little obvious bluffing. Presumably their exaggerated claims are preliminary to bargaining. It appears to be certain that the shopmen's unions are now willing to consider the offer which they rejected some time ago, when made to them by the railway executives—the offer, that is, of a settlement with various railroads separately. This would be an abandonment of the position that there could be no agreement that was not "national" in scope, but it would seem to be a sensible business arrangement for both the railroads that choose to enter into it and for the men. It would involve no "smashing" of the unions, but even a fuller and more satisfactory recognition of them as organized under the individual companies. Any such direct adjustment would certainly be welcomed by the public.

It would, however, plainly be only partial as well as private. There would lie in it no assurance of lasting peace. The trouble might break out again at any time in the future, and then the country would once more be looking for an impartial tribunal before which the controversy could be brought. Such a body is already in existence, in the shape of the Railroad Labor Board. It is not perfect either in theory or in practice, but it is the best instrument that we now have available. It is at this moment passing upon other disputes between the railways and other employés, and has announced its willingness to give a patient rehearing to the case of the shopmen, whenever altered conditions might indicate the need of a change in the form of its decision about their wages.

Why, then, should not all parties agree to lay the whole matter before the Labor Board? President HARDING urged some time ago that this be done, but the unions then declined. They may now have come to a better mind. At any rate, this way lies the best hope of a settlement that may endure, and also of a recourse which can be made use of in future disagreements. Both sides have now demonstrated to the full their "nuisance value." Why not drop all that and get the case decided on its merits? It is possible that Congress may be induced to give the Labor Board broader powers, but it has power enough under existing law to reach judgments which can be accepted by the parties to the controversy as at least reasonably satisfactory, and which would be hailed by the country as a definite and promising way out of all similar railroad troubles.

LOCKING HORNS.

"It will be American valuation or no Congress will remain here until the snow flies," said Chairman FORDNEY last April when the painful intelligence had been communicated to him that the majority of the Senate Finance Committee had decided that duties should be levied upon foreign valuation. The fur begins to fly long before the snow. The conference is in a deadlock. Republican absentees have been summoned to report in Washington on Monday without fail. The combat deepens. Which is the "true American protective tariff," Mr. FORDNEY's or Senator MCCUMBER's? All that is left of American valuation in the Senate bill is the power of the President, under the "elastic tariff" provision, after investigation by the Tariff Commission into "differences in cost of production," to equalize those differences, basing the change of rates upon the American instead of the foreign valuation of certain dyestuffs, coal-tar, chemicals and explosives.

This is but a beggarly remnant of Mr. FORDNEY's prime principle. There has been a great campaign for American valuation. It is enough to say of a scheme that has been sufficiently discussed that to levy duties on the American wholesale selling price of an article instead of on its foreign cost is to lay a duty on a duty; and that the plan was tried in 1834 and lasted exactly two months. The Treasury Department was unable to draw up regulations to make it workable.

Probably the valor of Mr. FORDNEY will ooze out long before the first snow. Possibly he is less valorous than he talks; but for the moment his voice is all for war. The "flexible tariff" provision in the Senate bill is another vital difference between the House and the Senate. The country will have to wait while the Republican brethren wrangle over the "true American protective tariff." Doubtless they will patch up peace and the bill, though Mr. FORDNEY and Mr. MCCUMBER won't ornament the next Congress, and have nothing to lose. The Republican Party has nothing to lose except the elections. It is due to this Congress, so severely and generally accused today, that at least it has neglected nothing that could contribute to make the next House Democratic. The two tariff bills are notable contributions to that end.

IRREPARABLE INJURY.

If Senator ROBINSON limited his quotation from Section XX. of the Clayton act to the second paragraph, he fell into a curious error. The first paragraph does not forbid the granting of an injunction if "necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property * * * for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law." The paragraph which Senator ROBINSON quoted proceeds with questions as to "such restraining order or injunction"—such an injunction, that is, as is not necessary to prevent irreparable injury. This point is not raised as a legal interpretation, still less as anticipating the judgment of the courts. Is or is not the crippling of transportation, the intensifying of a shortage of fuel and the widespread shutting down of manufacturing plants an injury irreparable and beyond the remedy of law? If it is, no blunder on the part of the Attorney General, no confusion in existing laws, can ultimately prevent the assertion of the rights of the public.

Even violence is, in the present situation, of secondary importance. The one overshadowing issue is the right of an organized minority to inflict irreparable injury upon the nation. Again, let us look beyond the technicalities of the law to actual fact. On June 16, at the Cincinnati meeting of the American Federation of Labor, it was announced that BERT M. JEWELL, in behalf of the railway employés, had invited the United Mine Workers to discuss joint action. "The United Mine Workers," said Mr. LEWIS, "accept the invitation." On June 20 it was announced that the meeting had resulted in a common understanding for concerted action. "Finding themselves confronted with a common crisis," said Mr. LEWIS, "it is only natural that these workers should decide to do everything necessary to protect their separate interests." Does or does not this agreement constitute a conspiracy against the public? Section VI. of the Clayton act says that "nothing contained in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of" labor organizations; "nor shall such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade, under the anti-trust laws." Unmistakably the act has reference only to the anti-trust laws.

There are other laws under which conspiracy can be punished. It may well be left to the courts to decide whether the dual alliance formed at Cincinnati is punishable under these other laws. If it is not, it is the business of Congress to frame laws which will protect the nation against irreparable injury, especially when it is accomplished by what common sense declares to be a conspiracy.

GERMAN EXCHANGE AND PRICES.

During the last month's panicky market for German exchange, the mark fell from a value of about fifteen one-hundredths of a cent to six one-hundredths. This meant that the price of gold as measured by the American dollar had advanced in Germany 150 per cent. Such rapid depreciation in the German currency and the German exchange rate directed attention again to the question of German exports. Assuming, as a good many would-be economic experts appear to have done, that an exporting country gains in competitive foreign markets an advantage proportioned to a fall in its exchange rate, a great increase in orders placed by our own and other foreign markets for German merchandise might have been expected.

Nothing of the kind has occurred. During the first half of 1922 the mark's value in foreign exchange was more than cut in two, yet the actual tonnage of German exports during June was far below the average of preceding months. Writing in August, the Berlin correspondent of The Iron Age stated confidently that "the depreciation of the currency will hardly lead to an increase in export orders in the iron trade, as the 60 per cent increases in prices have outstripped the rise in foreign currency."

The cabled figures giving the movement of average prices in Germany during August show the working of this principle. On the basis of 100 for average German commodity prices during 1914, the Frankfurter Zeitung computed the average on Aug. 1 as 18,935 and on Sept. 1 as 28,919. Even the German newspapers, and with them the foreign commercial reviews, had declared in July that the rise in home prices had so far counterbalanced the fall in exchange that German markets were virtually at the world market's level. The exceedingly violent decline in the mark two weeks ago theoretically upset that equilibrium, but it did so because it had brought German foreign trade temporarily to a complete halt. Had arrangements then been made for starting the "flood of German merchandise" moving into our markets, the immediate result would have been abrupt recovery of mark exchange and the forcing of prices to still higher levels in Germany's home markets—a process which would speedily have removed even a theoretical advantage from Germany's export trade.

No economic question of the day is surrounded with so much illusion as that of export trade artificially promoted by depreciated currencies. Not only does the movement of home prices in the long run offset such a fall in the gold value of currency, but the placing of business contracts is thrown into absolute confusion. The buyer of German goods today has no assurance what his position in competitive foreign markets will be tomorrow; he cannot even allow for such influences as changing transportation rates or increased export duties.

As a matter of history, it ought not to be forgotten that in our own period of depreciated currency, half a century ago, it was imports which were expanded and exports which were checked until the currency had nearly recovered its par value, when the great surplus of exports, familiar ever since, began to appear. As a matter of contemporary experience, it will have been observed that the judgment of the German markets themselves on the recent convulsive fall in mark exchange was not at all expressed by enthusiasm over the coming expansion of German export trade, but by misgiving as to whether the import trade in food and raw materials could be successfully financed.

SETTLING SIBERIA.

A few months ago the Siberian question seemed to contain the material for an inevitable war between Russia and Japan. The Washington conference adjourned without doing anything about it, except to elicit points of view already well known. Japan promised to get out, but she had done so several times before. Since then, however, Admiral KATO has become Premier. The Washington treaties have been ratified and the Japanese have expressed a desire to have them formally put into force as between Japan, America and Great Britain, even if ratification should be delayed in France.

To this the Kato Government is now adding an effort to meet expectations with respect to Siberia. Some weeks ago it was announced that Japanese troops would be out of the Maritime Province by the end of October. According to dispatches from Chita, this movement has already begun. Chita will recover Vladivostok and the whole Maritime Province, and since the Chita Government is evidently subject to the control of Moscow, at least in foreign policy, Russia will once more have a Pacific outlet.

There remains the question of Sakhalin and the mouths of the Amur, now held by Japanese troops, as well as the future protection of Japanese subjects in Siberia. Delegates from Moscow, Chita and Tokio met this week at Chang Chun, in Manchuria, and it may be hoped that the Sakhalin difficulty will also be settled. The principal Japanese delegate, Mr. MATSUDAIRA, formerly Commissioner in Vladivostok, knows more about the Siberian question from all angles than any other man in Japanese public life. Moreover, he is decidedly moderate and reasonable in his views, and is more concerned in establishing good relations between the Japanese and Russian peoples than in finding excuses for military adventures on the continent.

This attempt to close the most serious question left over at Washington is highly creditable to Admiral KATO and his colleagues. Their good faith has been made evident in the most practical way. At the close of the Washington conference American diplomats merely hoped that the Japanese Government would do something about Siberia. There was no possibility of coercing Japan. Admiral KATO's Ministry, however, seems to treat the settlement with Russia as a point of honor. It happens also to be a matter of enlightened self-interest.

THE LEAGUE AND AUSTRIA.

The last hope of an independent Austria, unless saved by the League, has disappeared. It is a life-and-death case that Chancellor SEIPEL has brought to the International Hospital at Geneva. The doctors of five nations are in consultation, and by the end of the week this patient-country will know whether it is to be continued life or national death. The League, as Lord ROBERT CECIL has said, has never had a major case. The League's achievements, which he reviewed, highly creditable as they are admitted to be, are minor. Now has come an opportunity to show skill in a baffling case of first importance. The best that can be said at the moment is that Dr. SEIPEL "seems optimistic."

It is not a simple economic malady. There are political complications. There is a great surviving bureaucracy. There are wounds from amputations that have not yet healed, and there is a temperament to be dealt with which "feels miserable, but finds comfort in wretchedness." But if financial nourishment can be administered for a year or two, it is anticipated that there will be strength to overcome the other ailments. Failing this aid, dissolution seems certain—either the falling away of the remaining fragments of an empire to the countries that surround Austria or the union of Austria with Germany or the Little Entente, which would be a sinking of its own separate existence in a larger sovereignty. The latter would, as Dr. SEIPEL suggests, "probably mean war."

The life of Austria and the reputation of the League of Nations depend upon the successful treatment of this serious case. Lord ROBERT CECIL's ambition for the League is gratified. It has before it one of the greatest of international questions. The greatest of physicians, however, have often found their skill of no avail, because of the delay in bringing the patients to them. But while there is life there is hope—and Austria has been at the point of death so often in the last few years that hope persists.

THE WELFARE OF BOXING.

Assemblyman MCKEE, in his campaign against commercialism in exhibitions of "the manly art of self-defense," has now made a strategic move by appealing to Governor MILLER to use his influence with the Legislature. Mr. MCKEE's letter to the Governor is in essentials a copy of the one which he sent to the State Athletic Commission in mid-August. He then asked that the maximum price for tickets be fixed at $7. It was $25 for championship bouts, but Chairman MULDOON announced on Wednesday that it would not cost more than $15 for the best seat at a set-to for the heavyweight title between DEMPSEY and WILLS. Also, the commission would require that 40,000 seats at $2 each be provided for the gallery gods. It is doubtful if this compromise would suit Mr. MCKEE, who urges upon Governor MILLER that "$7 is a very large sum to pay to see any professional boxing bout." Mr. MCKEE says:

> Unless drastic action is taken by you, disgrace must come to the State of New York. As the situation now stands, the State is tarred with the same stick as those profiteering from the excessive returns demanded and received by the professional fighters and their managers.

It is not quite so bad as that. The State is responsible for the Athletic Commission, and if that body should fail to regulate exhibitions and keep the sport clean the Legislature would have to apply a corrective. It might even become necessary to repeal the act permitting public exhibitions. That act put boxing upon its good behavior. It cannot flourish, it will not deserve the support of the community, if it is commercialized for the exorbitant profit of promoters, boxers and managers. The old Horton law died of gangrene. Chairman MULDOON of the State Athletic Commission has said himself: "The money-mad people in boxing have simply gone crazy. It is necessary to hold them down if the sport is to survive." DEMPSEY received $300,000 for a few minutes' boxing with the overmatched CARPENTIER, and it is no secret that the champion's manager thinks that $500,000 would not be too much for his appearance in the ring with the negro challenger. In a long career at the bar a learned lawyer, who appears before international tribunals and argues cases in the Supreme Court, does not receive as much for his services. In a term of four years in the White House the President is not paid more than DEMPSEY got for ten minutes' work on the stage of Boyle's Thirty Acres. For eight hours of honest ditch-digging the laborer is paid a wage that must be multiplied by 60,000 to equal the reward of that boxer.

DEMPSEY has no stain upon his title. He cannot be blamed for taking advantage of his opportunities. But if fortunes are carelessly thrown into the lap of the professional boxer, the strain upon the integrity of his parasites, not to speak of his own virtue, will be too great, and a sport will be ruined by greed and fraud. The State should order it so that citizens of moderate means can occupy good seats about the arena, and the precedent of devoting a part of the receipts to charity might be revived.

RESTORING THE GALLERY.

The Equity Players announces that during their season at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre they will charge only half a dollar for gallery seats, even on Saturday night, and that for Tuesday matinee the price will be a quarter. This is not a philanthropic move; it is a pure matter of business. At the price of a seat in the motion-picture palaces, the Olympus of the gallery is empty. But will the gods return? Most managers now build theatres with no gallery, believing that the old gods have passed beyond even a Wagnerian twilight.

If true, this is a pity. More than a high seat is comprised in true godhead. Wisdom and its impotive child, wit, were attributed to the gallery of old. During the first crucial weeks of a run, manager and playwright rubbed their bald spots against the ceiling as they watched for the authentic verdict there on high. On Olympus was felt the first warm breese of success, the first blast of failure. It is true that the gallery was conservative, scorning strange arts and new delights. When have the gods not been so? But their hearts were at one with established canons. Many of them were children and received there the training in fundamentals that qualified them later as steady and acute patrons in the lower theatre levels. The gallery was at once a citadel of tradition and a source of progress. If it has passed, the theatre is permanently poorer.

This is the day of the equalitarian—of the sort of equality, that is, which demands for everybody the material best. What matter if one slumbers at the movies? At least one sleeps first class, in a luxuriously upholstered chair. What profits the art of the theatre if the aroused consciousness sits apart, in a world remote from the temporal vale of bliss? It is the same throughout the world of a new democracy.

In Paris ROMAIN ROLLAND, with certain of his fellows in the love of poor humanity, set up a People's Theatre in which plays of MOLIÈRE and CORNEILLE and SHAKESPEARE were interspersed with advanced compositions of their own. Once or twice workmen came with their families. But they were neither allured by low prices nor flattered by having a theatre dedicated to their class. As ROLLAND sadly concedes, the poor of today set small store by the treasures of the spirit. They prefer to mingle with the bourgeoisie—into the world of which, as suggested by the more luxurious house and pictured upon the silver screen, they firmly intend to rise.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

At Least He Climbs No Mountain.

Compared with the three hours and ten seconds in the air achieved by one of the German drivers, or riders, of engineless planes launched from the Wasserkuppe Mountain, Mr. CURTISS's "flight" of nine seconds seems at first hardly worth attention. However, to float about on ascending air currents, when they are strong enough and steady enough, is one thing, while even to attempt forward progress in a horizontal wind, or in no wind at all, is quite another, and there is something of practical promise in any success so made, no matter how small.

Gliding that must start from mountain tops is interesting, and the German triumphs are not to be depreciated, but obviously a glider that needs only a brief pulling by a towboat to rise from the water hints at larger possibilities in the way of real aerial navigation—the navigation that begins anywhere and goes anywhere—than does a glider the journey of which must start on a mountain top.

To gain his altitude Mr. CURTISS treated his plane exactly as if it were a kite, and seemingly the length of this flight was limited by the amount of impetus attained and stored while in tow. He expects, however, to do more than that when he has a good wind, instead of nearly a dead calm. But is he quite sure that the albatross can and does take off from the crest of a wave without the energetic use of its wings? That is nearly or quite incredible, but it is a matter of observed fact, not of opinion as to what is or is not possible.

There long has been among some aviators a belief that, instead of making defiance of the wind their ideal, they should acquire the power to command and utilize it. The birds undoubtedly do that, some of them to a remarkable extent, and the birds are excellent models in their achievements, however it may be as regards their construction. No human flier ever will have wings as good as theirs or a motor as efficient, economic and trustworthy. What man does will have to be done with much poorer tools, but he may surpass the birds in all their activities, for all that, just as he has surpassed the other animals in all of theirs.

Minnesota Must Apologize.

Some of the peculiarities ascribed by Mr. LEWIS to some of the inhabitants of Gopher Prairie were displayed in Minneapolis when Vice President COOLIDGE attempted to make a speech at the State Fair. Not only did the assembled crowd fail to give him the courteous hearing which he had a right to expect, but it deliberately howled him into silence in spite of his brave efforts to go on.

Nobody present seems to have had any personal animosity to Mr. COOLIDGE; it was just that the speech delayed the running off of some horse races, and such representatives of Minnesotan humanity as a State Fair had attracted preferred the horse races to the speech. For that preference they may have had some excuse. The oratory of the Vice President does not appeal very strongly to everybody outside of Minnesota any more than to everybody in it, but good manners and common politeness can be claimed as a just due, especially by a man of Mr. COOLIDGE's eminence and respectability, and the treatment he received was something of a disgrace, first to Minnesota, and indirectly to the whole United States.

The chances are that Mr. COOLIDGE himself would have preferred racing to speechmaking, and that he had consented to speak as a duty rather than as a pleasure. That he should have been humiliated is regrettable because it showed lack of civilization on the part of those who treated him in this way.

A Hardship Purely Imaginary.

Complaints continue to be made because the gas companies in this city have been allowed to measure their product by definite thermal units instead of by indefinite candle power. In every instance, too, the complainants claim to be speaking in defense of the poor folk and to be protesting against the imposition upon them of an added expense for the purchase of the so-called mantles.

This contention is particularly absurd, for it is the poor even more than the rich whom the change of standard benefits. From the same amount of gas about three times as much of illumination can be obtained with a mantle as without one, and the poor should have equipped all of their burners with mantles long ago.

Whether or not, under the new ruling, the gas supplied is to have enough of thermal units to justify the permitted price—that is a wholly different question. The companies doubtless will keep the units as few as they can and the price as high as they can, but, no matter what the number, the requirement to buy the device which makes "fuel gas" a good and cheap illuminant is no hardship to anybody.

The candle-power standard should have been abandoned long ago—as soon, in fact, as the utility of gas mantles became generally known. In this, as in several other things, America is behind Europe, and New York, as usual, behind many of our smaller and less boastful cities.

"Aeons" Are Much Like "Never."

It was a good deal like beating the air for the President of the grave and much-respected British Association to take up time at its annual convention in Hull by prophesying that the time would come when all nations will be as one. He admitted that this would not happen for many aeons, which, for all practical purposes, is the same as saying that it never will happen.

Moreover, it is difficult to see anything of unification among the insect tribes. Professor SHERRINGTON mentioned these as one "peak" of evolution, the vertebrates being the other, and said that what the one had done the other would do—get together in harmony and brotherhood. That the insects as a whole have done this, or show the slightest tendency to do it, is so obviously untrue that there must be something wrong in the cabled report of his speech.

The few species of social insects have indeed developed to a wonderful degree what looks like individual devotion to community interests, but just as much have they developed a ruthless disregard for all interests except those of their own little nations.

WHO SOLD IRELAND?

Defense of Collins and Griffiths Against the Charges of Bad Faith.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The claim is made that Michael Collins, Arthur Griffith et al. sold Ireland. Apart from the fact that no Irishman, or combination of Irishmen, could sell Ireland, Collins never attempted to do so, and in Ireland's fight against Britain Collins was one of our greatest military gems.

If Ireland was sold, she was sold by de Valera in Dublin on that fateful day in August, 1921, when he dispatched his accredited emissaries to London to treat with Lloyd George in the face of the latter's ultimatum that an Irish Republic could not be considered. If there was any sale, it was in Dublin by de Valera; not in London by de Valera's own representatives. This fact de Valera well knows, for he sent out here the late Harry Boland to break the news gently that an Irish Republic could not be expected. His "ideal" having been barred by himself, he might as well have asked his emissaries to bring back from London a handful of London fog, or a pocketful of Scotch mist, and then traitorised them because they didn't.

Since then the people of the Free State voted by about two to one against de Valera and in favor of the agreement brought back by his own representatives. Against the expressed will of the Irish people, de Valera's cohorts are carrying fire and sword through Ireland, destroying Irish property, and this for an "ideal" de Valera himself relinquished and scrapped when he sent his emissaries to the London conference. As a constructive statesman, de Valera is a bad failure; as a destructive one, both in America and Ireland, his record will stand for some time.

ROBERT J. WADDELL.

THE RUNAWAY SCHOOLMISTRESS.

Furry silver of the frost-touched leaves will fall;
Sparkling dawn will find Shamefaced asters blackened by the wall;
From the schoolhouse on the windy hill
The first school bell will call;
Spongy school books like crumpled toadstools will lie
On slippery desks—and a pellet ready for the teacher's eye;
The identical dance will be grinning by the wall—
I'll not be there, I'll not be there, I'll not be there at all.

Between my lips I've had the sweetness of the city dust.
I love it, and I'll stop my ears and go
Where cheeks are painted pink and shiny motors flow.
I'll buy a baker's crust;
I'll wear my soles to holes on pavement stones—
I'm mad to go, I must, I must.

Toppling hay will rumble to red barns—tonk, tonk!
The red wine-saps will gleam smashed in the ruts
By cider mills and copper pulp will turn
Grasshoppers drunk.
Old men will gather nubbly bags of
butternuts;
The deacon's hulking boy will loathe his Latin
And, as usual, flunk;
Chinese wiggly writing—wild geese in the gold
Over Joe English Hill—cry, faint and cold,
Good-bye! honk, honk!—
I'll not be there, I'll not be there, I'll
not be there at all.

FLORENCE WILKINSON.

ETCHINGS BY EMIL FUCHS.

Sculptor and Painter's Versatility Shown in Exhibition at Keppel's.

Interesting as a collection of etchings and doubly interesting as a recent revelation of the versatility of a well-known artist is the exhibition of his first work with the etcher's needle by Emil Fuchs, now being shown at the Keppel Galleries. Mr. Fuchs is both sculptor and painter, also musician, and now etcher. There are some 26 of these etchings, including a few small ones, 2 by 3, hung in a compartment by themselves in the galleries. They are chiefly portraits and studies of the nude and represent the work done by Mr. Fuchs in this line since he began three months ago.

"Beatrix," sweet-faced, is a portrait after a painting; "Molly" is a serious-faced girl with long hair, one of the largest of the etchings, 9 by 12; "Elisabeth Carnaville" is another head with a serious and interesting face. An unnamed portrait is of a young woman with downcast eyes, lovely smile and hair parted in the centre and fluffing out softly on either side. Smiling, ugly and interesting is the head of an "Italian Peasant Woman," and another Italian face, strong and serious, is that of "Philomena Vita."

DENBY SURPRISED.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—His face burned to a deep brown by the suns of the Orient, Secretary Denby stopped in Chicago for an hour today while changing trains in his hurried return to the Navy Department at Washington, after a four months' sojourn in the Far East. Accompanying him were his wife and two children, Edwin Jr. and Marion.

"While I was away I heard that there was a strike in progress here," he said. "I imagined from reports current that the trains were running when they got a chance, and that I might experience trouble in getting to Washington. I heard of the battles between the union men and the railroad owners, and I supposed that every stop would see a lot of bricks being thrown through windows. But in spite of that I wish to say that my trip across the coast has been entirely uneventful as far as disturbance and the running of trains was concerned."

ENVOY CONFERS ON TACNA.

Collier Sees Chilean President—Protocol Debated at Lima.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 7.—William M. Collier, United States Ambassador to Chile, who has just returned after a visit to the United States, conferred at length yesterday with President Alessandri. It is understood that the Washington negotiations concerning the dispute between Chile and Peru over the provinces of Tacna and Arica formed the subject of discussion.

Carlos Aldunate, one of the Chilean signatories of the Tacna-Arica protocol, who is in Paris, will return to Chile immediately, according to a cable message received today. It is understood that his journey is in connection with the situation caused by the discussions over the proposed ratification of the protocol now in progress here.

LIMA, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Secret debate on the ratification of the Tacna-Arica protocol was begun last night at a joint session of the houses of Congress. The Minister of Foreign Relations was present to take part in the debate.

HINTON LANDS IN HAITI.

Will Resume Flight for Brazil This Morning.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Lieutenant Walter Hinton, in the airplane Sampaio Correia II., arrived here at noon today on his trip from the United States to Rio Janeiro.

Lieutenant Hinton and his party called on United States Commissioner Russell and later were received by President Borno.

The trip here from Nipe Bay, Cuba, was an uneventful one. The aviators plan to leave here early Friday for Santo Domingo City, en route to Porto Rico. They will be accompanied by Marine Corps seaplanes.

ANTILLA, Cuba, Sept. 7.—Lieutenant Walter Hinton, in command of the seaplane Sampaio Correia II., after spending the night at this port, took off at 7:10 this morning for Port au Prince, Haiti.

ANTHEM CAUSES FRICTION.

Filipinos and Soldiers Clash Over "The Star-Spangled Banner."

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—America's anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," is causing friction between American soldiers and Filipinos, according to Dr. T. P. Pardo De Tavera, Filipino member of the First Philippine Commission during the Taft regime. Soldiers, he stated in a letter to Mayor Fernandez, are enforcing in no gentle way the customary honors to the anthem when it is played at the close of the open air concerts given twice weekly by the Philippine Constabulary band.

Dr. De Tavera recommended that the band be instructed to discontinue the practice of concluding the concerts with the national anthem. Two American soldiers asked Filipinos why they did not stand. De Tavera stated that another American soldier snatched a hat from a Filipino who did not uncover.

CLAIMS CURE FOR GOITRE.

Los Angeles Chemist Says Diet of Kelp Gives Iodine Needed to End It.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—Chemistry has developed a new food product that is of great value in the treatment of goitre, according to J. W. Turrentine of Los Angeles, Cal., whose paper on "The Use of Kelp in the Preparation of a Diet Amendment for Use in the Treatment and Prevention of Deficiency Diseases, Particularly Goitre," was read today before the Division of Biological Chemistry of the American Chemical Society.

"From the seaweed, kelp," he said, "there is prepared a carrier for the iodine in both organic and inorganic combination and likewise the saline constituents of sea water together with useful alimentary aids naturally present within those plants. It is agreed by all students of goitre that the disease is attributable to the deficiency of iodine in the diet. Kelp furnishes the iodine."

WEEKS ORDERS STUDY OF MILITIA

OPPOSES INFANTRY ONLY

Secretary Believes Eighteen Foot and Three Cavalry Divisions Is Proper Organization Basis.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Secretary Weeks announced today that he had issued a call for a special committee to make a comprehensive study of the National Guard with a view to determining its proper strength, taking into consideration both opinions concerning the necessity for economy in the military establishment and those on adequate preparedness for emergency.

In an official statement the Secretary said he was most anxious that the United States should have an adequate military defense at the minimum of expense, and that whenever the War Department had objected to legislation with that end in view the opposition had been the result of a conviction that the legislation proposed was "not economic and was not compatible with the safety of the nation."

Mr. Weeks expressed opposition to proposals that the National Guard should consist of infantry only. Such organization, the Secretary said, would make the National Guard useless until artillery could be trained, and its effectiveness in any war would be delayed by approximately a year. In his opinion the proper basis for the National Guard organization was eighteen infantry divisions and three cavalry divisions. With such units the National Guard would be able to function efficiently in any emergency.

"With the regular army skeletonized and the National Guard unorganized," he declared, "our country would have no first line of defense.

"Suggestions have come to me from National Guard sources," he continued, "that the ultimate strength of the National Guard should be 250,000 instead of 427,000. Under the present law a strength of 800 is allotted to each State for each of its Senators and Congressmen. As a result such States as Delaware and Nevada will be forced to have eventually a larger guard in proportion to their population than such States as New York and Pennsylvania. Other States complain that they are unable to maintain such special units as tanks, airplanes, &c.

"Therefore, in order that the National Guard may be organized along same and sound lines, that its ultimate strength may be just what it should be, and neither too large nor too small, that it may escape the handicap of having its growth retarded by appropriations, the call for the special committee has been issued."

On this committee the National Guard will have a majority representation. This means that the chief men in the National Guard will be represented, though it does not necessarily mean that all will be Major Generals.

"As a result of this study," Mr. Weeks said, "I propose to be able to go before Congress and say definitely and correctly, this is the kind of National Guard we must have—these are the minimum, not the maximum, requirements."

MAIL TUBE BID ACCEPTED.

System Will Again Be Operated Between Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—After four years of suspended service the transmission of mail between Manhattan and Brooklyn, New York, by pneumatic tube is to be resumed. The Post Office Department today accepted the bid of the New York Pneumatic Tube Service Company for the installation and operation of the necessary tubes. This company was the only bidder. Post Offices in Manhattan and Brooklyn and 23 postal stations will get the benefit of the service.

The New York Pneumatic Tube Service Company has informed the Post Office Department that it expects to have 75 per cent. of the tube service in operation by Oct. 1 and the remainder soon after the beginning of 1923.

When Albert S. Burleson was Postmaster General, he made a fight against the continuance of the pneumatic tube system in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis, where only one was in use. Congress gave authority to discontinue the service and it was abandoned on June 30, 1918, in all five cities.

APPROVES CROWDER BILL.

Cuban House Opens Way to Suspend Havana Officials.

HAVANA, Sept. 7.—The Cuban House of Representatives has approved and sent to President Zayas a bill which would in effect authorize the courts to suspend virtually the entire Havana City Administration.

It empowers the instructional courts to suspend any public official under indictment, and, as Mayor Diaz de Villegas and a large number of his officials are under charges of misappropriating public funds, they would be amenable to the act.

The Havana officials were indicted on Nov. 5, 1921. The State's Attorney presented his case in court on March 16 last, asking heavy penalties; but the men have never been brought to trial.

The measure is part of the emergency legislative program recommended to the Cuban Government by Major Gen. E. H. Crowder, personal representative of President Harding.

LUNCHEON FOR EXPLORERS.

Members of Putnam Expedition Have a Farewell Entertainment.

A farewell luncheon was given at Sherry's yesterday for the members of the expedition headed by George P. Putnam, who will start on Saturday on a tour of the American wilderness. The party's itinerary includes Chicago as the first stopping place, a tour of Yellowstone National Park, the Columbia River Highway by motor and the final destination, Oregon.

Among those at the luncheon were the Intrepid Captain W. H. Truesdell (George C. Chappell), Frank Crownshield, Frank Craven, Wallace Irwin, Charles Hanson Towne, George P. Putnam, Heywood Broun, John Weaver, Ruth Hale, Walter Kingsley, Douglas Cook and John Farrar.

REPORT ON TARIFF MONDAY.

Conferees Are Expected to Announce Agreement or Disagreement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The House adjourned today until Monday after Chairman Campbell of the rules committee, as acting republican leader, announced that he expected the conferees on the tariff bill to report an agreement on that day.

Failing to agree, they were expected, he said, to report a disagreement and ask for instructions.

EMILY S. HAMMOND BRIDE AT MT. KISCO

Kin of Late Wm. H. Vanderbilt Marries John M. Franklin in St. Mark's Church.

MISS ALICE HARDING WEDS

Daughter of Governor of Federal Reserve Board Marries Robert T. Pell at Beverly Farms.

John Merryman Franklin, elder son of Philip A. S. Franklin, President of the International Mercantile Marine Company, and Mrs. Franklin, of New York and Southampton, and Miss Emily Sloane Hammond, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Hammond of New York, and granddaughter of Mrs. Henry White and the late William Douglas Sloane, and great granddaughter of the late William H. Vanderbilt, were married at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Mark's Church, Mount Kisco, by the Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, an old friend of the bride's parents. The church wedding was small owing to the limited seating capacity of the church, and many more guests attended the reception at Dellwood, the Hammond country place at Mount Kisco.

Miss Adele Sloane Hammond was her sister's maid of honor. Two other sisters, the Misses Alice and Rachel Hammond, and a cousin, Miss Louise Morris, were bridesmaids. The Misses Elizabeth Franklin, a sister of Mr. Franklin; Cornelia Page, Katherine Post and Mrs. Henry H. Landon, Jr., also attended the bride. Mr. Franklin's brother, P. A. S. Franklin Jr., was the best man, and the ushers included Edward E. Condon, Moseley Taylor of Boston, William Augustus Read, George C. White, Eliot Hoff, Hugh Kelleher, C. Van R. Halsey, Powell Cabot, Murray Taylor and J. H. Hammond Jr.

Mrs. Franklin's great aunt, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, came from Newport to attend the wedding, and her grandmother, Mrs. Henry White, and Mr. White, came from Lenox.

McKnight—Searing.

The marriage of Miss Emily M. Searing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Searing of Montclair, N. J., and Clark W. McKnight of Mason City, Ill., took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Jay T. Stocking officiated.

Mark—Delany.

The marriage of Miss Vivienne Mabel Delany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Delany of South Orange, N. J., and Dr. Joseph Sidney Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mark of Woodbridge, N. J., took place in the chapel of the Municipal Building yesterday morning. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at Delmonico's.

Pell—Harding.

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 8.—Miss Alice Moore Harding, daughter of William P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, of Washington, today became the bride of Robert Thompson Pell, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell of New York and Fort Ticonderoga, N. Y.

The ceremony was at noon in the little St. John's Episcopal Church at Beverly Farms, which was crowded with friends and relatives. The Rev. Neilson Poe Carey, Rector of St. John's, officiated.

ERIC HATCH WEDS SECRETLY

Married in Maryland Last Monday to Miss Whiton-Stuart.

Eric Hatch, son of Frederick H. Hatch of New York City and Woodmere, and Miss Sylvia Whiton-Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whiton-Stuart of Greenwich, Conn., were married in Elkton, Md., on Monday, it became known last night. Mr. Hatch is 21 years old, a graduate of St. Paul's School of Concord, and is now in business with his father in the firm of Frederick H. Hatch and Co., investment securities, 74 Broadway.

After the wedding the young couple returned to Mr. Hatch's home in Woodmere, where they are visiting the bridegroom's parents.

The engagement of the couple had been rumored for some time and the wedding Monday forestalled a formal announcement. It was understood from dispatches from Matawan, N. J., that the young couple, accompanied by Miles Vernon, a friend, took time by the forelock on Sunday and started out to get married. According to Mayor Sutphin of Matawan, N. J., the couple appeared before him on Sunday with a request that he marry them. As they had no New Jersey license and had not complied with the State law requiring a residence of forty-eight hours, he declined to act. From that point, it was reported, they motored to Connecticut and from there to Maryland, where they were married on the following day.

ENGAGEMENTS.

Dr. Louis T. Klinker of this city has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Wilhelmina Barbara Klinker, to J. Dunkak Peper, a son of Mrs. Frederick H. Peper of this city. Mr. Peper is a graduate of St. John's Military Academy at Manlius, N. Y., and his mother is a member of the Board of Governors of the New York Mozart Society. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. Seneca D. Powell of Portland, Me., has announced the engagement of her niece, Miss Kathryn Raymond Cudlipp, to Henry Eckert Mead of this city and Boston. Miss Mead is a graduate of Barnard College of '03, and a member of the Harvard Club of this city. The wedding will take place in the early winter.

Mrs. Coulter D. Huyler of Round Hill, Conn., has announced the engagement of her sister, Miss Adelaide Porter, to Hugh Marshall, a brother of Frenhoim H. Marshall, also of Round Hill. No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Blair of North Plainfield, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Blair, to Alexander Milne Jr., a son of Counsellman Alexander Milne and Mrs. Milne, also of North Plainfield.

RECEPTION AT BAILEY CLUB.

Westchester Residents at "Get Together Meeting" in Bailey Park.

Four hundred society folk from Mount Vernon and other parts of Westchester County attended a reception and "get together meeting" last night at the new Bailey Park Country Club on East Lincoln Avenue, Mount Vernon.

The clubhouse was formerly the country home of the late James A. Bailey, the circus man, and has been turned over to the club with all its furnishings. The new club was only recently formed and the membership is rapidly growing. The new eighteen-hole golf course will be completed next Spring. Close to the club on the Bailey estate will be erected the new Bailey Park Hotel with 500 rooms.

The total amount to be expended on the buildings will be about $3,000,000. The reception was attended by club members, their families and friends.

The reception committee was made up of Mrs. Reeves Chairman; Mrs. W. H. Fowler, Mrs. W. R. Purdy, Mrs. F. T. Davis, Mrs. J. S. Watson, Charles R. Johnson, George R. Conner, G. E. Axerson, Robert T. Fowler and E. H. Hufnagel.

Muriel McCormick at St. Regis.

Miss Muriel McCormick, daughter of Harold McCormick of Chicago, is at the St. Regis with Mlle. Graziella Pareto, a Spanish opera singer, now with the Chicago Opera Company. Miss McCormick is studying for the opera and plans to be here for several weeks with Mlle. Pareto.

SEEK MONROE'S LAST HOME AS MEMORIAL

Sulgrave Institution Members Hope to Acquire Building at Prince and Lafayette Streets.

ENRIGHT SUGGESTED PLAN

Purpose to Dedicate House on 100th Anniversary of Famous Doctrine Named for Former President.

Acting on a motion by Police Commissioner Richard E. Enright, the Sulgrave Institution decided yesterday to make an effort to purchase the last home of President Monroe, a three-story brick building now used as a rag sorting establishment at the corner of Prince and Lafayette Streets. When acquired the property will be restored and maintained as a memorial to the author of the Monroe Doctrine. According to present plans, it will be dedicated and opened on Dec. 8, 1923, the 100th anniversary of the promulgation of the Doctrine.

A committee was appointed to include Commissioner Enright, Charles Stewart Davison, Dr. George F. Kunz, Walter Jennings, L. Gordon Hammersley, Andrew R. Humphrey, Robert Grier Cooke, Judge Alton B. Parker and John A. Stewart, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Sulgrave Institution, which will take steps immediately in the matter of buying the historic landmark. Major Louis Livingston Seaman subscribed $1,000 to the fund for acquiring and restoring the building.

For more than a year now the Sulgrave Institution has been considering ways and means of properly celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Monroe Doctrine. At the meeting yesterday, which was held in the Lawyers' Club, Commissioner Enright brought the subject of buying the last home of President Monroe. The Commissioner brought with him photographs of the house as well as a facsimile of a contemporary newspaper account of the death of President Monroe on July 4, 1831. He said that in his opinion the Institution would have no difficulty in arousing public sentiment in favor of the restoration of Monroe's death place.

In the discussion that followed the members of the Institution who were present gave their unanimous approval to the plan. A cablegram was drafted and sent to the President of Brazil congratulating that nation on the 100th anniversary of its independence, and in the message it was announced that Sulgrave was going to restore and maintain the last home of the President who enunciated the doctrine that had meant so much to the countries on this side of the Atlantic Ocean.

The building was the home of Samuel L. Gouverneur, President Monroe's son-in-law. The President lived there a year before his death. It is at present owned by the C. and M. Envelope Company, and it is said by members of the Institution to be on the market so far as Sulgrave is concerned.

Major and Mrs. Louis Livingston Seaman will give a dinner at the Army and Navy Club, 112 West Fifty-ninth Street, next Monday evening to the members of the Sulgrave Institution. They are over here to present to the American people memorials of William Pitt, Edmund Burke and Viscount Bryce.

The delegates are Sir Charles Wakefield, former Lord Mayor of London, and Lady Wakefield; Sir Arthur Pugsley Haworth, M. P., President of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and Junior Lord of the Treasury, and Lady Haworth; Sir William Letts, M. P.; Harold Spender, the author and journalist; H. S. Ferris, Director of the British Sulgrave Institution; the Right Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, and Lady Lemieux; Lieut. Gov. William MacCallum Grant and Lady Grant of Nova Scotia, and the Australian High Commissioner to the United States.

The Pitt memorial will be unveiled in Pittsburgh on Sept. 14, a statue of Edmund Burke will be unveiled in Washington by President Harding on Oct. 10 and busts of Viscount Bryce will be presented to Congress on Oct. 11 and to Trinity Church here about Oct. 13.

EX-KAISER PERSUADED TO GIVE UP MARRIAGE

Ex-Crown Prince and Monarchists Opposed Match With Princess Hermione of Reuss.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.
Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—In Royalist circles here great reticence is observed regarding the reported engagement of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm to Princess Hermione of Reuss [elder line] but I learn on high authority that it is quite unlikely that such a marriage will take place. What has happened is as follows:

Since the death of the ex-Kaiserin the Royal and Imperial exile has, I am told, felt "desperately lonely." There is little or no congenial society for him and as Doorn Castle has no mistress things do not run on smoothly and comfortably at times. Princess Hermione, who is a charming and accomplished woman of little more than half the ex-Kaiser's age, has been a guest at Doorn on several occasions and the lonely exile was so much attracted by her that betrothal and marriage were in the end discussed.

When the first whisper of this reached monarchist circles in Berlin and Potsdam, however, several influential personages departed post haste for Doorn to persuade the ex-Kaiser not to marry the Princess. The ex-Crown Prince was appealed to and he, too, went to Doorn to endeavor to prevent matters from going any farther.

The main objections are that the Princess is not of equal birth with the ex-Kaiser and that she has a family of five children. Such a marriage, the ex-Kaiser has been told by his closest friends and advisers, would not be looked on by royalists as a suitable one and it would undoubtedly endanger his and the monarchists' cause.

As a result of the very strong representations of his eldest son and his friends the ex-Kaiser gave way and said that he abandoned his intention to marry. It is feared, however, that once his advisers leave and he feels lonely again the project will be revived and he will carry it through in his well known impetuous way.

Princess Hermione is not, as has been stated, a young widow. Her husband died in April, 1920. She has a sister who is active on the literary side of the cinema industry.

AIRMEN HONOR RETURN OF LORETTO STATUE

Circle Over Church When New Figure of Their Protectress Is Placed There.

Copyright, 1922, by The New York Times Company.
By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MILAN, Sept. 7.—Airmen circled over the church to meet their protectress today when the new statue of Our Lady of Loretto was placed in the Church of the Sacred House at Loretto.

It was an event of the first importance to Catholics, millions of whom from all over the world have gone on pilgrimages to the "Black Madonna" since in 1296 A. D., according to Catholic tradition, angels flew from Nazareth to Loretto, bringing with them the "Sacred House," above which is the church building. It is because of this tradition of the midnight flight of angels that airmen have chosen the "Black Madonna" as their protectress.

In February of last year a mysterious fire, while leaving intact the magnificent church, enriched by so many Popes, burned the statue, which had been there for centuries. Ever since the thirteenth century it had been the custom for all the churches of the surrounding countryside to peal their bells joyously through the night of Dec. 9-10, appropriated to the celebration of the flight, as a greeting to the angelic visitors. Last December, however, the bells were silent, for the Madonna's niche was empty.

Orders were given by the late Pope Benedict XV. for a new statue to be prepared, Italian artists being entrusted with the task of making an exact replica of the former one from photographs. It was originally intended to carve it from cedar of Lebanon, but owing to various difficulties it has been cut out of cedar taken from the Vatican gardens.

Pope Pius crowned the figure of the Madonna on Monday, the crown, his own gift, being of gold and precious stones of great value. After being shown to the faithful in Rome, the statue was conveyed by car to Loretto, while Cardinals and other high church dignitaries accompanied it there.

From today until Sunday great celebrations will be held in honor of the return of Our Lady. Airmen will circle aloft and next December the church bills will again sound gladly through the night.

SARANAC GIRL SEEKS SLAIN JACK BERGEN

Says He Was Her Sweetheart and She Didn't Know He Had Been Killed.

WAITING FOR HIS RETURN

Disappears After Asking Saranac Lake Policeman for News of Her Movie Hero.

A belated echo of the recent killing of movie daredevil Jack Bergen in Edgewater, N. J., came from the Adirondacks yesterday, when a girl there, all unknowing of the lurid end of Bergen's life at the hands of an avenging husband, George F. Cline, innocently disclosed herself to a Saranac Lake policeman as Bergen's sweetheart, and begged information as to when he would return to the mountains, where he had been on locations.

Not until the policeman had found an old newspaper telling of the shooting would the girl, who gave her name as Maude Boyea, believe that her Jack had been a sinister character. Even then it took the disclosure that he had been a married man instead of the single Lothario of his pose to convince her that he was unworthy of her sympathy.

The girl's revelations were as naive as her pretty face. A trim Miss of 18 or less, she accosted Lawrence Duquette, a policeman, on the street. She asked him whether he had heard news of the man who had been a local hero while doubling for stars whose lives are too precious to risk, in hair-raising scenes of movies "shot" in the mountain lakes and rivers of the Saranac country. The policeman first questioned the girl to make sure that she was not joking with him. She told him that she lived some distance from Standish and far off the railroad. Told of the movie man's death, she said that not only she, but her neighbors who had taken great interest in seeing the films made near their homes, had heard no hint of Bergen's death.

"Jack promised he would write to me," she said, when she had recovered from the shock of the news. "I watched every mail, but no letter came. He said he was coming back. He told me he was only going as far as Saranac Lake, and that I could reach him there." Miss Bould said that after she had met Bergen near her home he had returned to visit her frequently.

In the middle of the conversation the policeman was called away when the fire alarm rang, and when he returned the girl had walked off. She told a clerk in the store in front of which she was standing, said a Saranac dispatch, that she was stopping at a local hotel, but the police were unable to find her. A search was started for her and an effort made to communicate with her home. She was described as of the French type and remarkably good looking.

JOHN BARRYMORE TO ACT HAMLET THIS FALL

Hopkins Star, Absent From Stage a Year, Also to Play in 'Richard III.' and 'Redemption.'

In confirmation of a report already printed in THE TIMES, announcement was made yesterday by Arthur Hopkins that John Barrymore will return to the stage this season in "Hamlet." After "Hamlet." After "Hamlet," Mr. Barrymore will be seen for a limited time in "Richard III." and "Redemption," both of which he has acted here before.

Mr. Barrymore suffered a breakdown while acting in "Richard III." in the Spring of 1920, and his only stage appearance since then was made at the Empire Theatre, a year later, in "Clair de Lune." In the interim, however, he has been seen in a number of motion pictures.

Mr. Barrymore's appearance as Hamlet is scheduled for November. The scenery for the production will be designed by Robert Edmond Jones, and it is reported that Mr. Jones will again have recourse to the much-discussed method introduced by him in "Macbeth" last season.

With John Barrymore's return made certain, all three of the Barrymores will be seen on the New York stage this season. Ethel Barrymore will begin a season at the Longacre Theatre on Sept. 26 and Lionel Barrymore will be seen in "The Fountain," a new O'Neill play.

AGAINST CENSORING BOOKS.

Sir Gilbert Parker Says the Reading Public Is the Best Judge.

Propaganda for a censorship of literature and for a national censorship of motion pictures was denounced yesterday by Sir Gilbert Parker, who arrived in this country on the Homeric.

"It is ridiculous for one man to set himself up to decide what people shall and shall not read," he said. "It would be an attempt to impose his temperamental and intellectual limitations on the general public. The reading public is the best judge whether a book is moral or immoral. The laws in the States cover the question of obscenity and, when enforced, are sufficient safeguards for the general public."

LAW BARS MRS. VANDERLIP.

Failure to Enroll Stops Her Becoming Member of County Committee.

OSSINING, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The petition nominating Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, wife of the former President of the National City Bank, for membership from the eleventh district on the Republican County Committee, was rejected by the Board of Elections here today when it was discovered that she did not enroll as a Republican at the last election, as required by law.

The petition was circulated by friends of Mrs. Vanderlip without her solicitation.

"Banco" at Ritz Theatre Sept. 20.

"Banco," a French comedy by Alfred Savoir, author of "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," will be produced at the Ritz Theatre by William Harris one Wednesday night, Sept. 20. Clare Kummer has made the adaptation and Lola Fisher and Alfred Lunt will have the leading roles.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

"The Deer-Mats," by E. S. Sheldon, will be produced soon by A. G. Delamater.

The Park Music Hall will open tonight with the Minsky Brothers' burlesque production.

Channing Pollock's "The Fool," which will be seen in New York in November, will be produced in London by Frank Curzon.

"The Lady in Ermine," which comes to the Nixon Theatre during the week of the 18th, will open in Atlantic City next Monday night.

Harry K. Morton and Zelda Sisnett have joined the cast of "Springtime of Youth," a forthcoming musical piece.

Keith's Colonial Theatre will reopen on Sept. 18.

Musical directing Jewish Art Theatre will begin its fifth season on the 3rd Garden Theatre on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 23.

The greatest musical score ever written for a feature motion picture has been composed for Cosmopolitan Productions' "When Knighthood Was In Flower," with Marion Davies as the star, and which opens at the Criterion Theatre, September 14th, by William Frederick Peters, who composed the music for "Orphans Of The Storm" and "Way Down East." Victor Herbert, the foremost American composer, has contributed two original numbers. The first is "Marion Davies March," written in honor of the young star, who, as Princess Mary Tudor, achieves the climax of her career. This will be used for the marches and other stirring scenes. A beautiful waltz entitled "When Knighthood Was In Flower" furnishes the love motive for the picture, and was also composed by Mr. Herbert.

You didn't think we meant you!
WHEN we told you that milk contained all the vitamines known to science; when we explained why it should be included in the diet of every man and woman and child; when we showed that dieticians agreed that milk was a most vital food regardless of what other foods formed your diet; when we said that in and near New York the milk was as pure and good as any in the whole world and that everybody should drink a quart a day—you didn't think we meant you.
We did!

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The pressure has increased in the Eastern States and it is now high generally east of the Mississippi River, and it is also high and rising rapidly over the Far Northwest. An extensive system of low pressure covers the plains States and Rocky Mountain region, but without any well-defined disturbance within its confines.

The weather became cool Thursday in the Atlantic States north of Virginia and decidedly cooler over the Far Northwest. The warm wave continued with undiminished intensity in the middle and southern Plains States and the great central valley. Temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were reported Thursday from parts of Oklahoma, Western Arkansas, Kansas, Eastern Nebraska and Southwestern Iowa.

There have been showers within the last twenty-four hours in extreme Southern New York, on the South New England Coast and along the East Gulf Coast and the northern border from the Great Lakes westward to the Pacific Coast. Fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

The outlook is for generally fair weather Friday and Saturday in the Washington forecast district, except that local showers are probable Friday and Saturday in Florida and Saturday along the northern border from the Great Lakes eastward. The temperature will rise Friday and Saturday in the Atlantic States north of Virginia and warm weather will continue Friday and Saturday in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee and the East Gulf States. The indications are for cooler weather Saturday in the plains States, where intensely warm weather has prevailed for the last several days.

HIRSHFIELD VEXED BY BALKY WITNESS

Threatens to Prosecute Reporter for Refusing to Name Peddlers Who Charged Graft.

MAKES ATTACK ON RUSTON

Says Brooklyn District Attorney Has Blocked Him in Theatre and Pushcart Inquiries.

Maurice J. Racusin, a reporter on The New York Tribune, was threatened with contempt proceedings by Commissioner of Accounts Hirshfield, yesterday, because the witness refused to answer certain questions on the ground that it would degrade him to reveal confidential sources of information.

Mr. Racusin was called as a witness in the inquiry of the Commissioner of Accounts into charges of graft in the market departments under Market Commissioner O'Malley. Racusin was the author of a series of articles purporting to expose pushcart graft.

"Tell what you know about pushcart graft," directed the Commissioner.

"You ask me questions," said the witness.

Mr. Hirshfield said this was impossible, because, knowing of no pushcart graft, he was not equipped to ask questions. Racusin then testified that he knew of specific instances in which market supervisors had taken graft from peddlers.

"How do you know this?" asked Commissioner Hirshfield.

"I know it from peddlers who told it to me," replied the witness.

"And who are these peddlers?" asked Commissioner Hirshfield.

"I shall have to decline to answer that question," replied Mr. Racusin. "I received the information in confidence and consequently cannot divulge the names of the informants."

Earlier in the hearing, pushcart peddlers and supervisors, who crowded the hearing room, broke into cheers and applause for Mayor Hylan and Commissioner O'Malley. The shout of confidence in the City Administration came after Commissioner Hirshfield had asked the throng to express their approval or disapproval of the present pushcart market supervising system.

Commissioner Hirshfield attacked District Attorney Ruston of Brooklyn.

"It seems to me," he said, "that District Attorney Ruston is assuming a new position every twenty-four hours. When the American Theatre collapsed, I started an investigation. Some time later he started an investigation and then wrote to the Mayor that my investigation be called off until he got through. His investigation resulted in the indictment of four peddlers, but so far as I can learn, these persons have not, as yet, been brought to trial. In the meantime, I can do nothing.

"Now, I have been attempting to investigate certain accusations that there is graft in the Market Department among the pushcart supervisors. Ruston, for political reasons, and thinking he had a ten-strike in his hands, also starts an investigation. Remembering his attitude in the American Theatre collapse probe, I suspended my inquiry. He then wrote to the Mayor, insisting that I go on. I am going on, and to the very bottom of these charges."

13 BEGGARS ARRESTED; 12 SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Second Roundup in Crusade Against Mendicancy Clears Herald Square Section.

Continuing the crusade begun last week against beggars, Detectives Snydecker, Patton and Meyer, attached to the staff of Chief Inspector Lahey, yesterday afternoon and last night rounded up thirteen mendicants, mostly in the Herald Square section and on Fifth Avenue near Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Streets. Unlike the seven arraigned in a court last Saturday on a charge of mendicancy, the prisoners last night with one exception, apparently were enjoying the best of health and were not bereft of limbs or eyesight. Magistrate Frothingham in Night Court sentenced twelve to the workhouse, their terms ranging from ten to thirty days.

Armless and eyeless, John Sladhta of 420 First Avenue was a pitiful sight as he stood before the Court. Throughout the hearing his hat remained on his head, something attendants said they did not remember ever having happened in Night Court before. Magistrate Frothingham expressed an interest in the case and held Sladhta for further investigation. His case will come up for sentence Saturday night.

Sladhta's stand, according to Detective Meyer, was at the subway station at Thirty-third Street and Park Avenue, where he admitted he collected from $10 to $20 a day. His statement to the detective was that of this amount he performed only $3 a day, the remainder going to a man who each day took him to the stand from his home and returned for him late in the afternoon. Detectives remained around the subway station until late in the afternoon in the hope that the man would show up to take Sladhta home, but he failed to appear.

For the second time within a week William Burns, fingerprint expert, had to take prints of toes instead of fingers. In the first round-up of mendicants there was one armless man.

FAVOR HYLAN TRANSIT PLAN.

Mayor Makes Public Two Letters of Commendation.

Two more letters commending Mayor Hylan's transit plan were made public yesterday at the Mayor's office. Municipal Court Justice Timothy A. Leary, Chairman of the Transit Committee of the Yorkville Chamber of Commerce, wrote:

"I have studied the plan for new subways which you announced and I consider it the most complete layout of routes that has yet been made. To my mind every one of the routes is essential to the growth of the city, especially the lines in Manhattan and the Bronx. The First Avenue line, running through Webster Avenue and Boston Road, will relieve transit congestion in the Bronx as well as on the east side of Manhattan. The Amsterdam Avenue-Broadway-Tenth Avenue line will solve the transit problem and eliminate transit congestion throughout the entire west side."

A letter from Ernesto J. Chioseo read:

"As one of John Purroy Mitchel's personal appointees as Secretary to the Department of Bridges in his administration and as a Republican who worked tooth and nail to defeat you when you ran for your first term as Mayor, I have followed closely your wonderful transit policy, and I now take the liberty to write to you to commend you for the wonderful and sensible transit plan which you are trying to put through against many sinister interests. It is a scheme and a disgrace to the good name of this city that the taxpayers' money should be used to support a Transit Commission which blocks and spends its valuable time against the best interests of the much-abused traveling public."

BRAZIL CELEBRATES IN A JOYOUS RIOT

GREAT MILITARY PAGEANT

Review of Brazilian Troops and Foreign Detachments Attended by Visiting Envoys.

NATIONS SEND GREETINGS

Harding Congratulates President Pessoa—League Assembly Also Observes the Day at Geneva.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Brazil's celebration of the hundredth anniversary of her independence was inaugurated this morning at one minute after the stroke of 12 amid festivities and booming of cannon.

The Avenida Beira-Mar, the shoreline boulevard, and neighboring streets were crowded with people afoot and in automobiles, and the Brazilian national anthem and other patriotic songs were heard on all sides. The foreign warships in the harbor formally saluted the opening of Centennial Day.

After a day replete with official ceremonies and military demonstrations, the people of Rio de Janeiro broke loose tonight in a riot of festive spirit never before equaled in this always gay capital. More than 100,000 marched in a great civic parade down the broad Avenida Rio Branco, which glittered with electric lights and flamed with multi-colored flags of all nations.

Scores of civic organizations were in line, with banners and bands, chanting the Brazilian national anthem and shouting the famous "City of Ypiranga," the words of Dom Pedro on the banks of the Ypiranga River a hundred years ago, when he exclaimed "Independence or death," and thereby broke away from Portugal and became Emperor of Brazil.

One of the greatest assemblages of armed forces in Brazil's history gathered at 8 o'clock this morning at the Campo Saochristovao, when President Epitacio Pessoa and the entire Cabinet, accompanied by the foreign missions and diplomats, reviewed 40,000 regulars, marinists, state militia, fire troops, the military police and the crews of the visiting warships. After the review all the soldiers and sailors participating in the spectacle paraded in the downtown sections of the city.

Today's program began at 6 o'clock this morning when an open air mass was celebrated in Gloria Park. Ten thousand persons attended it. Spectacular ceremonies occurred in front of the Gloria Hotel, where all the foreign missions are stayinng. At the 9 o'clock cannons of the national and foreign fleets and of the fortresses roared their sunrise salutes. The mountains surrounding the bay returned their thundering echoes.

The flow of people to the Campo Saochristovao began with the booming of the cannon. Each sought a vantage point either to see the review or to look upon the parade. All the approaches were overwhelmed with all kinds of vehicles.

The crews of the U. S. S. Nevada and Maryland made a great showing in the review and received ovations.

Pandemonium broke loose at noon when all the church bells were rung, automobiles blew their horns and the warships and merchant steamers let go their sirens and whistles.

The Chamber of Deputies met in solemn session today to commemorate the anniversary. All the Deputies stood during the reading of a resolution, signed by 110 deputies, congratulating the Brazilian nation on its glorious anniversary.

The resolution proclaimed peace and harmony among the Brazilians and friendship on the part of Brazil for all peoples, especially those on the American continent. It also expressed hope and confidence in the growing prosperity and uninterrupted progress of Brazil.

The termination of the reading of the resolution was the occasion for a great demonstration on the floor and in the galleries. The Deputies and visitors shouting "Long Live, Brazil" and the band playing the Brazilian national anthem.

MANY NATIONS SEND GREETINGS TO BRAZIL

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—A personal message was cabled today by President Harding to Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, the President of Brazil, on the occasion of the celebration of Brazil's century of independence. Equally cordial greetings were sent by William Phillips, the Acting Secretary of State, to Augusto Cochrane de Alencar, the Brazilian Ambassador in Washington.

President Harding's message to the Brazilian President was as follows:

His Excellency, Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, President of Brazil, Rio de Janeiro.

In addition to the assurances of friendship and good-will which I have charged the American special mission to convey to you on behalf of the Government and people of the United States, I desire to offer to Your Excellency my individual congratulations and best wishes on this memorable occasion, and to express the great pleasure which is given to me personally by a review of the splendid progress and achievements of Brazil during a century of independence.

The enduring bonds of friendship and fraternal understanding which have so signally characterized the relations of our two countries during their existence as independent nations have been re-affirmed and strengthened with the passage of years and recently have been even more closely welded by association in a common cause for the good of humanity.

It is my earnest wish and fervent hope that under continued enlightened and wise statesmanship your country may attain to still greater prominence in the pursuits of peace, to the enjoyment by the Brazilian people of increased prosperity and happiness.

I beg Your Excellency to accept my fervent good wishes for your continued health and well-being.

WARREN G. HARDING.

The note of the Acting Secretary of State to the Brazilian Ambassador read:

Excellency: For a period of 100 years there have existed between the United States and Brazil relations of the most amicable character, unbroken by a single incident to mar their cordiality. During that entire time the steadily increasing progress of Brazil in the pursuits of peace had been viewed with much favor by the people of the United States, who, with genuine satisfaction, now share in sympathy in the rejoicing of the Brazilian people over the achievements accomplished.

Therefore I am most happy on this auspicious occasion, when the Government and people of Brazil are celebrating the first centennial of Brazilian independence, to offer to you sincere and cordial felicitations on the high standing among the nations of the world attained by your country through its progress and achievements, as well as best wishes for the early realization of that still larger economic and industrial development which Brazil is destined to reach through the energy and resourcefulness of the Brazilian people.

Accept, Excellency, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration.

WILLIAM PHILLIPS,
Acting Secretary of State.

His Excellency, Mr. Augusto Cochrane de Alencar, Ambassador of Brazil.

In commemoration of the independence day anniversary suitable observances were held here. These included a reception at the Brazilian Embassy this afternoon, at which diplomatic, official and social Washington called to extend its felicitations.

The Brazilian Ambassador also gave a dinner at the embassy in honor of the day, at which the chief guests were Acting Secretary of State Phillips, Assistant Secretaries Harrison and Bliss, Francis White, Chief of the Latin-American Division of the State Department; Dr. L. S. Rowe, Director General of the Pan-American Union; Hello Lobo, Brazilian Consul General in New York, and members of the embassy staff.

After the dinner the entire party attended one of the local theatres as guests of Acting Secretary Phillips, where some special Brazilian features were introduced, including the national anthem of Brazil and the overture to "Il Guarany," by the Brazilian composer, Carlos Gomes. The theme of the opera from which the overture is taken was based on a novel by Alencar, greatest of Brazilian authors and father of the Ambassador here. The same overture was included on the program today of the United States Marine Band, which also played the national anthem at 5 o'clock.

The Association of American Theatre Proprietors throughout the United States have agreed to introduce similar features in their performances this week in special honor of the Brazilian centenary. The Brazilian flag was flying here today from a number of buildings.

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—Augustin Edwards, Chilean delegate and President of the Assembly, paid a tribute to Brazil at the opening of today's session in commemoration of the centenary of that country. He moved that the Assembly send a telegram of greeting to President Pessoa of Brazil. Dr. Domicio da Gama, the Brazilian delegate, replied to the presiding officer's address with much feeling.

In pursuance of the vote of the Assembly, President Edwards sent the following telegram to President Pessoa:

"On this day, when Brazil is celebrating the centennial of her independence, the Assembly has unanimously instructed me to express to you its wishes for the grandeur and prosperity of the Brazilian nation."

HYLAN FELICITATIONS TO RIO

Mayor Sends Cablegram on Opening of Brazilian Exposition.

In a message sent yesterday to President Pessoa of Brazil Mayor Hylan congratulated him on the opening of the International exposition at Rio de Janeiro commemorating the centennial of Brazilian independence. The cablegram read in part:

"May this day mark an increase of reciprocal feelings of friendship and esteem, induce effective co-operation and more intimate understanding between the Americas, and serve as a demonstration to the world that we are all Americans from the tip of Alaska to the extremity of Cape Horn, and are all determined to work together toward the accomplishment of those things which are inspired by independence, similarity of institutions, common ideals and a mutuality of interest."

'MISS INDIANAPOLIS IS PRETTIEST GIRL

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—"Miss Indianapolis," otherwise known as Miss Thelma Blossom, 20 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blossom of that city, won the first two events in the national beauty tournament. She was declared the prettiest of the intercity beauties in the rolling chair demonstration this afternoon and tonight was singled out as the most attractive in evening dress.

There are fifty-eight entries from every section of the United States competing in the Beauty Show which featured the third annual shore carnival, and they will be judged in bathing suits tomorrow afternoon. The great test comes tomorrow night when "America's beauty queen" will be crowned. The contestants will be the three winners in the intercity events, three amateurs and three winners in the professional division. The nine will compete against "Miss America," who is Miss Margaret Gorman of Washington, D. C., winner of the $5,000 Golden Mermaid last year.

"Miss Indianapolis" swept the shore crowds off their feet. She is a blonde, five feet nine and a half inches tall, and weighs 138 pounds. Miss Blossom was graduated with highest honors at LaSalle Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., and will be a senior this Fall at Wisconsin University.

The nation's picked beauties swept along three miles of boardwalk this afternoon in the most spectacular rolling-chair parade ever staged here. Crowds packed the borders of the walk, squeezed in the windows of flanking hotels and stores and kept up a continuous cheering from the time that King Neptune and his flower-bedecked retinue got under way. Airplanes swooped down and showered the bowered beauties with roses and confetti. Cannon roared and even the breakers boomed forth their tribute to America's prettiest girls.

Father Neptune, who is Hudson Maxim in his laboratory, seated on a throne of roses led the long line of march. Then followed the 58 representative beauties, 21 brass bands, 2 orchestras and 250 floats and rolling chairs. In the first division chairs the contestants for the beauty prize, clad in colorful afternoon gowns, reclined, almost smothered in clematis, marigold, larkspur, roses, gladioli and asters.

Tonight there was a naval battle with bombs and fireworks and 20 squares of the pier were roped off for general dancing.

After viewing the rolling chair parade and attending the ball of the beauties tonight, Samuel Gompers, the 72-year-old President of the American Federation of Labor, said:

"I have traveled afar," he said, "but this is the greatest treat I was ever afforded. It will be almost a superhuman task to choose the prettiest, and I am glad I have not the responsibility of judging officially. To me, however, Miss Washington most greatly appeals. She represents the type of womanhood America needs—strong, red-blooded, able to shoulder the responsibilities of home-making and motherhood. It is in her type that the hope of the country rests."

All Rockville Centre Pigs Are Sentenced to Death

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, L. I., Sept. 7.—The Board of Trustees of this village passed an ordinance last night ordering the death of all pigs within the village limits. The time set for the executions is that period known as "killing time," which is the end of the Thanksgiving holiday season.

The order was granted on the application of Health Officer Arthur Jacques, who said there have been many complaints against the animals. The order applies to all pigs whether confined in pens or not. It is said there are thirteen pigs in the village.

MURPHY EVADES TAMMANY BOOMERS

Escapes Discussing Candidates Before Syracuse Convention by Avoiding Wigwam.

CONNERS STILL CONFIDENT

Asserts Wigwam Leader's Mind Is Open—Mayor Lunn Talked of as Compromise Candidate.

With that aloofness which he frequently adopts on the eve of a Convention when principals or promoters of booms are eager to pour their urgent pleas into his ear, Tammany leader Charles F. Murphy sent word to his lieutenants at Tammany Hall yesterday that he guessed he would play around his place at Good Ground, L. I., for the remainder of the week.

When this word was received by telephone, a score or more of district leaders, one candidate for a major office and a Democratic leader who has been active in promotion of the Hearst boom made their gloomy and somewhat hurried exit from the Wigwam. Several had been waiting for two days to "see Murphy" who was expected at his desk on Tuesday, and then sent word that he would not show up at the Hall until Wednesday, and yesterday was Thursday and no Murphy.

Several of the waiting district leaders professed to be somewhat mystified by his continued absence from the Wigwam with the Democratic State Convention so near. Others, however, said that "the Boss knows what he is doing." Mr. Murphy it is said, has made up his mind not to enter upon any discussion of candidates with anybody until he reaches Syracuse, a day or two ahead of the Convention. It is asserted that he has realized that the best way to avoid such talks without hurting anybody's feelings is to remain away from Tammany Hall and his other haunts in this city.

Those who know Mr. Murphy best feel certain that he has already made up his own mind about who are to be the candidates for Governor and United States Senator, and that he is willing to let some of the other leaders give a helping hand in making up the rest of the slate when they reach Syracuse.

William J. Conners, field marshal of the Hearst forces, however, declared yesterday that in his opinion Murphy still had "an open mind."

"I firmly believe," said Mr. Conners, "that if I show Mr. Murphy, as I expect to, that a majority of the delegates from up-State are for Mr. Hearst he will fall in line for my candidate. When he does it will be all over and no other name presented to the convention."

"As it is," Mr. Conners added, "Hearst has more delegates up-State than all the other candidates together, including Al Smith. You have noticed that with all the sentiment for Smith, county organizations with favorite sons still stick to those candidates, although there is little chance of any being nominated. They have not gone over to Smith."

While Conners and his lieutenants profess to be confident, no one else appears to believe that Hearst can get the nomination with Smith in the field. Tammany Leader Murphy is believed to have made up his mind that Hearst in no circumstances must be on the ticket.

Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady was in this city yesterday. He said he had come from Schenectady to meet his wife and daughter, who will arrive from abroad today, and that there was no politics in his visit. Mayor Lunn is anxious to get on the Democratic State ticket, preferably for Governor or United States Senator. In Tammany circles it was said yesterday that Tammany opinion until recently hostile to Mayor Lunn's who is a pronounced "dry," had changed greatly in his favor. It is said that he would be available as a compromise candidate in the event of the elimination of Hearst and Smith.

Controller Charles L. Craig was boomed yesterday in Queens by Democrats of both the regular organization and several independent factions as a candidate for Governor. Just where the boom started and who were the leaders in the movement were not revealed. Controller Craig has many friends in Queens, and recently has been on friendly terms with Borough President Connolly. Several Democrats said yesterday that it would not be difficult to swing the Queens delegation to the support of the Controller if he became a candidate for the nomination.

CANDIDATES DRAW FOR BALLOT PLACES

Organization and Insurgent Aspirants Divide Primary Election Positions.

Organization and insurgent candidates divided the preferred positions in the drawing for places on the primary election ballot by the Board of Elections in the Municipal Building yesterday. Judge Morris Koenig, a Republican and brother of Samuel S. Koenig, Republican County Chairman, drew third place among the Democratic candidates for Judge of the Court of General Sessions, with Edward S. Brogan, insurgent candidate, second, and Judge Cornelius F. Collins, who has the support of both Republican and Democratic organizations, first. Judge Koenig drew first place on the Republican primary ballot, where there is no contest for this office, and Judge Collins, who also has the support of both organizations, got second place.

The order of places drawn by the more important contestants follows:

Eleventh Congressional District—Joseph P. Handy, insurgent; Ralph Ceretta, organization.

Thirteenth Congressional District—Brugnoli, insurgent; Murray Girstman, organization.

Twenty-first Congressional District—Martin F. Ansorge, organization; Louis A. Lavelle, insurgent.

Ninth Assembly District—D. W. Kempner, organization; Bourke, insurgent.

Nineteenth Assembly District—R. M. Bolden, organization; Simpson, insurgent.

Twenty-first Assembly District—Horace Palmer, organization; Steele, insurgent.

DEMOCRATIC.

Judges of the Court of General Sessions—Cornelius F. Collins, organization; Edward S. Brogan, insurgent; Morris Koenig, organization.

Eleventh Congressional District—Joseph P. Handy, insurgent; Daniel Riordan, organization.

Fifteenth Congressional District—John J. Boylan, organization; Freese, insurgent.

Sixteenth Congressional District—W. Bourke Cockran, organization; William L. McLaughlin, insurgent.

Twenty-third Assembly District—Coone, insurgent; Samuel Dribben, organization.

Justice Harry E. Lewis ruled yesterday in Supreme Court, Brooklyn, that technical defects should not bar candidates from the primary ballot.

Post Offices in Fifty Cities Show Gain Of $2,082,795 in Receipts for August

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Post Office receipts are always cited as evidence of national prosperity or the lack of it. Today the Post Office Department made public a tabulation of receipts in Post Offices in fifty cities in August, which shows an increase of 10.3 per cent. over August, 1921, and increases of 13.24 per cent. for June and 14.42 per cent. for July over the corresponding months last year.

Only two cities showed decreases, Washington, D. C., and Houston, Texas, and the falling off in each case was very small. Fort Worth, Texas, showed the greatest increase for August with 59.78 per cent. Its July increase was 83.06 per cent.

Chicago's increase was the greatest of all in the amount of money received, the amount of increase being $213,891, with a percentage gain of 5.49. New York was second, with an increase of $203,834, a percentage gain of 5.24. Boston was third with $169,888, percentage gain of 10.9.

The total receipts of the Post Offices in these fifty cities in August were $21,272,489, an increase of $2,082,795 over August, 1921, and an increase of $1,029,326 over July of this year.

Manhattan Borough, New York, receipts were $4,192,715 in August, 1922, against $3,984,064 in August, 1921. Chicago's receipts in August, 1922, were $2,612,971 and in August, 1921, $2,230,289.

WARD TRIAL MADE A POLITICAL ISSUE

Independent Candidate for Prosecutor in Westchester Demands Delay.

Asserts That Acquittal in October Might Prevent Clearing of Mystery in Killing.

The Ward murder case has become the big issue in the Republican primary fights of Westchester County, where an aggressive faction, contesting the leadership of William L. Ward, veteran chieftain of the Republican County organization, has lined up behind a set of opposition candidates who will contend for nominations at the primaries with the candidates placed in the field by Mr. Ward.

District Attorney Weeks of Westchester, who handled the Ward case, is not a candidate for renomination and Assistant District Attorney Arthur Rowland was picked by the Ward organization for the nomination for District Attorney. The Republican Association of Westchester, the anti-Ward organization, has rallied to the support of J. Henry Esser, who was entered as a candidate for County Prosecutor by an independent committee.

Mr. Esser, in addressing a large audience of Republican women who are supporting him at the Westchester Biltmore Country Club yesterday afternoon, took the Ward case as his theme. He said that he would be willing to call upon District Attorney Weeks to refrain from trying Walter Ward on the murder charge in October, as he has announced he would, on the ground that if tried then Ward probably would be acquitted and could not be tried again for that offense.

"If Walter Ward is an innocent man he should never be tried," said Mr. Esser. "The District Attorney should move to quash the indictment. But if Walter Ward is a guilty man he should never be tried and acquitted on a half-baked case, and thereby given immunity from all further prosecution. It would then be far better to have the indictment dismissed now, and leave that door open for future prosecution when tongues now silent may be willing to aid the people of this county.

"We hardly dare believe the truth, but we have come face to face with the problem of whether the crimes of murder and blackmail can go unprosecuted in this county," said Mr. Esser. "We are face to face with the problem of whether a rich man is entitled to any different treatment before the bar of justice than a poor man.

"A wealthy man has been indicted for murder and is out on bail, because the Judges doubt whether the District Attorney's office has enough evidence to convict him. The indicted man says he was blackmailed by three men, two of them not at large. Neither of those has been indicted.

"A few days ago a poor man named Maio, who had no lawyer, reported to the police in Brooklyn that he had had a similar experience with an enemy on a lonely country road. That man was forthwith arrested, arraigned before a Magistrate, charged with murder and held without bail.

"I will simply say to you that, as between the two methods employed, I will adhere rigidly to the Brooklyn method. Why was not this course pursued in the case of Walter Ward? Who vouched for his innocence? Where is the unseen hand which has guided the course of this prosecution, and which now says that I cannot be District Attorney of this county because I will not swear away my political independence?

"Colonel Weeks is not a candidate for renomination. By retiring voluntarily from the field he has made it easy for those who will do so to claim that he would not risk a campaign with the Ward murder case as an issue, and that he would not venture an encounter with those political influences behind the Ward defense."

LA FOLLETTE HAILED AS PROGRESSIVE HEAD

Senator's Followers Say His Record Victory in Wisconsin Makes Him National Leader.

Special to The New York Times.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 7.—Senator Robert M. La Follette should poll about 356,000 votes, winning renomination by a record majority of close to 207,000 over the Rev. Dr. W. A. Ganfield, if he keeps up his percentage of votes in the few hundred unreported precints in Tuesday's Republican primary. His victory is the most overwhelming endorsement ever given a candidate for public office in Wisconsin.

At the present rate of vote counting, Governor John J. Blaine should poll a total vote of about 332,000, giving him a majority of close to 182,000 over William J. Morgan, Committee of Forty-four candidate.

The entire progressive ticket has been nominated by majorities that will range from 15,000 to 95,000.

The vote on the senatorial contest between "Fighting Bob" and Dr. Ganfield in 3,244 precincts out of 2,533 in the State shows: La Follette, 327,347; Ganfield, 128,638. On the face of these returns La Follette's majority was 198,709.

In 2,238 precincts the figures give Governor Blaine a majority of 164,648 over Morgan, the vote being Blaine, 300,239; Morgan, 135,596; McHenry, 16,838.

At the headquarters of the progressives, leaders declared La Follette's victory clinched his leadership in Congress and the nation, of the new insurgency against reactionaries in both parties now in control in Washington.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Senator Robert M. La Follette issued today a statement in which he declared the victory for himself and the complete State ticket bearing his name under the leadership of Governor Blaine, "places the people of Wisconsin foremost in progressive leadership and action among the States of the nation."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The result of the Wisconsin primary was described by the Democratic National Committee in a statement issued today as "the most overwhelming and crushing rebuke of the many so far given the Harding Administration and the Republican do-nothing Congress."

GLYNN SAYS MILLER WILL HAVE NO RIVAL

Chairman Answers Westchester Faction Who Backed Tompkins to Humiliate W. L. Ward.

NEWTON NOT YET IN RACE

Attorney General Still Withholds Decision on Third Term—Up-State Leaders Meet Here.

"No name except that of Governor Miller will be presented to the Albany convention when nominations are made for the place at the head of the ticket," said Republican State Chairman George A. Glynn, last night, after a second day of conferences with Republican leaders from up-State.

This was regarded in Republican circles as an answer to those of the Sutherland faction in Westchester County who in their fight on William L. Ward, Republican leader of the county and stanch supporter of Governor Miller, had been talking of presenting the name of Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of Rockland in an effort to split the Westchester delegation to the convention.

Among those who talked with Chairman Glynn was State Controller William J. Maier, who had declared his intention to quit politics and accept a flattering offer from a big financial institution in this city on Jan. 1, has been strongly urged by Governor Miller and other prominent Republicans to reconsider his decision. Mr. Glynn said last night that he had strong hopes that they had convinced Controller Maier that it was his duty to become a candidate for his present office.

Attorney General Charles D. Newton was in town, but the Republican leaders are still left in the dark as to whether he will be a candidate for a third term or not. Friends of Mr. Newton said he probably would reach a decision within a few days. If he desires a renomination it is most likely, according to Mr. Glynn, that there will be no opposition in the convention.

Among those who conferred with Mr. Glynn were William L. Ward, Chairman, and Harry R. Bell, Secretary of the Westchester Republican County Committee; William J. Wygant, Republican State Committeeman from Orange County; Philip Elting, Republican leader of Ulster; Republican County Chairman Harry A. Lewis of Rensselaer and Postmaster Charles H. Betts of Lyons, Republican leader of Wayne County.

MILLER VISITS ROCHESTER.

Governor Refuses to Say Whether He Would Accept Nomination.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Governor Miller arrived here today for the exposition and horse show. Accompanied by Mrs. Miller and his Military Secretary, Major William Coogan, they were met by a delegation of city officials and taken to the Genesee Valley Club. This afternoon the party was escorted to the horse show by members of Troop F, 101st New York Cavalry. Governor Miller left for Albany tonight.

When asked if he is a candidate for renomination, the Governor replied:

"No I am not a candidate."

"Then you will not take the nomination," he was asked.

"I have nothing to say either way," he answered.

"Then, you are on the fence?" was remarked.

"No, I am not on the fence," he replied.

"I will not talk while I am here," the Governor said. "I was asked here to the exposition and that is all I am here for."

DEMOCRATS PICK WALSH.

Five Other Senators to Aid Him in Directing Election Campaign.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Senator Underwood, the Democratic Senate leader, today announced that Senator Walsh of Massachusetts had been selected to direct the Democratic Senatorial campaign.

"The committee selected to co-operate with him in conducting the campaign," said the announcement, "are Senator Simmons of North Carolina, Hitchcock of Nebraska, Walsh of Montana, Sheppard of Texas and Harrison of Mississippi. None of the members of the committee except Senator Hitchcock are candidates for re-election this Fall, the purpose of this work being largely promoted by a desire on the part of the Senators whose terms have not expired to help re-elect their associates and increase their party representation.

"The selection of this committee was made after a conference with all the Democratic candidates for election and with the unanimous consent of the Democratic steering committee of the Senate.

"The committee has selected Frank A. Hampton of North Carolina as Secretary and Treasurer. Mr. Hampton at the present time is Secretary to Senator Simmons of North Carolina."

Lord Robert Cecil May Lecture Here

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—Discussing his disarmament proposal, Lord Robert Cecil said to the Associated Press today that he was considering lecturing in the United States on the subject. The League's committee will report tomorrow on the advisability of such a plan.

WOMEN LAY $669,126 ON MISSIONS ALTAR

BISHOP'S BOOK CRITICISED

House of Deputies Takes Up Ratification of Changes in the Common Prayer Book.

Special to The New York Times.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 7.—The Triennial General Conference of the Protestant Episcopal Church was marked this evening by a great mass meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Board of Missions, at which it was announced that the sum placed on the altar by the women of the church at a special service this morning totaled $669,126. Of this sum the New York Diocese gave $36,237.

At the morning holy communion services of the women delegates to the auxiliary the donations from each diocese were placed in a gold alms basin, which was taken to the altar and consecrated. This basin was a gift to the American Episcopal Church in 1892 from the Corporation of Oxford University, England, in connection with the Jubilee of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. It has been used at a similar service at every triennial convention since then, and with the offering of today it has held nearly $2,000,000.

First Offering in 1889.

The first thank offering of the women was taken in 1889, when it amounted to $21,125.84. Today the thank offering was received by Miss Grace Lindley, of New York City, Executive Secretary of the Women's Auxiliary. Today's offering will be devoted to the support of the women workers in the mission field after one-tenth has been set aside as a permanent trust fund, the income to be applied to the support of retired women workers.

At the meeting this evening the chairman was the Right Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, Senior Suffragan Bishop of New York, and formerly President of the Board of Missions. Among the other speakers were Bishops Tuttle, of St. Louis; Sumner, of Oregon; Mikell, of Atlanta, and Mounton, of Salt Lake City, and Dr. John W. Wood, of New York City.

At the communion service 1,250 women were present, including delegates from every State in the Union. Bishop Tuttle presided in the sanctuary.

Bishop Tuttle announced in the House of Bishops this morning that he had received a memorial from the diocese of Arkansas asking the Convention to "take action" against the Right Rev. William Montgomery Brown, retired Bishop of Arkansas, now living in Galion, Ohio. The matter was referred to a special committee of five.

Bishop Brown is the author of a book published since the last General Convention in which, it is charged, he practically denies the Divinity of Jesus Christ and almost every other cardinal doctrine of the Christian church. The Arkansas diocese wanted to show that it did not wish to be held responsible for the writings of Bishop Brown.

Bishop Paddock Resigns.

Bishop Tuttle announced that he had received the resignation of the Right Rev. Robert Paddock as Bishop of Eastern Oregon. Bishop Paddock has been in New York for months, ill in a hotel from nervous prostration. It is claimed this was brought on because he was criticised by fellow bishops for holding services in Oregon without wearing his vestments.

The House of Bishops voted this afternoon not to give suffragan or assistant bishops a vote in the house.

The work of revising the Prayer Book began this afternoon in the House of Deputies. Only brief amendments were made to the service of morning prayer. Each proposed change was voted on by roll-call, and it was a rather tedious proceeding until a proposed new prayer for the President of the United States started a heated discussion. Both the clerical and lay vote of the Diocese of Chicago was against it, but it was finally agreed to. The new prayer for the Chief Executive is to be inserted in the Prayer Book, the House of Bishops concurring. The new one is supposed to be wholly American, the objection to the old one being that it was recast from the prayer for the King of England.

TAKE RUM SCHOONER WITH $80,000 CARGO

Morning Seizure in East River Nets Haig & Haig and Black and White.

The 60-foot, two-masted schooner-yacht Glendoveer, reported to be owned by C. L. Davenport of Boston, with her cargo of between 750 and 800 cases of whisky, was seized in East River yesterday morning by Patrolmen William Gross and Charles Toomb of the Marine Division. Five men on the craft, arraigned later in Morrisania court on a charge of violating the State dry laws by transporting liquor without a permit were held in $5,000 bail each for examination next Wednesday.

The prisoners denied any knowledge of the character of the consignment aboard the schooner. They gave their names as Michael Anderson, 33, of 11 Pioneer Street, Brooklyn, a seaman; Sven Petersen, 38, of 328 Fortieth Street, Brooklyn, a cook; Andrew Saybrook, 28, of 25 South Street, an engineer; Julius Rickard, 28, of 27 South Street, and William Akerman, 33, of 1,011 Park Avenue, a seaman.

Some of the cases were marked "Canada." Included in the consignment were Haig & Haig, Black and White and other well-known brands of Scotch. The police estimated the value of the vessel at $50,000 and the whisky at bootleg prices at $70,000 to $80,000.

Six persons were indicted by the Federal Grand Jury several days ago in connection with the attempted surreptitious landing of 250 drums of alcohol of 110 gallons each from the steamship Javary last December, it became known yesterday. Two of the six entered tentative pleas of not guilty before Judge Rufus W. Foster. They were Harry K. Barr of the Barr Shipping Corporation, 25 Beaver Street, and John A. Kirsch, a commission merchant at 105 Hudson Street. They were held in $5,000 bail each.

The other four named in the indictment are Alexander Karlin, a lawyer of 142 West Fortieth Street, who at times is said to have represented the Soviet Government; Harry Marks, an employe of Kirsch; George C. Gaede, a commission merchant in business on Grand Street, and William F. Prendergast, who is alleged to have acted as a go-between.

Director Ralph A. Day announced yesterday that it had been decided to invoke the section of the Volstead act which provides that injunctions may be had against individual violators of the law.

Wedding Party's Joy Departs As Diamond Rolls Into Sewer

Tony Capo of 404 Fourth Street, Brooklyn, accompanied his sister Maria and her fiancé, Peter Ruslo, to the Marriage License Bureau yesterday. After the license had been issued the party started for Tony's automobile parked on Remsen Street. At the corner of Remsen and Court Streets a diamond ring valued at $300 slipped from Tony's finger and rolled into the opening of the sewer at that place. Tony's lamentations soon drew a crowd. The Sewer Department was called upon and several men were set to work to try to find the gem. At four o'clock yesterday afternoon when the men ceased work for the day Tony's ring had not been recovered.

SUNSHINE THEORY OF DAWN OF LIFE

Dr. Eve, in Explaining It to British Association, Uses New Words Katergy and Anergy.

PLANT PRODUCTS IMITATED

Prof. Baly Holds Out Promise of Bottling Light as the Vegetable World Does.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—A new theory of the dawn of life was submitted to the British Association at Hull today by Dr. F. C. Eve in an address to the physiology section. He prefaced his lecture by the explanation of two new words, katergy and anergy, which his reasoning involves.

"By the ordinary term energy," he said, "we mean capacity to do work such as exists in a river or fuel, food or sunshine. Sunshine is the source of practically all energy on earth. Katergy means the change of energy from one form to another in a natural downhill direction. Anergy, on the other hand, means the flow of energy in an uphill direction, such as when the green pigment of plants compels sunlight to build up carbonic acid from the air with starch and prodin. Everywhere we see a strong tendency for energy to flow downhill to a lower level. This is the law of katergy."

Dr. Eve submitted that strainings of this law provide the driving force not only of astronomy, chemistry and physics, but also of living things.

The Dawn of Life.

"The dawn of life," he said, "consisted in sunshine finding better and better materials to katergise; that is, to find channels down which its energy could flow. Colloids, nitrates and varied carbon compounds gave great scope for this, and when once these substances started competing for sunlight energy growth developed, so that the best of these living things overgrew the worst.

"After inconceivable ages the plants of today were produced. Sunlight energy merely flowed down those organized channels which provided the best means of katergy or energy degradation. This seemed in the struggle plants of murdering each other, as in the old view, but the effect is the same."

He explained that weeds supplant garden plants in neglected ground because plants compel most of sunshine energy to flow uphill. They turn sunshine into the chemical energy of starch. An important addition of this new theory to Darwin's law of the survival of the fittest is that it answers the question, "Fittest for what?" "The fittest for katergising sunshine," said Dr. Eve.

Work of Plants Duplicated.

If the claims made by Professor Edward Baly, the distinguished Liverpool chemist, hold good, it will be possible shortly to bottle sunshine as plants do.

Addressing the British Association, Professor Baly said:

"We have succeeded in the laboratory by a process known as photosynthesis (the building up of matter by the action of light) in producing several products which have hitherto only been produced by plants. It is common knowledge that plants by the aid of sunshine and green coloring matter convert inorganic substances into organic substances. By means of ultra-violet light and malachite green in place of the plants' green coloring matter—chlorophyll—chemists have first converted inorganic bases into formaldehyde and again into sugars. Knowledge is advancing so rapidly that hopes are expressed that ultimately protein itself will be built up."

Professor Baly declares that this is a great step toward the discovery of the true key to life.

Professor H. J. E. Peake, speaking in the anthropological section, said the world was in a state of unstable equilibrium. "The crust," he said, "is cracked in many places and the fissures are becoming wider and deeper not only in distant lands but nearer home. These cracks should be stopped or we may find the civilization of the world break up into a thousand fragments."

WINS MARBLES CROWN.

Francis Dinkey Is Best in Two World Championship Games.

Francis Dinkey, 14 years old, of West New York, won the world's marbles championship from Buster Rech, 15 years old, of Jersey City, yesterday in two straight games at Pershing Field.

The first game took four minutes. Rech was the first to become "poison," that is, to knock one of six marbles out of the ring at a 15-foot range. Becoming "poison," he would be able to win the game any time he could hit his opponent's shooting marble, Dinkey avoided him, however, and became "poison" himself on the seventh shot. On the twenty-fifth shot Dinkey won the first game.

The second game took seven minutes. Rech became "poison" on the fourth shot and Dinkey on the sixth. Dinkey won out on the thirty-ninth. The match was for the best two out of three, and that the second straight win made Dinkey the marble monarch.

As to Americans in Anatolia.

In an interview with Rev. E. Ralph Harlow, Professor of History and Sociology in the American College at Smyrna, published in THE NEW YORK TIMES yesterday, Mr. Harlow, in describing conditions in Smyrna from which place he has just returned, was quoted as saying that the Turks "are killing Americans there every day and nothing is being done." Mr. Harlow states that this quoted him incorrectly and what he did say was that during the ten years he had been in Asia Minor, five Americans whom he knew had been killed and that difficulties were encountered in trying to bring the murderers to justice.

After two more deaths early yesterday morning from wood alcohol poisoning in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn which, with one on Monday night not previously reported, brought the total for the week up to eleven, District Attorney John E. Ruston of Kings County and the police of the Hamilton Avenue Station yesterday made several new raids in the neighborhood where the victims got the deadly poison.

The District Attorney said he was determined to stop the distribution of the poisonous stuff. A man sent to Kings County Hospital yesterday afternoon with symptoms of wood alcohol poisoning may become the twelfth victim of the fatal liquor dispensed in that neighborhood.

"This is a situation in which a man has got to hit first and apologize afterward," District Attorney Ruston said in explaining the action of the police in making raids without search warrants.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

General Recovery on Stock Exchange—Bonds Again Strong.

Yesterday's Federal Reserve statement, which largely embodies in itself the conditions which are supporting prices, showed remarkably little change from a week ago. Rediscounts hardly changed; there was no indication whatever (unless in the $58,000,000 increase of note circulation) that the Reserve Banks were being called upon in preparations to finance the Autumn trade. Under the prewar banking system, the beginning of September was usually the signal for very large shipments of actual currency from Eastern city banks to the West and South, where increased supplies of ready cash and larger bank reserves were needed as a basis for Autumn trade activities. During the war it was a commonplace remark that the Reserve Banks were financing the harvest movement. This year not even the assistance of the Federal Reserve is as yet being invoked at all; the private banks are abundantly supplied with credit facilities of their own.

On the Stock Exchange prices moved yesterday as they have invariably moved this season after a day or two of downward reaction. In the greater part of the market, Wednesday's losses were quickly recovered; even the previous day's talk of "Mexican oil-field exhaustion" ceased to dominate discussion of financial prospects, and assumed the position of minor interest in which it belonged. Railway shares advanced with the industrials. The day's recovery had no particular relation to the news; for the unions' legal contest of the Daugherty injunction (which was never to Wall Street's taste) was regarded with indifference, and the rumors of a move for peace by the railway shopmen's union were accepted merely as symptomatic of general recognition that the strike has failed.

The bond market also was strong; the notable fact about yesterday's movement being the distinct upward tendency in foreign bonds. This was on the whole inevitable. Most of those bonds have declined in connection with the recent recurring alarms about Europe's reaching an acute political or economic crisis. Disappearance of panicky demonstrations on the European markets seems to have led the investor to consider the income yield on these securities, compared with the narrowing yield on domestic loans.

In the weekly reports of foreign State banks, interest will naturally be directed to the further increase of 874,000,000 francs in the French paper circulation, making an aggregate expansion of 908,000,000 francs in a fortnight. In this week of 1921 this French currency stood only 500,000,000 francs above the low point of the year; at present it exceeds the low point of 1922 by 1,600,000,000 francs. Since the increase in outstanding notes has not responded this year to expanding activity of trade in France, it would seem that the Government has been compelled to borrow more largely from the Bank than it was doing a year ago, and, in fact, comparison of the weekly returns of "advances to the State" proves this to be the fact. This is no surprising consequence of the rapidly accumulating interest charge on the reconstruction loans, which are not now being offset by any German payments. It will be possible, before the year is over, to determine whether this particular recourse can be checked either by an increased revenue or by larger issues of short-term Treasury bonds.

The course of England's paper circulation shows a distinctly opposite movement. Reduction during the past week of a million sterling in the Bank of England's outstanding notes marks a decrease of £3,000,000 in a month, within which time the "currency notes" have also been reduced £6,300,000, to the lowest total since the armistice. Today the actual gold held in reserve against both classes of paper circulation amounts to 36½ per cent. of the outstanding paper, or nearly as much as the minimum requirement against our Federal Reserve notes. Eventually, it is not at all improbable that resumption of free gold payments on the British currency will be effected through revision of the system, whereby the dollar-for-dollar gold reserve against the Bank of England's circulation will be replaced by requirement of a fixed percentage against an amalgamated paper currency.

MONEY.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 7, 1922.

Stock Exchange call loans ruled steady at 4 per cent. throughout session, a reflection of ease incident to return of Sept. 1 interest and dividend moneys. Time money was quotably firm and unchanged over prevailing rates. Commercial paper is now discounting at 4¼ per cent. for bulk of names, dealers reporting only exceptional name paper shading this rate, with local institutions displaying little interest in market. Call loan rate against acceptances dropped ⅛ to 3½; bill market discounting unchanged.

QUITS GUARANTY TRUST CO.

Vice President Lewis to Enter Business for Himself.

John J. Lewis, Vice President of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, who has been prominent in the affairs of that institution, particularly in its dealings abroad, has resigned. The resignation has been accepted by the Directors and now is effective. Mr. Lewis plans to engage in business on his own account.

He had been a Vice President of the Guaranty Trust Company since 1916, working his way up through various offices in the institution, first as receiving teller, then as assistant chief clerk, chief clerk, assistant secretary, from which place he was promoted, on Dec. 21, 1916, to the Vice Presidency. He was then but 35 years old and one of the youngest Vice Presidents in charge of large affairs in Wall Street. Mr. Lewis started his banking career when but 15 years old, as an office boy with the old State Trust Company.

EARNINGS GAIN IN 3 MONTHS.

Stromberg Carburetor Corporation Issues June 30 Statement.

The Stromberg Carburetor Corporation of America, which on Wednesday resumed dividend payments on the capital stock at the rate of $4 a share annually, yesterday issued its statement of earnings covering the three months ended June 30, 1922. This showed net profits of $192,336 for the quarter, after charges and Federal taxes, or the equivalent of $2.56 a share on the 75,000 shares of capital stock outstanding. In the first quarter of the year earnings equal to 40 cents a share were reported, while the earnings for the first half of 1921 were equal to $2.98 a share.

Profit and loss surplus June 30 showed $2,857,549, against $2,465,221 for the quarter ending March 31.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

The Recovery in Prices.

Under leadership of the active speculative issues the general market yesterday recovered most of the loss reported in the previous day's market. Gains at the close ranged from 1 to 3 points or more, a feature in the railroad group being Norfolk & Western, which moved up 4¾ points net. Much of the advance in specialties was based on merger rumors. The rise in Retail Stores on the Stock Exchange and Schulte Stores on the outside market was based upon revival of rumors of a merger, while the advance in Gaston was based upon a report that the company was to be taken over by Royal Dutch interests. Also the old rumor of a merger between Chandler and Cleveland Motors was revived, but officials of the first-named company remarked that while the day of such a combination is perhaps drawing nearer, nothing will be done along these lines in the immediate future. The rise in domestic oil stocks, including the Standard issues in the outside market, was due largely to belief that in view of the uncertainty of Mexican production, American companies would benefit as a result of facilitating production in Mexico.

"Separate Peace" on the Railroads.

Analysis of the announcement concerning the forthcoming meeting of the Policy Committee of Ninety of the shopcraft unions was held by local officials yesterday to indicate a further breaking up of the strike. The development did not mean, according to these officials, a willingness on the part of fifty-two roads—or any others—to recede from their former stand on the question of individual settlements, but showed that the original platform of the shopcrafts, that no settlement other than a national one could be considered, was to be surrendered. The railway executives stated that they expect to see the Policy Committee grant permission, at their meeting next week, for individual settlements that may be possible.

Car Loadings.

The complete classified statement of car loadings for the final week of August, published yesterday, had been partly superseded by the more up-to-date daily returns of coal loadings. The showing of 29,071 cars increase in coal loadings as compared with the preceding week was therefore no surprise, nor was the fact that these loadings fell short 48,483 of the same week in 1921. More interest was taken in the movement of merchandise and miscellaneous freight, which, in the face of the larger coal traffic, increased by 4,028 cars over the week preceding and was 59,041 cars in excess of the same week in 1921, making a total increase for the week in revenue freight of some 35,000 cars. As the normal Autumn traffic increases, these loadings of general merchandise will be watched with particular interest in financial circles, because they will show the extent of the railways' capacity to move both general freight and coal.

Grain Bills on Sale.

For the first time in many days commercial transactions, represented almost entirely in grain bills, were a factor in the foreign exchange market yesterday, and accounted for the recessions which occurred in most of the prominent exchanges. In practically every case the first prices yesterday were the best of the day. It is the theory of some international bankers that speculative activities very nearly balance, particularly in sterling; that is, they believe that taking the market as a whole there are as many speculators who buy for the advance as there are those who sell for the decline, and that outside factors, such as the pressure on the market of a large number of grain bills, is very likely to tip the scales in any single movement and to shift the exchanges either up or down, as the case may be, depending upon which side of the market the outside interests are concerned in. As a matter of fact, most bankers in the financial district who keep in close touch with the foreign exchanges have been rather surprised at the irregularity which now rules. The market has seemed to them particularly unresponsive to the turn for the better in the German situation.

August Copper Sales Smaller.

Sales of copper during the month of August approximated 100,000,000 tons, according to estimates made in the trade yesterday, including shipments for both local and foreign account. This compares with sales of about 125,000,000 pounds in July and 140,000,000 pounds in June. It is understood that export sales accounted for about half the total sales. The smallness of domestic sales in comparison with recent months is understood to have been due to the uncertainty in business circles regarding the future of business because of the coal and railroad strikes. Although copper production was resumed on April 1, output is still below consumption, so that surplus stocks are steadily being reduced. The surplus stocks of metal in this country are now placed at 260,000,000 pounds.

Can Stocks and the Crops.

On active dealings yesterday both Continental Can and American Can advanced to new high records for the year to date, the prices being 68¾ and 90¾ respectively. The record crops of the country, together with the inability of the big fruit and vegetable growers of the West to get their crops to market, were assumed to be the main factor in the rise of the can stocks. Interests associated with the company pointed out that the farmers, being unable to ship a good part of their crops to market, are turning them over to the big packing companies, which are taking advantage of the situation and canning the crops as fast as they receive them.

The Coal Companies.

Officials of the larger coal companies are not at all discouraged by the outlook for sales this Winter, although distribution will be under the eye and direction of the State Fuel Administrator. The corporations expect that the distribution will be done through regularly established coal dealers, and that while their profits per ton will be small yet their earnings will compare favorably because of the particularly large volume of business to be handled. It is estimated by officials of Burns Brothers Coal Company that approximately as much coal will be moved this year as last, within its distributing radius. Orders on the books of all the companies are stacking up very rapidly, and their only problem now is to be allotted a sufficient supply in order that deliveries may be speeded up.

Gold Imports.

The persistent strength of sterling exchange during the recent unsettlement of European exchange rates has been largely ascribed in the exchange market to the British shipments of gold to New York. The Department of Commerce has just published the itemized figures of our July gold imports; they show $35,065,094 received from England during the month, which was the largest importation from that market since October and November, 1920, when the Federal Reserve's foreign gold balances were being returned to New York, allowing approximately $20,000,000 gold for our receipts from England during August. England has sent us $94,000,000 since the beginning of the year, $23,500,000 gold. This compares with $142,000,000 shipped to us from the same market during the first eight months of 1921; the difference being wholly attributable to the Transvaal strike and suspension of deliveries of gold from South Africa during March, April and May. The point is made regarding the effect of these gold importations on exchange rates, that even if the gold is sent distinctly for use in paying interest on the British debt to our Treasury, it eases the Treasury's reserves, for the time being at any rate, to counterbalance a surplus of exports in our trade with England.

IRON PLANTS OFFER $2,250,000 BONDS

Local Firm Is Marketing Twenty-Year Obligations for a California Corporation.

The America Brake Shoe and Foundry Company has acquired the Ramapo Iron Works, with plants at Hillburn and Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Niagara Falls, Ont., and the Ajax Forge Company with plants at Chicago and Superior, Wis. A new corporation, the Ramapo Ajax Corporation, will hold the assets of the acquired companies. To finance the purchase, announcement is made by Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co. of an offering of $2,250,000 of first mortgage 20 year, 6 per cent. sinking fund gold bonds of the Ramapo Ajax Corporation, which will be offered for public subscription at par.

The bonds are redeemable in whole or in part on any interest date for the purpose of the sinking fund after Sept. 1, 1924, and at the option of the company on and after Sept. 1, 1923, the redemption price to be 105 up to and including Sept. 1, 1932, and thereafter at a premium equal to one-half per cent. for each year to maturity. Provision is made for a semi-annual sinking fund that will retire $1,000,000 principal amount of these bonds by maturity.

The American Brake Shoe and Foundry Company covenants in the mortgage to retain control of the new company as long as any of the bonds are outstanding. The bankers had this to say about the new company:

"Earnings during the 10½ years ended June 30, 1922, showed consolidated net income of the predecessor companies available for interest and Federal taxes, after deducting depreciation and inventory adjustments, averaging more than 3.8 times the annual interest charges on these bonds. Operations for the year 1921 resulted in a loss, but now are showing a substantial profit."

The acquired corporations have been in business since 1883 and manufacture railway track material as well as industrial cars and car equipment.

Blyth, Witter & Co. are offering $340,000 Southern Counties Gas Company for California twenty year 5½ per cent. first mortgage sinking fund gold bonds, at a price of 95½ and accrued interest, to yield about 6 per cent. The bonds are callable on any interest date at 102½ and interest. The company serves an area of 128.6 square miles adjacent to Los Angeles. Announcement was made yesterday by Hambleton & Co. in behalf of the syndicate for the Wickwire Spencer Steel Company 7½ per cent note issue that the books have been closed, all of the bonds having been subscribed.

LONDON RESERVE RATIO UP, CIRCULATION DOWN

French Bank's Note Issues Increase 574,000,000 Francs Further for Week.

Yesterday's statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes for the last week:

Gold coin and bullion increased...	£1,541
Reserve in banking department, gold and notes increased.....	1,041,000
Notes in circulation decreased.....	1,039,000
Loans on government securities decreased	910,000
Loans on other securities increased	885,000
Public deposits decreased.....	12,841,000
Other deposits increased.....	13,554,000

Proportion of the bank's reserve to deposit liabilities this week is 18.37 per cent.; last week it was 17.64 per cent.; two weeks ago it was 18.08 per cent. Highest reserve percentage of 1922 to date was 19.97 per cent., on June 22; lowest, 8.53, on Jan. 7. The lowest percentage since the war began was 7.30, on Dec. 30, 1920.

The statement compares as follows with the corresponding week one year and two years ago:

Total gold holdings—	£127,412,713	£128,410,806	£123,077,517

Other securities—	76,780,636	79,827,413	76,846,750
Ratio of reserve—	18.37	13.13	11.75

The Bank of England's official minimum discount rate remained unchanged at 3 per cent., to which it had been reduced from 3½ per cent. on June 15. At this date in 1921 the rate stood at 5½ per cent., in 1920 at 7 per cent., at 5 in 1919, 1918 and 1917, 6 in 1916 and 5 in 1915 and 1914.

The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes, in francs:

Notes in circulation increased.....	574,121,000
Treasury deposits decreased.....	25,741,000
General deposits decreased.....	73,949,000
Bills discounted decreased.....	373,109,000
Advances increased	80,861,000

Advances to the State remain unchanged at 23,900,000,000 francs.

The principal items in the statement compare as follows with the same date one and two years ago, in francs:

	1922.	1921.	1920.

Circulation—	36,959,101,000	37,254,787,000	33,622,440,460

The highest point which the Bank of France's outstanding note circulation has ever reached was 39,045,896,000 francs on Nov. 3, 1920. The highest point in 1922 has been 37,401,850,000 francs on Jan. 5; the lowest, 35,281,800,000 francs on March 23, which was also the lowest of any week since Aug. 28, 1919. The bank's official discount rate remained unchanged at 5 per cent., to which it was reduced on March 11, after a 5½ per cent. rate had been in force since July 29, 1921.

BARUCH FOR INCREASE IN FARMERS' CREDITS

Tells Senate Bloc Committee He Favors Bonds Based on Production and Marketing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Suggestions for the expansion of farmers' credits were made today by Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier and Chairman of the former War Industries Board, to the Farm Credit Committee of the Senate agricultural bloc.

A plan for co-operative credits, through securities endorsed by groups of farmers, and also a plan for issuing bonds based upon agricultural production and marketing were proposed by Mr. Baruch to a dozen Senators, headed by Mr. Capper, Republican, of Kansas, Chairman of the Farm Bloc.

The use of facilities of the Federal Reserve Banking System to provide long-term agricultural credits was opposed by Mr. Baruch on the ground that the Federal system's assets should be liquid and should not be tied up for longer than six months.

"Anything beyond six months is not self-turning," said Mr. Baruch, "and I think would be a mistake. But you can achieve the same result by selling bonds based on agricultural products—warehouse receipts and cattle loan obligations."

Mr. Baruch said he favored having a separate branch institution of the Federal Farm Loan Board to have charge of short-term credit expansion for farmers, but that the agricultural production and marketing loan activities should not be mixed with the farm loan features of the board.

Loan expansion should be provided for livestock growers distinct from credits for the production and marketing of the products of the land, Mr. Baruch said, analyzing bills by Senators Capper, Lenroot and Nordeck. At least $200,000,000 should be provided, he held, to be given for the farm credit operations of the Farm Loan Board's credit branches. Government warehouses for the storage of farm products, he thought, should be provided so that the farmer "could have the option of when he should sell."

"You cannot give credit to a man who has not got it and you cannot do it by legislation," said Mr. Baruch, "but you can place him in a position where, if he has assets, he can secure the credit he should have."

Prices for farm products, he added, could not be increased by legislation, but farmers, given the option of determining when they should sell, could obtain better prices.

"This is the most important legislation before Congress today," Mr. Baruch declared.

Senator Capper asked if low wheat prices were caused by lack of credit among farmers, and Mr. Baruch replied "not to any appreciable extent." The principal cause, he said, was lack of European markets.

TO MAKE PIG IRON IN UTAH.

Pacific Steel Corporation Will Build $7,500,000 Plant at Once.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Construction at once of a $7,500,000 pig iron plant in Utah will be the first step to follow formation of the Pacific Steel Corporation, capitalized at $20,000,000, whose incorporation papers are on file today in Delaware. The new concern, financed by San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and Salt Lake City banking institutions, will be a combination and enlargement of present steel manufacturing plants on the Pacific coast.

Complete transition of steel from iron ore to the fabricated product is one of the objects of the new corporation, which has acquired large iron ore and coal deposits in Utah, it was announced here by T. T. C. Gregory, the company's attorney.

The concern will take over the properties of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, which has plants in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco; the Los Angeles plant of the Southern California Iron and Steel Company, and those of other west coast steel companies, together with the iron ore and coal deposits of the Milner Corporation in Utah.

"At the present time there is no pig iron manufactured west of the Rocky Mountains," said Mr. Gregory, "and the plants here are dependent upon the east for their supply of both pig iron and coke. The new corporation will undertake the complete manufacture of steel from raw material products on the Pacific coast."

The $20,000,000 capitalization is in preferred stock. In addition there are 200,000 shares of common stock of no par value.

ALABAMA G. S. REPORTS.

Income Balance for 1921 Is Cut, but Gain Looms for 1922.

The Alabama Great Southern Railroad Company, in its report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1921, shows a balance of income over charges of $535,089, compared with $1,659,167 for 1920. Total operating revenues were $9,542,225 in 1921, while operating income, after allowing for expenses, taxes, uncollectible revenues and rents, stood at $1,020,786, compared with $2,177,782 in 1920.

In the general balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1921, total current assets were $3,971,148, against $4,078,077 for 1920, while total current liabilities were $1,380,496, against $2,175,488 in 1920.

President Fairfax Harrison, in his remarks to the stockholders, said:

"The results so far in 1922 have been substantially better than in the corresponding period of 1921, the six months of the current year for which figures are available as this report is written showing an operating income after expenses and taxes of $990,615, compared with $244,666 for the same months of the preceding year."

REPORTS ON STEEL MERGER.

Trade Commission Tells Senate Complaint Is Not Final Judgment.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Federal Trade Commission formally advised the Senate today of the filing of its complaint against the Midvale, Republic and Inland Steel Companies, based on their proposed merger, emphasizing that this action did not express a "final judgment of the commission" as to the legality of the consolidation. If the tentative decision against the merger is not supported by testimony produced at the forthcoming hearing, the letter said, the complaint would be dismissed.

The commission's letter, addressed to Vice President Coolidge, was in response to a resolution of Senator La Follette's asking information as to what steps had been taken to protect the public interest in case the merger was made.

FREIGHT RATES TO FAR EAST

New Tariffs Agreed On Show Slight Increases.

Representatives of fourteen steamship lines engaged in trade between North Atlantic and Far East ports held a conference yesterday and announced the following tariffs:

September to December, general cargo, $15 a ton; January to June, general cargo, $18 a ton; September to December, automobiles, $12 a ton; January to June, automobiles, $14 a ton; September to December, machinery, $10 a ton; January to June, machinery, $14 a ton; September to December, agricultural implements, $10 a ton; January to June, agricultural implements, $13 a ton; September to December, steel, $8 a ton; January to June, steel, $10 a ton.

The tariffs generally show slight increases.

Good Demand at Wool Sales.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—There were 11,879 bales offered at the wool auction sales today. There was a brisk, general demand and while prices were unchanged the tendency was in sellers' favor.

FOREIGN EXCHANGES

Market Weak, Rates Lower—Sterling Declines 1⅛ Cents to $4.45¼.

European exchanges went lower yesterday, sterling dropping 1¼ cents to $4.45¼ on the presence in volume of cotton and grain bills, while francs dipped to 7.73 cents, with partial recovery at close. Lire, guilders and marks all sagged below Wednesday's final, the Swiss franc declining to new low for year at 18.97 cents. In the Far Easterns, Yokohama checks advanced to 48 cents, a new high, with other Easterns and South Americans steady.

In the subjoined table the quotation on sterling represents dollars and decimals of a dollar; all others represent cents and decimals of a cent. Quotations preceded by the decimal mark indicate a price measured in fractions of a cent.

FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

Quiet and Irregular Movement of Prices Yesterday.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Trading was quiet on the Stock Exchange today. Gilt-edged securities were steadier, while oil shares showed a tendency to rally. British industrials moved irregularly. Old 2½ per cent consols, unchanged at 57¾; British 5 per cent war loan, ⅛ higher at 100; 4½ per cent war loan, unchanged at 97¼.

Rand Mines, unchanged at 2⅞; De Beers Mining, ⅛ lower at 12⅝.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—Prices moved irregularly on the Bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 5 centimes lower at 61 francs 75 centimes; 5 per cent war loan, 10 centimes higher at 76 francs 80 centimes. Exchange on London, 40 centimes higher at 56 francs 95 centimes per sovereign; American dollars were quoted at 12 francs 72½ centimes, against 12 francs 66 centimes yesterday.

CHANDLER DIVIDEND TODAY.

Motor Corporation Directors to Meet —Only Regular Amount Expected.

Directors of Chandler Motors Corporation are scheduled to meet for action on the quarterly dividend today, and, according to Directors with headquarters in this city, only the regular dividend of $1.50 a share quarterly is expected to be declared. It is said that earnings for the first half of 1922 amounted to $1,775,000 or the equivalent of $6.30 a share on the capital stock, or more than sufficient for the full year's dividend.

Shipments of cars during recent weeks have shown a slight falling off, according to Directors; but in spite of this the company expects an active half year, and earnings for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1922, according to estimates, will approximate $1,500,000 so that about $5 a share will be added to surplus.

Figures appeared in Wall Street yesterday showing that the Cleveland Automobile Company earned net profits in excess of $1,000,000 during the first seven months of the year. It was also estimated that earnings for the year 1922 will approximate $14 a share on the capital stock after all deductions. This estimate is based upon orders now in hand.

S. G. Bayne Succeeds W. A. Nash.

S. G. Bayne, Chairman of the board of the Seaboard National Bank, has been elected President of the New York Produce Exchange Safe Deposit and Storage Company, to succeed the late William A. Nash. Mr. Bayne has been an active official of this company for more than a quarter of a century.

Refiners Cut Price of Sugar.

Most of the leading sugar refiners with offices in this city yesterday announced a reduction of ¼ cent a pound in the price of refined sugar. The American Sugar Refining Company, the Federal Sugar Refining Company, Arbuckle Bros. and the Warner Sugar Refining Company are all quoting 6.50 cents a pound, against 6.75 cents quoted previously.

Starts Fourteen Sheet Mills.

Fourteen additional sheet mills of the National Enameling and Stamping Company have been put into productive operation, according to announcement made yesterday. This is in addition to five which were started about ten days ago. All plants of the corporation now are operating at capacity.

NEW GULF SHARES APPEAR IN MARKET

12 TO 1 BASIS OF EXCHANGE

Price of New Stock Advances From $45 to $48, While Old Goes From $510 to $560.

Trading in the stock of the new Gulf Oil Corporation of Pennsylvania, which is to be organized to take over the present New Jersey corporation with a similar name, started in the local and Pittsburgh markets yesterday. In this city the stock opened at $45 a share and advanced to $48, while the stock of the present company rose from $510 to $560. Considerable activity was reported in both issues, in quarters which make a specialty of trading in unlisted oil stocks.

The rise in the present stock and the interest in the new "when issued" stocks were stimulated to no small extent by the report that the New Jersey corporation was to be taken over by the newly incorporated Pennsylvania company, the stockholders of the present company receiving twelve shares of new stock of $25 a share par value for each share of $100 par value stock now held.

According to information received in local financial circles, the entire plan has been agreed upon and that, as the larger stockholders have consented to the plan of readjustment, an announcement can be expected shortly or at least by Oct. 2, when the quarterly dividend on the old stock is due. There is, however, some uncertainty regarding this dividend to be paid upon the new stock. First reports had it that the dividend on the new issues would be $1.50 annually, or the equivalent to $18 a share on the present stock, on which only $6 annually is now being paid. The amount of the dividend on the new stock has not been definitely agreed upon, according to the information received yesterday.

The Gulf Oil Refining Company has long held the reputation of being the richest independent oil company in the country, if not in the entire world. As of Dec. 31, 1921, the company reported a profit and loss surplus of $111,397,792, but in addition to this, attention was called to the fact that the company has additional assets which are not carried on the balance sheet to offset liabilities. One item in particular is the value placed on plant and equipment, which, according to the balance sheet, is $178,-000,581, whereas the book value of this item is $100,000,000 in excess of the amount given in the balance sheet. Net current assets at the close of 1921 were placed at $80,114,879 and the net current liabilities $49,664,480. Reserves for depreciation and depletion amounted to $96,114,379.

The capital stock of the Gulf Oil Corporation at present is $36,148,100 of $100 a share par value. If this is tripled the total capital will be $108,435,300.

In quarters where considerable attention is given to developments in the Standard and independent oil stocks it was intimated yesterday that there may be more back of the proposed split-up in the capitalization of the Gulf stock other than to make an extra distribution to stockholders. Attention was called to the fact that the capitalization of the proposed new company to be formed by the Gulf, namely, $108,435,300 stock of $25 a share par value, is virtually the same as that of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, which amounts to $107,880,455 of $25 a share par value.

Since the beginning of the current year reports had been circulated in the financial district declaring that the Gulf and Indiana companies were to be merged. The matter was discussed between officials of both companies, but, according to Wall Street information, the deal fell through because the larger stockholders of the Gulf Oil Corporation were holding out for an exchange basis of seven shares of Indiana for each share of Gulf, whereas the Indiana officials were not willing to give more than five shares of the stock of their company for each share of Gulf.

Debentures Off Trading List.

20,000-TON MOTOR SHIP MEETS TRIAL TESTS

Builders Manoeuvre New Electric Craft for Japanese Navy Off the Delaware Capes.

The 20,000-ton fuel ship Kamoi of the Japanese Navy, said to be the first vessel of any navy other than the United States to be electrically propelled, has completed successfully its builders' trials off the Delaware Capes, the New York Shipbuilding Corporation announced yesterday. She was manned by a crew of the builders and a Japanese crew under Captain Murase.

The electric drive equipment of the Kamoi, designed and installed by the General Electric Company, includes the use of synchronous motors for the first time in any twin screw vessel. Tests demonstrated that the Japanese ship is the most economically operated steam vessel of her size afloat, observers declared.

The ship has a normal tonnage of 19,500, is 468 feet long and has a beam of 62 feet. It has a draught of 28 feet and a dead weight displacement of 18,-000 tons. It is equipped to carry approximately 10,000 tons of fuel oil.

Captain K. Goto, chief inspector in the United States for the Imperial Japanese Navy, with many other Japanese officers and inspectors, observed the manoeuvering of the Kamoi.

FIGHTS DOWER RIGHT PLEA.

Burton Answers Widow's Claim Involving Lord & Taylor Property.

An affidavit filed in the Supreme Court yesterday, by Van Duser Burton, son of the late Frank V. Burton, states that his father told him that at different times prior to his marriage to Claire Louise Burton, second wife and widow of Frank V. Burton, he had transferred to her securities, money and other property which would yield her an income of $22,000.

Mrs. Burton is suing for a dower interest in valuable realty owned by her husband, including the property occupied by Lord & Taylor. Mr. Burton's children have filed allegations that Mrs. Burton released her dower for a valuable consideration. She applied to Justice O'Malley to compel her husband's heirs to give particulars of the alleged consideration. The Court decided that the particulars need not be furnished until after Mrs. Burton has been examined before trial in the case.

Hudson Motor Reports Gains.

The Hudson Motor Car Company established new high records during August, both in the number of cars shipped and in the amount of earnings, according to officials. The company shipped 7,100 cars, including both Hudson and Essex models, in that month. It is estimated the final results for 1922 will show about $7 a share earned on the capital stock against $3 a share now being paid.

Makes $3,795,376 Building Loans.

The Prudential Insurance Company reports that it placed $3,795,376 mortgage loans during August. The loans cover 903 dwellings to accommodate 899 families and forty-one apartments to accommodate 473 families. The total loans since Jan. 1 have been $30,114,759 and have provided housing accommodations for 10,105 families.

RESERVE NOTE ISSUE CONTINUES TO GAIN

RATIO NINE POINTS LOWER

Shifting of Gold Takes $43,000,000 From Specie Reserve of New York Banks.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Aggregate increases of $58,700,000 in Federal Reserve note circulation, together with net withdrawals of $9,200,000 of reserve cash, mainly silver and legals, largely to meet the holiday demand for additional currency, are shown in the Federal Reserve Board's weekly bank statement, issued as at close of business on Sept. 6, 1922.

Discounted bills on hand show a nominal increase; acceptances purchased in open market, one of $14,700,000, and United States security holdings of $10,-200,000, notwithstanding the redemption of $9,000,000 of Pittman certificates reported for the week.

The reserve ratio shows a decline from 79.2 to 78.3 per cent.

The week saw considerable shifting of gold through the gold settlement fund. The movement affects primarily the New York Reserve Bank, which reports a decrease of $43,100,000 in its gold reserves. Smaller decreases aggregating $5,774,000 are shown for the San Francisco and Richmond Banks. The largest increase in gold reserves—by $12,100,000—is reported by Chicago. Dallas, with an increase of $9,700,000, and Minneapolis, with an increase of $6,400,000, follow next in order.

Holdings of paper secured by Government obligations decreased during the week from $123,600,000 to $120,460,000. Of the total held, $103,300,000, or 79.3 per cent., were secured by Liberty and other United States bonds; $9,500,000, or 7.7 per cent., by Victory notes; $18,600,000, or 14.3 per cent., by Treasury notes, and $5,000,000, or 3.9 per cent., by Treasury certificates, compared with $108,-800,000, $4,580,000, $15,500,000 and $5,700,-000 reported the week before.

A summary of changes in the principal assets and liabilities of the Reserve Banks on Sept. 6, 1922, as compared with a week and a year ago, follows:

REPORTS EXONERATE NEWCASTLE CONSUL

Two Are Received From American Agents and a Third Still Is Expected.

BRITISH GIVE NO NEW FACTS

Meanwhile Office Will Remain Closed, Despite Congestion of Shipping There.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—Reports of two investigations made by American diplomatic and consular officers in England, which have been received at the State Department, are understood to point to a complete vindication of Consul Slater and Vice Consul Brooks from charges that they had acted improperly in urging travelers to patronize American Shipping Board vessels and in discriminating against the British merchant marine.

Another investigation, however, is being made by members of the American Embassy staff in London, acting at the direction of Ambassador Harvey, and, it was learned today, the British Foreign Office had also been asked to supply additional evidence before final action will be taken in the case by the State Department.

Meanwhile, it was said, there was no intention on the part of the Washington Government to reopen the Newcastle Consulate, which was closed when the British Government canceled the exequaturs of the two Consuls.

Despite the congestion of shipping at the Tyne port, and the consequent loss to shipping interests whose vessels are delayed, it was authoritatively stated there could be no change in the situation until the British Foreign Office had submitted its final representations and the American officers had concluded the investigation now in progress.

One of the reports was submitted by Consul General Skinner and the second by embassy officials in London through Ambassador Harvey. Neither report contained evidence which, in the opinion of State Department officers, substantiated the charges against the consular officers or justified the British Government in canceling their exequatura.

A determination to sift the charges against the two Consuls to the very bottom before action is taken regarding the reopening of the consulate prevails, shop officials here who are handling the case. They assert that it is as important for them to know whether the Consuls acted improperly, as was alleged in the three affidavits sent here by the British Foreign Office, as it was for the London authorities to know when they canceled the exequaturs.

It was also learned that the affidavits received at the State Department in which the charges appeared did not bear the signatures of the persons who made them. It was for that reason partly that the first investigations were commenced by Consul General Skinner and the American Embassy in London with a view of establishing the facts recited in the affidavits, however irregular in form the papers were.

At the present time, despite requests that the British authorities make known the signatures, no additional information has been received by the State Department from British sources. In the event none is forthcoming, the department's final decision, it was said, would be based necessarily on information collected by American investigators.

LONDON, Sept. 7 (Associated Press).—A delegation of the Newcastle-on-Tyne Chamber of Commerce visited the American Consulate here today requesting that steps be taken for the immediate reopening of the American consular office in their city.

The delegation reported that the absence of the American Consulate was causing considerable delay to shipping. The delegation was told that the matter would be submitted to Washington.

The members then visited the British Foreign Office, where they requested that negotiations for reopening the Consulate be speeded with all possible haste.

To Keep Beach Line Open Later.

The Transit Commission announced yesterday that it had arranged with R. L. Rand, Vice President and General Manager of the Southfield Beach Railroad Company, to keep its line to South and Midland Beaches, Staten Island, running later than usual. The line usually closes soon after Labor Day, but Peter Egan, President of the Ocean Breeze Association of South Beach, wrote the commission asking that the line be continued in operation until Nov. 1, for the accommodation of those desiring to visit the two beaches and the members of the bungalow colonies there. Mr. Rand agreed to keep the line running as long as there were 300 passengers a day and to give one week's notice before stopping operation.

Cosden Stock Rises on Rumor.

Reports were circulated in the financial district yesterday that negotiations were being carried on between interests connected with the Royal Dutch-Shell Company of Holland and J. S. Cosden for control of the Cosden Oil and Refining Company. The reports could not be confirmed, but it was said that Mr. Cosden was to sail for Europe soon and this gave credence to the story in speculative circles. Cosden stock advanced sharply on the rumor yesterday.

Queens Line to Get 50 New Cars.

Announcement was made yesterday that the New York & Queens County Railway Company, known as the Steinway lines, has arranged to lease about fifty cars of the Third Avenue Railway Company. The new cars will supplant some of the bad order surface equipment of the New York & Queens County road, which operates about seventy-four miles of track in Long Island City and vicinity. The company has been in the hands of the receivers since April, 1922.

Pacific Gas Earnings $22,725,894.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company, in its report for the first seven months of the year shows gross earnings amounting to $22,725,894, an increase of $771,267, as compared with the first seven months of 1921. After all deductions, the report showed a surplus of $1,062,754, an increase of $358,353 over a year ago.

To Hold International Debates Here.

R. M. Carson, the second American to hold the office of President of the Oxford Union Debating Society, announced yesterday that the society had accepted the invitation of Bates College to debate here on Sept. 27 on the League of Nations in the first international debate to be held in this country. The Oxford debaters will also meet New York University, Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Swathmore College.

CAR LOADINGS MOUNT 34,619 IN A WEEK

Total of 890,838 Reported by Executives; Greatest Since Oct. 1, 1921.

Car loadings for the week ended Aug. 26, 1922, totaled 890,688 cars, an increase over the previous week of 34,619 cars, according to reports just received by the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association. This was the largest number of cars loaded during any one week since Oct. 1, 1921. The total for the week of Aug. 26 exceeded the corresponding week of 1921 by 61,955 cars, but it represented a decrease of 110,470 cars as compared with the same week of 1920.

Coal loadings stood at 111,030 cars, an increase over the week before of 29,071 cars, and the largest number of cars loaded with coal since the miners' strik began on April 1, 1922. As compared with the same week last year it was a decrease of 48,489 cars, and as contrasted with the same week of 1920 it was a decrease of 138,738 cars.

Merchandise and miscellaneous freight, which includes manufactured products, totaled 559,303 cars, an increase of 4,028 cars over the week before, and an increase of 59,941 cars as compared with the corresponding week of 1921. As against the same week in 1920 it was an increase of 3,478 cars.

Live stock loadings showed an increase during the week of 2,290 cars, making a total of 32,046 cars, a figure which represented a gain of 5,127 cars over the same week of 1921. Grain and grain products totaled 54,562 cars, a decrease of 1,831 cars under the preceding week and a decrease of 4,276 cars under the same week of 1921, while forest products totaled 60,466 cars, an increase of 2,533 cars over the previous week.

Coke loadings stood at 8,390 cars, 189 above the week before, and 3,759 cars in excess of the same week a year ago. Ore loadings amounted to 45,041 cars, 2,160 less than were loaded the previous week, but an increase of 33,129 cars over the same week of 1921.

As compared by districts, increases over the week before in the total loadings of all commodities were reported in all except the Pocahontas district, while increases over the same week of 1921 were reported in all except the Southwestern district.

Otis Elevator Rumor Denied.

Recent reports in the financial district that the Directors of the Otis Elevator Company contemplated declaring a 50 per cent. stock dividend were denied in official circles yesterday.

STOCK DISTRIBUTION IN TOBACCO MERGER

Retail Stores Holders to Get Gilmers, Candy and Montgomery Ward Shares.

SCHULTE GAINS 13 POINTS

Rumor That It Will Be Included in Tobacco Products Again Revived.

Another step in the development of the merger plans whereby the newly formed Tobacco Products Corporation takes over United Retail Stores is expected to be announced within a few days, when the stock of various subsidiaries of the United Retail Stores Corporation, exclusive of United Cigar Stores, will be turned over to stockholders of Retail Stores. These other subsidiaries are United Retail Candy, with a chain of stores in New York, certain shares of Montgomery Ward & Co. and Gilmers, Inc., candy manufacturers and distributers in the South.

No formal announcement has been made, but it is learned that the plan is to distribute, as a sort of a bonus, to holders of Tobacco Products the percentage of these stocks which will come to Tobacco Products through the exchange of Retail Stores for that corporation's shares. The United Cigar holdings which come to Tobacco Products through the Retail Stores exchange, it is expected, will be retained by Tobacco Products. In other words, the merger and its subsequent steps mark a return to the tobacco business exclusively.

August earnings of the new corporation are now being computed. Preliminary estimates by officials indicate an increase of some 75 per cent. compared with the corresponding month last years. Schulte Stores advanced 13 points on the Curb yesterday and the old rumor that Schulte was to be merged with the United Retail Stores or Tobacco Products was revived. The Tobacco Products Corporation, through United Retail Stores, already controls the United Cigar Stores.

COTTON RECOVERS IN LATE TRADING

Mill Buyers and Covering of Shorts Bring 32 to 51 Point Recovery.

An increased volume of trade buying as a result of a more attractive level of values made an impression on the trading market and prices recovered about half a cent yesterday. During a two-cent decline, liquidation of long accounts had been thorough and in addition more or less speculative selling took place. First signs of stability appeared in Liverpool which caused resistance around 21 cents and finally started short covering. Heaviest mill buying in several weeks was reported by houses with trade connections, in addition to which spot sales in the South were largest of the season. After frequent set-backs prices closed at the top, 32 to 51 points up.

Wednesday's late break came from re-selling by room traders as the result of an attack on the market by uptown and Western operators. This drive found the ring long more cotton than could be handled readily and a slump below 21 cents followed. Under these conditions, a steadier Liverpool was not surprising and an opening recovery of 25 to 30 points took place. The upturn met Southern selling in October and speculative lines in December. Instead of losing ground, Liverpool gained and closed at an advance of about $1 a bale. With the first evidence of resistance abroad during the entire decline and increased trade buying at lower levels, room operators resumed support furnished the previous day. Reports from the South showed an increased demand both from domestic and foreign sources, the decline of 2 cents having produced more general business. During the morning, covering occurred that ran October back above 21 cents, a rally of half a cent from low figures of the previous day. Instead of putting out hedges, several spot houses bought contracts against actual cotton sold at Southern points. In other quarters contracts were for sale which showed selling still going on. Many sections of the South have a good crop and in these districts producers are willing to meet the market. At this season of the year it becomes a question how far growers will pursue a policy of free selling on a declining basis and just at what point trade interests will take enough cotton to produce stability.

For the first time this season, all but three reporting stations in Arkansas had temperatures over 100. All Oklahoma stations were over 100, with virtually no rainfall in either State. While this makes for rapid picking, condition of the plant is deteriorating steadily, since the middle of July rainfall west of the river has been very deficient, which means a further loss in condition in the October report. With the first ginning report of the season due today, more or less covering took place during the early afternoon. Though December broke back below 21 cents at one time, it received little buying to steady prices. Frequent orders for small lots of March and May showed persistent trade demand. Though May sold only a few points over October earlier in the week, during has been such that the October discount increased to nearly a cent sale under May. Pressure on October continued which caused a dragging tendency and led many operators to offer cotton on advances. But during the past two days a large amount of cotton has been absorbed by trade interests. This has taken care of both speculative liquidation and Southern selling, creating better resistance around 21 cents.

Heaviest buying of the week occurred the last hour. So many contracts have been taken from the ring that an effort to cover several lines advanced prices to high levels of the session. The nature of covering indicated a short interest outstanding which was evident during the late selling movement of Wednesday. May showed a gain of over half a cent on the day.

Largest spot sales of the season were reported at Southern markets, transactions exceeding 58,000 bales. This makes about 160,000 bales in three days.

QUESTION PEDDLERS' HEAD.

Finkelstein Will Be Asked to Explain Fee Collection Charges.

When District Attorney John E. Ruston of Kings County learned yesterday that charges had been made against Nathan Finkelstein, President of the Peddlers' Association, he subpoenaed Finkelstein to appear before the Grand Jury in connection with the investigation regarding the disposition of fees in the public pushcart markets. A peddler had charged that Finkelstein had collected thousands of dollars in fees from the peddlers and that he had made a large sum of money from the sale of paper bags to the peddlers.

"The first intimation of the charges against Finkelstein was obtained by me from the published accounts in the newspapers," said Mr. Ruston. "I have subpoenaed Mr. Finkelstein to appear tomorrow morning before the Grand Jury to explain these charges. This investigation has been solely for the purpose of cleaning up unhappy conditions that detract from the value of these public markets to the poor. The public markets are a wonderful institution for those who need them most, the poor, and I am very happy to take advantage of any information of wrongdoing that tends to lessen the value of these markets to the poor."

TRADE FRAUDS COURT TO TRY SIX CASES

Banton Assigns Solomon to Conduct Preliminary Inquiries Into Shady Business Deals.

Six cases will be ready for trial when the new Commercial Frauds Court reconvenes this morning in Part VI. of General Sessions. Magistrate George W. Simpson will preside, and District Attorney Banton has assigned Assistant District Attorney Max Solomon to take charge of preliminary investigations before the Magistrate of allegations of frauds in business transactions. Where evidence of fraud is developed the defendants will be held for the Grand Jury. Cases in which there is not sufficient evidence of wrongdoing will be disposed of by the Magistrate.

Mr. Banton made public yesterday a letter he received several days ago from Lewis E. Pierson, President of the Merchants' Association of New York, after the first session of the court. It read, in part:

"For a long time past the business community has been increasingly subject to heavy loss through commercial frauds practiced by dishonest creditors, especially with respect to false statements concerning their financial resources. In most instances cases of this kind have been brought before Magistrates under a procedure not well adapted to promote justice and exceedingly discouraging to complaining creditors.

"Through your efforts these obstructive conditions are now changed. The creation of a Commercial Frauds Court marks practicable a prompt preliminary inquiry by a Magistrate of special experience in proceedings of this kind, and under conditions which will undoubtedly result in prompt and just action shortly following a complaint."

COMMODITY PRICES.

New High Levels for Iron and Lead—Butter and Eggs Go Higher.

Higher prices continued in several of the metals again yesterday, iron No. 2X Philadelphia advancing $1.75 per ton to $36.50, while lead was up 5 points to 6 cents, both new high levels for the year. Firmness and fresh gains were reported in the dairys, butter moving up ½ cent and eggs 1 cent. Oats, lard and cotton all bettered their prices of Wednesday, scoring slight gains. The groceries, other provisions and metals and grains ruled steady.

WHEAT AT CHICAGO ACTIVE AND HIGHER

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Strength in corn and in the Northwestern markets, with a decreased selling pressure, made a fairly active and higher wheat market here, with the close at net gains of ⅝@¾ cent. There was a better class of buying than the selling from the start, and, while offerings increased on the bulge, the market showed a firmer undertone than of late and less bearish comment was heard among the local elements.

The Government report tomorrow is expected to cause some evening up on the part of longs, as the indications are for an increase in the Spring wheat estimate to around 276,000,000 bushels, which will compare with 262,000,000 in August and final returns of 200,000,000.

R. O. Cromwell, formerly with E. W. Wagner & Co. and now with Peavey & Co. of Minneapolis, estimates the combined Winter and Spring wheat crop at 842,000,000 bushels, or 47,000,000 bushels more than last year, his figures on Winter wheat covering 567,000,000 bushels, or 25,000,000 bushels more than the preliminary Government returns.

There was a marked reduction in hedging pressure at Minneapolis, and September there closed one cent over December, with a net gain of 2¾ cents. Messages from there indicated that country elevators are becoming blocked, due to inability to secure cars, and country purchases in consequence were decreasing.

Removal of hedges against flour sales were also a factor. The steadier undertone in the wheat market, both sides of the international line, is having more or less effect on sentiment.

Corn advanced to a new high on the present upturn and closed ¾@⅞ cent higher, in the face of heavy profit taking by leading local longs who were the mainstay of the market at lower prices. There was a broadening in the outside trade and the undertone was strong to the close, although final sales were on a fair reaction from the top.

Le Count's report suggesting a final crop of 2,700,000,000 bushels came as a surprise to the trade and is not expected to be confirmed by the Government estimate, due after the close tomorrow. General expectations are that it will indicate around 2,800,000,000 bushels compared with 3,017,000,000 a month ago and final returns of 3,080,000,000 last year.

Le Count estimates that Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, South Dakota and Minnesota will have 1,237,000,000 bushels, against 1,620,000,000 as shown by the Government in August and 1,905,000,000 in December last year.

Sentiment remains decidedly bullish, and the best-posted people express the belief that there may be a runaway market with increased speculation.

The country sold over 800,000 bushels of old and new corn and 500,000 of oats to arrive today, the business in the latter item being the largest in two years.

Oats closed ¼@¾ cent higher with September leading, and rye up ¾@1¼ cents, September oats at one time sold even with the December, against 2¼ cents under recently.

Primary receipts of wheat today were 2,270,000 bushels; week ago, 1,562,000; last year, 2,561,000. Shipments were 1,279,000 bushels; week ago, 1,295,000; last year, 2,434,000.

Corn receipts were 1,998,000 bushels; week ago, 1,126,000; last year, 478,000. and shipments, 470,000 bushels; week ago, 556,000; last year, 873,000.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY
Notice of Special Stockholders' Meeting
Richmond, Va., August 18, 1922.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Special Meeting of the Stockholders of The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company has been called by the Board of Directors of said Company to be held at the principal office of the Company, in the City of Richmond, Virginia, on Tuesday, the 26th day of September, 1922, at 11:00 o'clock A. M., for the following purposes:

(a) To consider and act upon a proposal to increase the Company's capital stock by the addition thereto of stock in the par amount of $50,000,000. To be divided into 300,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, so as to make the total authorized par amount of such capital stock $165,000,000, consisting of 1,650,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, such increase of capital stock to be of such class or classes, with such designations, preferences and voting powers, or restrictions or qualifications thereof, the stockholders at said meeting shall determine or authorize; and specifically, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, to consider and act upon a proposal that the additional capital stock be in the first instance preferred stock, and that the same, or any thereof, may be convertible into common stock;

(b) To authorize the Board of Directors of the Company from time to time to issue and to dispose of such additional stock on such terms as said Board may in the exercise of its lawful discretion determine;

(c) To ratify and confirm such action thereto before taken or authorized by said Board in Anticipation of such action by the stockholders, as may be submitted to the meeting, and to take such other and further action in the premises, including the authorization of any necessary or appropriate amendment or amendments of the charter of the Company, as the stockholders at the meeting may determine; and

(d) For the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

For the purpose of the meeting the stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Friday, September 1, 1922, and remain closed until 10 A. M. on Wednesday, September 27, 1922.

By Order of the Board of Directors.
A. TREVVETT, Secretary.

UNITED NORTH AND SOUTH OIL CO., INC.
NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS:

A special meeting of the stockholders of United North and South Oil Co., Inc., will be held at the office of the company, Room 1606, 165 Broadway, in the City, County and State of New York, on the 22nd day of September, 1922, at ten o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of considering and voting upon the following propositions.

1. To increase the capital stock of said company from $200,000, consisting of 20,000 shares common stock of the par value of $10.00 each, to $5,000,000.00 to consist of 250,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $10.00 each and 50,000 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $10.00 each, the amount of the proposed increase being $2,800,000.

2. To authorize said company to issue for said amount of increase 250,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $10.00 each and 50,000 shares of preferred stock of the par value of $10.00 each. Said preferred stock is not to have any voting power unless two dividends are passed and unpaid, but is to be entitled to preference and priority over the common stock as follows: It is to be entitled to a cumulative dividend of 8% per annum payable semi-annually before any dividend is declared or paid upon common stock, and upon a liquidation of the company said preferred stock and all accumulated dividends thereon, if any, are to be entitled to payment in full before any payment shall be made on common stock. Said preferred stock is to be subject to redemption at the option of the company, at any time before January 1, 1923, at $12.00 per share, plus accumulated dividends and is to have the right, at the option of holders thereof, to be converted into common stock of the company, share for share at any time prior to January 1st, 1923.

PROPOSALS.

THE PITTSBURG, CINCINNATI, CHICAGO & ST. LOUIS RAILROAD COMPANY
Treasury Department,
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 7, 1922.

CONSOLIDATED MORTGAGE BONDS

is an aggregate cost of $1,158,686.01 will be purchased for the Sinking Fund October 2, 1922, at the agency of this Company, The Farmers Loan and Trust Company, New York City, under the following provision of the mortgage:

"Sealed proposals for the sale of said bonds will be received at the agency of the said Railway Company in the City of New York, and bonds offered at the lowest price, but not exceeding par, will be accepted and paid for. Should bonds of different numbers be offered at the same price, the number of bonds so purchased shall be on a pro rata basis as near as practicable, in proportion to the whole number of bonds offered."

The word "price" as used in the mortgage is construed to mean the cost to the Sinking Fund, being the principal price plus accrued interest to October 2nd, unless the bonds are offered "flat." Bonds of Series "A" and "B" are purchased for the Sinking Fund with one day's accrued interest, ex the October 1st coupon.

Proposals to sell bonds to the Sinking Fund must be in the hands of the Farmers Loan and Trust Company before close of business, three o'clock P. M., Friday, September 29th, 1922, and must state the series letter of the bonds offered. Bonds accepted must be delivered on October 2nd or security furnished that day, if required, that delivery will be completed in ten days.

T. H. B. McKNIGHT, Treasurer.

Sealed proposals will be received and publicly opened by the Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau in the office of the Quartermaster General, Room 2306, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., at 11 A. M., September 12, 1922, for the construction of a Veterans' Bureau Hospital at Northampton, Mass. Work includes construction of twenty-four (24) buildings, built of reinforced concrete and brick, complete with sewer, water and lighting systems, roads and walks (footings for nine buildings now under contract). Plans and specifications may be obtained after August 18th, upon deposit of $100, from the office of the Quartermaster General, Room 2612, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C., or from the office of the Constructing Quartermaster, Chamber of Commerce Building, Northampton, Mass. Reorganization of

Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company

Preferred Stock Participation Warrants
Common Stock Participation Warrants

Issued under the Plan and Agreement, dated November 1, 1921, for the Reorganization of Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company.

Holders of the above named Participation Warrants (other than Participation Warrants bearing notation of the prepayment of the entire amount payable thereunder) are hereby required to make payment on or before SEPTEMBER 12, 1922, of the final instalment of the amount payable thereunder, viz: One third of such amount.

Such payment must be made in New York funds either at the office of The Equitable Trust Company of New York, the Depositary under said Plan and Agreement, No. 37 Wall Street, New York, or at the office of said The Equitable Trust Company of New York, 3 King William Street, E. C. 4, London, England, or at the office of Rotterdamsche Bank, the Agent of said Depositary, Amsterdam, Holland, and will be noted on the respective Participation Warrants which for that purpose must be produced at the time of payment.

Failure to make such payment on or before September 12, 1922, will forfeit all rights in respect of prior instalments paid and otherwise under the Participation Warrant under which default shall be so made, and all rights under said Reorganization Plan and Agreement, and such Participation Warrant will thereupon become void and of no effect for any purpose.

WORLD'S WHEAT YIELD 3,019,000,000 BUSHELS

Europe's Crops Smaller, Except That Russia May Get on Without Outside Help.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The world's wheat production this year will be less than it was last year, but considerably greater than the pre-war average, according to estimates made public today by the Department of Agriculture.

Actual estimates and condition reports from reporting countries indicate a yield this year of 3,019,526,000 bushels, compared with the production last year of 3,059,896,000 and the 1909-1913 average of 2,890,353,000.

Reports from all sources regarding Russia said crop conditions were favorable and would feed the nation this year, eliminating the need of imported wheat.

Nearly all European countries, however, reported decreases, the total European production being estimated at 1,100,991,000 compared with 1,239,256,000 in 1921, and the pre-war average of 1,376,152,000.

British India and Japan are expected to produce 302,847,000 bushels, compared with 293,094,000 last year and the pre-war average of 375,827,000.

Increased production in both the United States and Canada was indicated, the combined estimate being 1,125,968,000 bushels this year, compared with 1,000,761,000 in 1921 and the pre-war average of 853,810,000.

FOR SILK EXPOSITION.

Unique and Distinctive Display to Be Made of Exhibits.

Colored lantern slides of the sumptuous decorative schemes for the Second International Silk Exposition, to be held in the Grand Central Palace from Feb. 6 to 15, 1923, were shown by Howard Greenley, architect and art director of the exposition at an exhibitors' luncheon in the Hotel Commodore yesterday. The gathering was presided over by Walter P. Taylor, Vice Chairman of the Exposition Committee. The guest of honor was James E. Farrell, President of the Silk Association of Great Britain and Ireland.

When introduced to the audience President Farrell paid tribute to the ability of the American silk manufacturers, whose products he declared were wonderful. He said he was surprised by the factories and the quality of the fabrics, which are unexcelled. He predicted great success for the exposition as a means of stimulating increased consumer demand.

The lantern slides shown by Mr. Greenley suggest a modern spirit of design, Russian or Balkan in inspiration. The coloring is vivid, with an extensive use of metallic fabrics, designed to produce an effect of great splendor and magnificence.

"I have tried to achieve a certain vitality, which can no longer be attained through Renaissance designs," said Mr. Greenley. "This exposition has given me an opportunity to develop a new theory of decoration as applied to convention halls. I do not believe in the use of booths, in the accepted sense, for a display of this kind. The method of display, it seems to me, should suggest not only the beauty and spirit of the product, but the dimensions of the industry.

"Therefore, the exhibitions must not be boxed in. There will be a standardized entrance to each, but the spaces must be kept open, so that the visitor passing through the aisles will get a sense of the accumulated opulence of the whole offering. Each exhibitor will contribute his share to the dramatic majesty of a unified pageant of silk."

James A. Goldsmith, President of the Silk Association of America, in his remarks said that the exposition would stabilize and benefit business. "We have gone about the work in a deliberate manner," he said, "allowing a lapse of two years since the last exposition. Mr. Greenley scoured the world for new inspiration before building his beautiful scheme for the decoration of the hall. Historical material from Mexico, South America, India and Southern Europe has been assembled with painstaking care, and a distinguished representation of the agricultural products of the Orient is for us. We as manufacturers have felt the stimulus of knowing that we are about to place our product side by side with the best works of our competitors, and the result will be the most magnificent offering of American silks ever displayed."

More than eighty-five of the leading firms in the silk industry had representatives at the luncheon.

CLOTHING IN EUROPE.

Competition From That Source Not a Thing to Fear Here.

Anselm Frankel, president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, after making a survey of conditions in the clothing industry abroad, arrived yesterday on the Homeric. He spent considerable time in France, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, Belgium, Holland and England.

"Conditions are not good in any of the countries through which I passed," said Mr. Frankel. "In France there were quite a few American buyers for the big stores, but they were not buying very heavily. American clothiers need have no fear of European competition. It is true that in London there were some buyers for the larger American firms purchasing overcoats and golf suits but, in my opinion, London-made clothing is far behind that of American manufacture.

"The disposition of British clothing manufacturers is to cling to precedent. They do not get the style into the tailoring of men's suits that is the feature of this country's production. There seems to be a desire to make the retailer buy certain lines, while in this country the stores pick their models. Moreover, I do not believe that British stores can compare with ours in equipment, and the window dressing is not such that a man can pick out what he wants. I found prices in the London stores are sending parcel post shipments to Germany to have them tailored.

"I went into the factory of a cloth manufacturer in Munich, but it was practically empty. A single bolt of fabric costs 60,000 marks. I am really very sorry for the German storekeepers. They have really no hopeful outlook until a settlement is made in the question of reparations. If they sell the goods they have in stock, they cannot readily replace them, as the factories are short of material and cannot purchase supplies with the depreciated currency."

CHARGES STREET CAR PLOT.

Special to The New York Times.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—Mayor Couzens in a statement issued today charged that several street railway companies have employed a private detective agency to spread propaganda and discontent among the employes of the Detroit Street Railway, who are members of the Amalgamated Association of Electric Railways of America. The employes are pressing for a wage agreement which the Mayor emphatically declares will not be entered into by the Department of Street Railways.

Under the terms of the city charter the city cannot recognise a union among the employes of any city department. When the city took over the Detroit United Railway Lines in May an agreement was made that time in existence between the men and the company. The city continued to pay the wage scale specified in that agreement.

"I am advised that there are at least fourteen men in the employ of this agency at present, endeavoring to sow these seeds of discontent," says the statement. "The activities of some of the men who are known to us indicate that there is considerable foundation for this report. We are being urgently requested to enter into a contract with the Street Railway Men's Union, which we cannot do under the law, and in view of the fact that we are servants of all the people, we would not enter into a contract if we could."

Glove Silk Underwear.

Advance orders for glove silk underwear are coming in better, according to leading factors, and the belief is expressed that despite the slow start a good season will be had. Business for delivery up to Nov. 1 is now being booked. Retailers' stocks are generally described as low, and because of improved demand it is felt that manufacturers' reserves, which are not overlarge, will be speedily cut down. Buying of the staple colors continues to be the most prominent feature of the demand. There has been some increase in the call for colors such as orchid, Nile and maize, however, the Coast being said to be most interested in these at present.

Silk in Storage Here.

Figures compiled by the Statistical Bureau of the Silk Association of America show that on Sept. 1 there were 32,515 bales of raw silk in the principal local warehouses. This was made up of 188 bales of Italian, 27,023 of Japanese and 5,298 of all others. It compares with 27,474 bales on Aug. 1. Imports during August were 39,813 bales, comprising 100 bales of Italian, 31,505 of Japanese and 8,208 of all others. There were delivered to American mills during last month 34,772 bales. Of this total Italian made up 139 bales, Japanese 27,359 and all others 7,294. This represents an increase of almost 10,000 bales over July, as deliveries during that month were 24,906 bales.

Gray Goods Trading Small.

Although the upturn in cotton strengthened the tone of the local gray goods market yesterday and caused some increase in inquiries, not a great deal of actual trading was done. In the printcloths, spots sales of 39-inch 68-72s and 38½-inch 64-60s were made in a limited way at 3¾ and 3⅞ cents, respectively, while second hands sold 38½-inch 60-48s at 7¾ cents for similar shipment. In the narrow printcloths business was done in 27-inch 64-60s at 6½ cents. Sheetings were very quiet from all accounts. In the drills some trading took place in 37-inch 3.95s at 10¼ cents. Holders of sateens apparently would consider nothing less than 14¼ cents for 39-inch 4.20s, with other constructions based on that figure.

Fix Mexican Consular Dues.

Consular dues for the certification of invoices covering goods shipped to Mexico are to be figured on the basis of 3 per cent. of their current market value in the case of merchandise quoted or sold at places where Mexican consulates are established, according to a reply to an inquiry sent to the point made by the American Manufacturers Export Association. In case the goods are quoted where no Mexican consulates are established the dues should be figured on the basis of 3 per cent. of their value at their place of origin, plus 5% of freight and other costs incurred by their being transported to a point where the invoice can be certified. The association's inquiry was made of the General Administration of Customs of Mexico and the ruling was made by the Mexican Government.

Jewelry Demand Rather Narrow.

Although the demand for the better grades of jewelry is improving steadily as the Fall season advances, assertions are made in the local trade similar to those in others—that the business taken is not so good as it might be because the demand is restricted in the number of articles it affects. All sections of the country are represented in the better buying that is reported, but the orders are the most part still for only four classes of goods—rings, bracelets, sautoirs and earrings. In both rings and bracelets emerald and diamond combinations in platinum settings are favored, and there is also good business being done in sapphire and diamond combinations used with the same metal. In the earrings the gem trend is toward diamonds and semi-precious colored stones.

Banded Hats May Come Back.

The return to vogue of the Nemesis of the millinery trimming business, the banded hat, is apparently presaged by the increased interest being shown in velours by buyers. This does not mean, however, that colorful hats will disappear, for nacre or changeable velvets continue very active for making shapes. Metallic cloth (silver) in combination with untaterials of the usual colors also gives the season an air of brilliancy. Tricornes and pokes are the shapes of the moment, with the most favored crowns high, soft or sectional. The so-called strip styles are now being worked out on stiffer brims than earlier in the season. About the only new thing in the trimmings is the challenge that peacock is getting from Spanish coque for leadership in feather decorations. Brown shades, known as maple sugar and toast, are coming strongly in the colors.

Sharp Advance in Platinum.

Due to the increasing call for it and the scarcity of the metal in this market, prices of platinum have been advanced $10 an ounce in the last ten days. Yesterday's quotations were $118 an ounce for soft platinum, $125 an ounce for medium and $135 an ounce for hard. The medium and hard metals contain 5 and 10 per cent. of iridium, respectively, for hardening purposes. Iridium was quoted yesterday at from $250 to $300 an ounce. The present prices asked for soft, medium and hard platinum show respective advances of $38, $40 and $45 an ounce over the quotations for the same grades on Jan. 1 last. The incoming supply of platinum is very limited that further advances would not come as a surprise. Quite a good deal of platinum is being used to manufacture contact points for high-tension magnetos for automobiles, more especially trucks, and this is apparently one of the reasons for its present scarcity.

Now a Paper Umbrella.

An umbrella made of waterproof paper is about to be placed on the market. It is designed principally as a "one-trip" umbrella, but the makers claim that it will withstand repeated use. It is intended to sell at 25 cents retail. It is made of two cones of paper dyed black and waterproofed. A large cone forms the top of the umbrella and a smaller one takes the place of ribs in opening and closing. The two cones are mounted on a stick, the whole not weighing more than 12 ounces. The waterproofing is done by a secret process which allows no pores through which the rain may pass. It is claimed that, facing the wind, the umbrella can face a 30-mile wind, while, with the wind under it, a pressure of twenty miles an hour will be required to turn it inside out. Even then, it is said, it may be turned back. The article will also be produced in bright colors for beach use.

Raw Silk Situation.

A fair amount of activity continues in the local raw silk market at hardening prices. Though a certain amount of hesitancy is shown, according to H. L. Gwalter & Co., Inc., there is no doubt that confidence is generally gaining ground. The Yokohama market opened the week strong and at higher prices. There was an accumulation of orders from American buyers who hoped to operate to advantage over the holidays, and early transactions amounted to 2,500 bales, raising Double Extra A white to 2,050 yen, yellow to 2,050 yen and Kansai No. 1 to 1,900 yen. The Canton market is firm and prices are tending upward. Cable advices report considerable business done for American account, particularly in 20 to 22 size. Shanghai continues strong, with limited transactions. At Milan there is a firm tone evident, with Grand Extra Italian quoted at 420 lire and Extra Classical at 410 lire.

RETAIL CLOTHIERS' SHOW.

Many Are Coming Here to Attend It and the Convention.

Delegates to the convention, style show and merchandise exposition to be held by the National Association of Retail Clothiers in Madison Square Garden, beginning next Monday and continuing until Sept. 15th, are beginning to come into the city. From the response received, it is believed that more than 3,000 retailers will be here for the occasion.

Anselm Frankel of Des Moines, who is president of the association under whose auspices the gathering will be held, returned yesterday from Europe. He expressed complete confidence that the convention would be one of the most successful ever held, both from the standpoint of the retailer establishing new contracts and the promotion of the local apparel market, which now leads all others in this country.

Alexander Leftwich, general stage director for Daniel Frohman, who will produce the Style Show, is holding three rehearsals daily. About 158 models will be displayed at the show, which, while depicting the correct attire for men and boys on all occasions, will also portray the evolution of styles, showing the dress of both men and women at different periods of history.

Uses of Decorative Baskets.

Interest in Chinese decorative baskets, which had a considerable run a year ago, is again reviving and good orders for the holiday trade are being taken. The baskets are being widely used for sewing purposes, but some importers have placed additional artistic touches which make them adaptable for a wide variety of uses. One display of the baskets showed them to be lined with silk in the more expensive ones and sateen in the cheaper. The contrasting effect of the fabric with the brown of the baskets is very pleasing. One large manufacturer of toilet articles has utilized the baskets as a container for a complete assortment of women's toilet requisites. This combination is said to have been very effective.

NEW UPTOWN HOTEL SOLD FOR $3,500,000

MRS. LATZ TO TAKE CHARGE

Widow Realizes Her Husband's Ambition to Add Hostelry Here to Other Interests.

The Alamac Hotel Co., which operates the Alamac Hotel at Atlantic City and the Alamac-in-the-Mountains at Lake Hopatcong, N. J., has paid approximately $3,500,000 for the new 19-story hotel under construction on the southeast corner of Broadway and Seventy-first Street, it was announced yesterday. The acquisition of the hotel is thought in real estate circles to be the first step by the Alamac interests toward establishing a chain of hotels in the large cities.

The hotel will have approximately 540 guest rooms, arranged in suites of one and two rooms and bath. It will be managed by Mrs. Allah Latz, President of the Alamac Hotel Company, and widow of the late Mack Latz, and her son, Harry Latz, Secretary of the corporation. The word "Alamac" was invented by combining the given names of Mrs. Latz and her husband.

Negotiations for the sale of the hotel by the George Dosé Engineering Company, Inc., lasted about a month. Slawson & Hobbs acted as brokers. Theodore W. Schimpf of Atlantic City represented the Alamac interests as attorney and Albert Edward Mayes of this city represented the seller in a similar capacity.

Because of their success at Atlantic City and at Lake Hopatcong, it was the ambition of Mr. and Mrs. Latz to establish a hotel on Broadway, where their guests would find the same personal service as in their out-of-town hostelries. Mr. Latz died before his ambition could be realized, and Mrs. Latz decided to carry out the project.

The hotel, it was announced, would be the last word in hotel construction and would have many novel features. The rooms will be large. There will be ample closet space and large bathrooms.

The nineteen-story building, designed by Maynicke & Franke, architects, will have a facade of face brick trimmed with limestone on a granite base. The exterior design will be made to harmonize with the modern surrounding buildings and it will be of the latest type of fireproof construction.

The Broadway front on the ground floor will be devoted entirely to stores. There will be ample facilities for a large lobby, adequate lounging rooms, restaurants and kitchen on the ground floor and basement. A roof garden will also be provided. It will be ready for occupancy about July 1, 1923.

The land was bought by the builders from the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, which owned it for nearly forty years. The plot is 112 feet on Broadway by 172 feet on Seventy-first Street with a gear line on the east of 100 feet and on the south of 121 feet.

COUNTY OFFICIAL ARRESTED

Charge of Issuing Worthless Checks Made by Jersey Barber.

Robert Ambry of 65 Clifton Avenue, Jersey City, clerk of the Hudson County Board of Freeholders, and well known in Hudson County politics as an independent Democrat, was arrested at his home early yesterday by Detectives Davis and Wilson on charges of issuing worthless checks. William P. Roach of 296 Armstrong Avenue, Jersey City, also was arrested on similar charges.

The complainant was Bernard Vena, a barber, of 533 Newark Avenue, Jersey City, who said Roach gave him checks for $40 and $50, issued by Ambry, which the First National Bank of Jersey City returned to him marked "no funds." Both men waived examination before Judge Markley in the First Criminal Court, Jersey City, and were released in $1,000 bail each to await the action of the Grand Jury.

PREYED UPON IMMIGRANTS.

Man Who Posed as Officer and Extorted Money Sent to Prison.

Dennis P. Sheehan, formerly a guard at Ellis Island, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon in the United States District Court before Judge Rufus W. Foster to an indictment charging him with impersonating a Federal officer and extorting money from immigrants. Judge Foster sentenced him to one year and one day in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

Sheehan was accused of posing as an officer of the Government who had to be paid before admission to this country could be obtained by the immigrants.

Builders Buy 100-Foot Apartment Site on West Fifty-Fifth Street.

Manfort Realty Company Resells Two Apartment House Properties on Washington Heights.

A site for a high-class nine-story apartment house, Julius Tishman & Sons, Inc., builders and operators, have purchased from the Sons of the Revolution the premises 146 and 148 West Fifty-fifth Street and from the Wattland Company, Inc., the premises 150 and 152 West Fifty-fifth Street, forming a plot 100 by 100 feet.

The structure will contain fifty-four apartments of three and four rooms and bath to be ready for occupancy about June 1, 1923.

Plans are now being prepared by Schwartz & Gross, architects, and it is estimated that the total cost involved in the improvements will be $1,000,000.

Julius Tishman & Sons, Inc., have recently completed a similar nine-story apartment house on the same street at 119 West Fifty-fifth Street, which they report is now almost completely rented.

They are also completing a sixteen-story office and showroom building, on a plot 75 by 100, at 142 to 148 West Thirty-sixth Street, which will be ready for occupancy on Nov. 1, 1922.

The demolition of the old buildings has been completed on the southwest corner of Park Avenue and Eighty-seventh Street, a plot 100 by 135, upon which Julius Tishman & Sons will immediately commence the erection of a fourteen-story apartment house to contain fifty-six apartments of six, seven and eight rooms and will have the building ready for occupancy on June 1, 1923.

Work has also been started on the erection of a fifteen-story apartment house on the northeast corner of Park Avenue and Eighty-sixth Street, containing forty-five apartments of four, six and seven rooms, which will also be ready for occupancy about June 1, 1923.

Upon the completion of their operations in June, 1923, the new buildings will provide accommodations for 155 families.

Two Heights Resales.

The Manport Realty Company, of which I. Portman is President, has resold to the Block Realty Company the modern five-story walk-up apartment house at 656 West 178th Street, on a plot 50 by 100, adjoining the southwest corner of Wadsworth Avenue. It is arranged for five families on a floor, and returns an annual rental of about $15,000. The property was held at $85,000, and was sold through Mark Mintz as broker.

The same company also resold the six-story elevator apartment house at 515 West 187th Street, on a plot 87.8 by 94.9, to a client of Morrison & Schiff, attorneys. It was held at $160,000 and rents for about $27,000 annually.

Three Houses Reported Sold.

The two five-story dwellings at 14 and 16 East Seventieth Street, owned by James H. Benedict, have been sold, according to a report in circulation yesterday. The houses are valued at $200,000, each occupying a site 17.6 by 100.5, located between Fifth and Madison Avenues. They lie just to the east of the site of the proposed Marshall Field home and are diagonally opposite the Frick mansion on Fifth Avenue, Seventieth and Seventy-first Streets.

According to another rumor, the four-story building with stores at 118 to 122 Sixth Avenue has been sold by the Robert J. Dillon estate. The property measures 51.10 by 93, and adjoins the building at the northeast corner of Sixth Avenue and Ninth Street, in which there is a station of the Hudson Tubes line.

Church Buys Building Site.

The Rugby Congregational Church, Rev. Andrew Wood, pastor, has purchased three lots at the corner of Snyder Avenue and East Forty-ninth Street, Brooklyn, and will build a new edifice. The congregation is now holding services in a temporary location on East Forty-ninth Street, near Church Avenue.

BANKRUPTCY SALES.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In the matter of the petition of HENRY H. KAUFMAN, Receiver in Bankruptcy of the above-named alleged bankrupts, verified the 21st day of August, 1922, let the creditors and all other persons interested in the administration of this estate appear cause before me at a stated term of this Court, to be held in the Federal Post Office Building, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, in Room 1593, on the 20th day of September, 1922, at 10 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, why an order should not be made herein authorizing Henry H. Kaufman, Receiver herein, in his discretion to sell or cause to be sold all of the assets, property and effects, including stocks, bonds and securities, which have come into his possession as Receiver herein, and to sell or cause the same to be sold at such time or times and place or places, and on such exchanges and in such manner as to the Receiver may seem advisable, either at public or private sale, and for such other and further relief as to the Court may seem just and proper.

The mailing on or before the 8th day of September, 1922, of a copy of this order and of the petition hereto annexed, addressed to each of the creditors at his or their last-known address, shall be deemed sufficient notice and service of this application and order to show cause.

Dated, New York, September 1st, 1922.

COMMERCIAL LEASES.

Candy Company to Pay $50,000 Yearly Rental for Claridge Store.

Morris M. Glaser leased through A. E. Karscher to the United Retail Candy Stores, Inc., a store in the Hotel Claridge for a term of ten years at an aggregate rental of $500,000. The annual rental will be from $40,000 to $50,000 approximately.

Mr. Glaser has already rented all the stores except the corner store at Forty-fourth Street and Broadway.

The Hoster Realty Company leased the building at 398 to 402 Eleventh Avenue, on the northeast corner of Thirty-fourth Street, containing 50,000 square feet, to the Alpha Electric Company for warehouse purposes for a long term of years at an aggregate rental of approximately $300,000. Adams & Co. were the brokers.

The Fenimore C. Goode Company rented for the 154 West Fourteenth Street Company to Simon Brunet, manufacturing jeweler, the tenth floor, containing approximately 10,000 square feet of floor space, in the building at the southeast corner of Seventh Avenue and Fourteenth Street. The lease is for a term of ten years, and the space was held at $10,000 per annum.

Leon S. Altmayer leased the east store in the building at 236 East Eighty-sixth Street to Mrs. A. Drescher for a term of five years at a total rental aggregating $13,000.

E. A. Turner leased to Emil Fefferorn the store at 629 Lexington Avenue for Mrs. Gillespie for a number of years, for interior decorations and antiques. The owner was represented by J. A. Fischer & Co.

C. Bertram Hubbard, Inc., has leased for a term of years the store at 795 Westchester Avenue for the Broomis Realty Corporation to Brisel Hat and Cap Company, who are opening a chain of stores.

Charles F. Noyes Company subleased for J. H. Michaels Company the entire building at 205 Front Street to the New England Fish Company.

Thoens & Flaunlacher, Inc., have leased for Louis Carreau the store and basement at 44 West Thirty-seventh Street for a term of years to Herman Meyers, millinery supplies. A. A. Hegeman represented the owner. The same brokers sublet for the Colson Company to Rosenfeld Brothers, upholstery fabrics, the store and basement at 25 East Twentieth Street.

Tenement House Deals.

The five-story tenement, 27 by 100, at 1,313 Third Avenue was sold by Joseph L. Buttenweiser to Mrs. Johanna Niesing.

Bernard A. Ottenberg sold through Joseph Milner Company 13 and 15 West 112th Street, two five-story double flats, 25 by 100 each, to Max Drdwurm.

William S. Baker sold for Mandelbaum & Lowine to A. Ratner 950 Columbus Avenue, a five-story tenement with stores, held at $35,000.

Physician Sells Residence.

William B. May & Co. sold for Dr. Harry L. Purdy his residence at 966 Lexington Avenue, between Seventieth and Seventy-first Streets, on a lot 16.8 by 80. Alexander Henschel represented the seller. The house was held at $37,000 and will be occupied by the buyer after extensive alterations have been made.

Bronx Hebrew School Sells.

The Bronx Tremont Hebrew School has sold to Mordecai Chodrow its property at 484 East 173d Street, a three-story building on plot 54.6 by 100, between Washington and Bathgate Avenues.

Sale in East Fiftieth Street.

William A. White & Sons have sold for the Wheeling Realty Company, Inc., to the Kops Realty Company the property at 117-119 East Fifteenth Street, two buildings on a plot 45 by 100.

Brooklyn Loan Placed.

The Warranty Brokerage Corporation procured for the Benson Theatre Corporation, Edward N. Rugoff, President, a first mortgage of $65,000 for five years, covering the Benson Theatre and store building, on a plot 70 by 200, at Eighty-fifth and Eighty-sixth Streets and Twentieth Avenue, Brooklyn, directly adjoining the West End Bank. The building was recently completed by Fleischmann Brothers Company from plans by George Keister and Lihman, Architects. This loan replaces building loan in same amount made by the Fabian Bond and Mortgage Corporation.

The J. L. Ryan Corporation procured from a private client for the A. D. R. Construction Company, Inc., D. Apstein, President, twelve temporary construction loans of $10,000 each at 6 per cent. for 6 months on twelve two-family houses now being erected on the entire north side of Seventy-eighth Street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second Avenues, Brooklyn. Each building is on a lot 20.4x100.

Dairymen's League Buys Plant.

An interesting deal has been consummated between the Levy Dairy Company and the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., whereby the latter organization purchased from the Levy Dairy Company its pasteurization plant at Nineteenth Street and Avenue B, and the adjacent buildings, as well as its twenty-two plants and milk shipping stations located in various counties in the State of New York. The deal involved over a million dollars. Besides the real estate involved were all of the personal property, including the equipment of every nature, kind and description employed in the business of the Levy Dairy Company, Levy Dairy Realty Holding Company, Inc., and Truxton Dairy Company, Inc. Virginius Victor Zipris, attorney, represented the Levy Dairy Company.

$1,400,000 Brooklyn Lease.

At a rental aggregating approximately $1,400,000, a ninety-nine-year lease of the southeast corner of Court and Schermerhorn Streets, Brooklyn, has been obtained by the Meister Builders, Inc., and the Chanin Construction Company for reimprovement with a six-story office building, the cost of which is estimated at $400,000.

The property is now occupied by five two and three story buildings, covering a plot 87 by 100. The proposed building will be from plans by Shampain & Shampain, architects, and will contain a restaurant in the basement.

Woman Sells Westerleigh House.

Mrs. Barnard Brady sold her Summer house on Deems Memorial Church on Jewett Avenue, Westerleigh. This is one of the finest residential properties in Richmond Borough and consists of a large dwelling with grounds. This property was the former home of J. W. Harris, a banker of Manhattan. W. S. E. Hall was the broker in the transaction.

School Leases House on Drive.

Charles A. Du Bois leased for Mrs. Alice De L. Doll to Mrs. Grace T. Lapham the three-story dwelling at 825 Riverside Drive, to be used as a private school.

WHEN a new apartment building is added to the Park Avenue Colony, it necessarily must represent the last word in apartment house construction.

Dwight P. Robinson & Company, in constructing No. 485 Park Avenue, has produced a building designed especially to appeal to "Park Avenue" tenants.

No. 485 Park Avenue

North-east Corner 58th Street

100% Co-operative—Every Occupant an Owner

7 to 15 Rooms — 3 to 5 Baths — $12,800 to $44,800

Extra Servants' Rooms, $800 Each

The discriminating public has been quick to appreciate the desirability of this building for the purposes of a permanent "town" home, at a cost considerably below current rentals and with genuine pleasure we are privileged to announce that the capital stock in this new, 100% co-operatively owned, 14-story apartment house is now about 70% sold.

70% of the Apartments are Sold

The remaining 30% of the capital stock will be available at prevailing prices until SEPTEMBER 15, when the building will be completed at which time THE PRICES of the few remaining apartments WILL BE ADVANCED.

For Apartment Seekers

Arranged according to location, the advertisements of apartments to rent in The New York Times constitute a complete directory for home seekers. The neighborhood desired can be readily selected and the kind of apartment chosen that is best suited to one's needs. The inspection of all may be made with the least possible investment of time and effort.

The Times publishes more announcements of high class apartments offered for rental than any other New York newspaper. The carefully arranged lists next Sunday will include not only all five boroughs of New York, but also the best offerings in the outlying districts.

MONEY-MAKING DAYS ARE COMING.

This country is going to leap ahead again. Prosperity is upon us. The nation's big men are planning big things. There'll be money aplenty—for those who make the right associations. Our top man last month—August, the height of the vacation season—earned in commissions $2,070. Our men work strictly on commission, but the low-est in our first ten made $450 last month. It isn't because our men are world-beaters; it's because our proposition is a world-beater and the men behind it are of national prominence. And because OUR SYSTEM COMPELS SUCCESS. We propose to qualify a few more men for our work immediately. Why shouldn't you be among our "first ten" for September? If personally, will tell you all about it and SHOW YOU HOW. Write me today. CREW HOME, TELL OF HOODOO VOYAGE

Purser of Ill-Fated Philadelphia Describes Near Mutinies and Fires Set by Polyglot Hands.

SHIP SEIZED BY CREDITORS

College Girl Passengers and Students Hired for Trip Mingle Socially Until Captain Orders Halt.

The officers and crew of the American and Naples liner Philadelphia got back to New York yesterday as passengers on the Anchor liner Cameronia. Their vessel, on the beach in Naples, is in the hands of the Italian authorities because of unpaid claims against her. The story of the trip was recited yesterday by Leon Spencer of Brooklyn, her assistant purser, and his narrative dealt with mutinous conduct, a fire on board and the vessel slowly sinking while discipline on board ceased to exist. The Philadelphia left New York on July 1 with 357 cabin passengers, a large number of them being college girls. The crew included fifty college men. The combination of crew and passengers made for social activity but not for efficiency.

The crew, Spencer said, was a mixture of nationalities, Germans, Italians, Poles, Greeks, Portuguese, Maltese, Peruvians, Chileans, Filipinos, Panamans among others. Mixed in with these were men of ultra radical opinions, and the forecastle, he said, was flooded with red literature. "At night," continued the assistant purser, "the college boys would mingle with the passengers. They could be found in the library, reclining in deck chairs and even drinking at the bar. This sort of thing was stopped by Captain William McLeod, who instructed the master-at-arms to prevent the ship's company from associating with the passengers. In this way the voyage progressed until we reached Naples.

"On July 26 the agents insisted on putting the passengers for the return voiage on board, although steam was not up and the vessel had not been passed by the Immigration Commission. Repairs were necessary to the boilers. These were made by the creditors, who also supplied the ship with food, coal and other supplies. This done, they demanded their money and sought to libel the vessel immediately. The American Consul persuaded them to wait until he cabled the New York office of the company. This they agreed to do.

Crew Seeks Steward's Life.

"On Aug. 20 the Consul notified the captain that on the 22d the ship would be seized by the Italian courts for debt, and that the passengers and crew would have to leave, also that at the first opportunity the crew would be returned to New York as destitute American seamen. On the same evening some bags of linen were being carried down the gangway, presumably to be laundered, when the Second Officer stopped it and had every bag carried to the bridge. The Captain could not be found and the assistant was sent for.

The crew were sullen and angry at the knowledge that they would have to leave the ship and would propably get no wages. They seized upon this event as an outlet for their feelings. Up to this time there had been no more trouble on board than one usually gets where a big crew is carried, just a few drunken fights, nothing more. Now the men swarmed up on the promenade deck under the Captain's quarters and demanded the chief steward's blood."

The remarks of the captain to the second steward did not help matters, for he accused the latter of "keeping back stuff" from the crew. When the crew moved forward with evident intention of laying hands on the steward the skipper said: "Leave him to me." Then he placed the steward in irons. Later, when the men calmed down, he was released.

"On the evening of the next day," continued the assistant purser, "Charles Messinar, the plumber, a German, came up on deck and pointed a pistol at the captain. 'Now I've got you,' he shouted. The captain snapped out: 'Not yet,' and sprang into his room to get his revolver. The plumber did not wait. Throwing his revolver overboard he fled down the deck.

Set Ship Afire in Four Places.

"Immediately after this the Captain sent for all the officers to come up on the boat deck and protect him. The officers were alert for the remainder of the evening. About 11:15, when everybody was thinking of turning in, the cry of fire was raised. The mutinous element in the crew was suspected of having fired the vessel forward in four places. They had started a fire in each of the three firemen's forecastles and in the forward third-class section. Luckily the fires were not able to get much headway before discovered, and after three hours hard work they were put out.

"Fighting four fires at once on board a ship is no small task, especially when the fires are way below decks and some of the Bolsheviki were throwing iron pipes on the men working the hose. At the request of the Captain an armed guard from the Italian battleship Duilio came on board and they established order. The remainder of the night passed peacefully.

"August 22, the last day the ship remained under Old Glory, broke fair and in the blazing sun the firemen and coal passers were taken off under guard. The food went with the bad. They were locked up pending investigation. Later the other members of the crew went off the Philadelphia and the next day the Captain left the ship and went on board the Cameronia."

Captain McLeod returned on the Cameronia as a cabin passenger. He was accompanied by his wife and three children who were with him on the disastrous voyage. When the Captain was told what had been said he made light of the matter and said that the crew had behaved. He said the creditors only sought to have their bills paid and the lack of $40,000 needed was the cause of the holding of the vessel by the Italian authorities.

The crew were detained by the immigration authorities to straighten out questions of citizenship.

PUTS ALIMONY BEFORE AUTO

Court Skeptical of Contractor's Inability to Pay Counsel Fees.

"A man must support his family before he supports an automobile. When he runs an automobile he cannot plead inability to pay his wife's counsel fees when he sues her for divorce."

Justice Harry E. Lewis handed down this opinion yesterday in reserving decision in the suit of Joseph B. Bleier, a Manhattan contractor, for divorce from Mrs. Ethel Bleier. This is Bleier's third attempt to obtain a divorce. His wife has obtained a separation.

Counsel for Bleier declared that the contractor was unable to keep up his wife's alimony and hadn't paid his income tax for two years.

Counsel for Mrs. Bleier exclaimed, "Why, your Honor, the plaintiff in this action drives an automobile."

"I have noticed that when husbands are asked to pay alimony they are always poverty stricken; yet some of these same husbands can run all over town at night in powerful automobiles," said Justice Lewis. "And he hasn't paid his income tax in two years? That doesn't get him anywhere with me. A lot of people are doing that."

Mrs. Bleier alleged that Bleier has an income of $25,000 a year. The Bleiers have two children.

A Remarkable Sale of Dupont's French
TOOTH BRUSHES

The name "Dupont" on any Brush stands for quality and insures service. The Dupont factory in Beauvais, France, is world renowned. During the War, in common with other industries of France, production was disturbed, and it was almost impossible to obtain Brushes of this quality at any price.

144,000 of these Tooth Brushes have been placed at our disposal by E. Dupont & Cie. In the assortment will be found almost every conceivable shape of handle and cut of bristles. The individual styles if purchased separately in the usual way would retail at from 35c to 75c. Special at

Every Brush is hand-made, faultlessly finished. The pure bristles which may be had in varying degree of texture are so fixed as to make shedding practically impossible. If the bristles do come out, the manufacturers have authorized us to give you a new Brush without charge.

This is indeed a rare opportunity, and we urge our customers to supply every member of the family with a new brush, to provide a quantity for future needs, and for the use of guests. Buy them by the dozen.
